THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

"First the blade, then the ear, 🔭 then the full grain in the ear"

The Monitor's view

Monday, April 7, 190

Thieu's crisis

a tragic speciacle of fleeing refugees and panicked troops, a psychology of debacle and defeat seems to hold sway over unfolding events. Salgon's perception of the weakening American support for Vietnam has undoubtedly contributed to the growing demoraliza-tion. But the fact is that, faced with its ultimate test, the leadership in Saigon has been found grossly wanting in judgment,

Military analysts fault President Thieu on many counts. For overreacting to North Vietnamese troop movements and ordering massive withdrawals. For not organizing an orderly military retreat. In short, for not vigorously commanding his troops — troops which it is agreed were well equipped and able to fight if their commanders gave the signal and stayed with them.

On a more basic level still, Thieu's failure on a more basic level still, Thieu's failure all along to broaden political participation in the government and to units and galvanize the South Vietnamese people to resist this Communist assault may cost him his power and his country. Already there are signs of political

The question now is Hanoi's strategy. It to topple Thieu and bring about the installation of a new government willing to talk peace. This has been the strategy in Phnom Penh, where the departure of Cambodian leader Lon Nol paves the way for a negotiation with the Communist-led insurgents.

At the moment President Thieu appears to be virtually immobilized. He seems to be doing nothing to prepare the citizens of Saigon and the delta region for the battles ahead. Reports from the area say he remains closeted in his palace, bent only on preserving his own

There seems to be little chance that Thieu will rouse himself out of this frame of mind. But it can only be hoped that he sees the handwriting on the wall and will take those political and military steps necessary to stem the rampant panic and hysteria and inject a new spirit of determination.

Meanwhile, the need for a massive mobilization of humanitarian help for the hundreds of thousands of refugees is urgent. American ships are moving toward the central Vietnam coast and, provided they are not repulsed by North Vietnamese fire, will soon begin evacuating the refugees. In what may prove to be the final days and weeks of this hearts. could choose to open a conventional-style drive against Saigon in an effort simply to take over the capital. Or, it could ring the city first and launch a rocket-style offensive designed tion of Henry Kissinger are put to rest. The White House statement that he will stay on at least for the remeinder of President Ford's term gives a needed boost to the discouraged Secretary of State. It also ressures world leaders that "Henry" is the man in whom the President has confidence and with whom they can expect to go on dealing.

Redefining America's role

Dr. Kissinger seems to need a periodic pat on the back. He does not live well with failures - his own or the nation's. His professions of concern about America's "unreliability" are probably genuine. They are also exaggerated.
The "peace" in Indo-China is unraveling, with uncertain repercussions for all of Asia.
The Middle East balances on the edge of renewed conflict. Portugal is sliding left foward nonalignment, raising deep concerns in the NATO alliance. Cyprus remains a flashpoint at the other end of the Mediterranean. And such global problems as inflation, energy, resource scarcity and food defy easy

Meanwhile, American foreign policy in-stitutions are in a state of flux. Chastised and exposed, the CIA is under scrutiny, and Congress and the White House are battling over foreign policy priorities and lines of

This is not to draw a dark view of the world not to forget the accomplishments of U.S. diplomacy in recent years. There are decided strengths. But there seems to be confusion about where America's interests lie and what U.S. strategy must be in the decade ahead.

"Perhaps the United States must accept the reality that in 1975 American power and influence cannot achieve the kinds of things it did 20 years ago," comments one high U.S. official, suggesting that America has been trying to do too much.

Certainly Henry Kissinger himself is trying to do too much. His unwillingness to parcel out responsibility or to share power is not in the nation's best interests. But, since it is unlikely he will change his methods of operation, he can at least now, working together with Congress, help shape and enunciate a coherent statement of America's foreign policy scale.

The United States is not retreating from worldwide responsibilities. The growing demands of global interdependence militate against a neo-isolationism. So does the fact that the West remains in an adversary relationship with the Soviet Union, National interest dictates that America remain in-

Dr. Kissinger has more than the brilliant skills of a negotiator. He is a man of global vision and large concepts. Unfortunately these have often been lost in the heavy demands of day-to-day tactics. It would be to America's great advantage if the Secretary would give up worrying about tactical set-backs and behind-his-back criticisms and devote himself to restoring a sense of cohe-, rence and purpose to America's role in the cripally confirms how far the atmosphere comment has improved since continues or administration:

What H. R. Haldeman said on TV

The information was supplied by H. R. Haldeman, Mr. Nixon's closest White House alde, discussing former Treasury Segretary John Connally, defendant in the bribery triat now beginning. In the second session of his 60 Minutes TV interview, Mr. Haldeman said that Mr. Nixon had considered asking Mr. Contally to replace Vice-President Agnew well before the Agnew scandal broke.

What did the Nixon men like about Mr. Connelly? In addition to other qualifications, of them show they admired film as a fighter, Mr. Haldeman favorable light said. The comment was in keeping with Mr. come but in Haldeman's, representation of the White mands by Mr. House har as a combatant surrounded inhocence.

of them showing the Nixon presidency in a favorable light. Perhaps some of the latter will come out. in response to the promised demands by Mr. Connally's lawyer for White House tapes to demonstrate his client's rounded the collapse of the latest Kissinger mission has cleared somewhat, it can be seen that the cause of peace is far from lost in the Middle East. Whatever the twists and turns in diplomacy, whatever the failures and setbacks, the overriding imperatives for peace keep the search for solutions going.

Symbolic Suez

The danger of another Arab-Israeli war is always present. But it is offset by some nitigating factors:

• In a conciliatory and perhaps symbolic move, President Sadat has announced he will reopen the Suez Canal to international shipping in June. He also says he will renew the mandate of the United Nations force in Sinal for another three months. This is not the stance of someone who expects to go to war.

• The shape of Saudi Arabia's new government, nominated following the assassination of King Falsal, suggests a stable continuity of leadership and policy. Crown Prince Fahd, first deputy premier, is committed to close relations with the U.S.

. So far the Soviet Union's reaction to the office the modification of the control of the contr tracertainty. But Presument bears a branch — he has also promised to return the bodies of a number of largeligioidiers killed to the October war — should help reasure the nervous largelig. Prime Minister Rabit, more nervous largelig. Prime Minister Rabit, more

House, and this could make hathe comprovides easier.

The next for my for diplomacy remains to be worked out. There are some low authority of another Kissinger are shalls. The authorit for resumption of the General outside states attendly growing, despite fears that states parley would disintegrate into a war of provide Some close observers of the scene have

Now that the air of pessimism that sur-come around to the view that Geneva is be ounded the collapse of the latest Kissinger way to go. Stanley Hoffmann of Harvard in instance, urges a "swooping Israeli initialis" aimed at a final peace settlement led carefully reasoned article in Foreign Alleria he suggests Israel go on the offensive, speak, by spelling out now what it could the essential features of an agreement bringing as many outside powers as positions. into the negotiations.

By putting its cards on the table.

Professor Hoffmann, Israel can help show own future. Its present stance keeps to the stanc scademic community are encouraging worth heeding. They are one more indicate: longer an acceptable alternative to im peace. A way must be found to bring all otir country's 200th antiversary, I hold the following idea:

Voter's pledge

Let all Americans decide that from 195 they will honor their country by voltage overy election. It is a small thirty but they we do could benefit our country more.

Title is my idea for celebrating the small sary. I must say that I have voted in election that I was alighie for But many friends; to my great sarptise fall this say that I was surprise fall this say that I was surprise fall this say.

Given yelliage N.Y. Margarit M. day.

Lastroppe welcome. Crity a selection in the country of the c

WEEKLY INTERNATIONAL EDITION

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

The second of the house

Hanoi ponders the best way to take Saigon

By Geoffrey Godsell Overseas news editor of The Christian Science Monitor

The North Victnamese are debating whether — in the wake of their successes over the past month — they should try to take Saigon by military or political means.

This is the view of U.S. analysis of North Vietnam.

If the North Victnamese take the military route, they have these two Frontal assault on Saigon.

Encircling Saigon, particularly by pushing northward to the capital from the Mekong Delta, and strangling it as the Communist-led forces have strangled the Cambodian capital, Phnom Penh.

There is speculation that, before taking a final decision, the North Vietnamese may feel the need to test the metile of the South Vietnamese Army with some middle-range battle. Indeed, this test may already have been under way for the past few days at Xuan Loc, northeast of Salgon.

What the North Vietnamese need to establish is whether a full push is likely to make the South Vietnamese Army finally crack. The North Vietnamese have had successes since last month, but they know that these successes came rather as the result of a bungled strategic South Vietnamese withdrawal than from proven North Vietnamese superiority on the battlefield. Hence the need for a test.

If Xuan Loc is the test, the South Vietnamese have responded relatively well. But it remains to be seen whether the North Vietnamese will increase the intensity of their attack there.

Many in the U.S. intelligence community interpret North Vietnamese public statements and captured documents as pointing to the Communist leadership's being already committed to pressing militar-

Portugal's future: pale pink or deep red?

A year ago this month a group of young military officers overthrew Portugal's 40year-old civilian dictatorship and promised to restore democracy. Washington watched uneasily as the old oligarchs with whom it had worked comfortably disappeared from power.

Moscow encouraged the newcomers disconnected by the new military group and the newcomers disconnected by the new disconnected by the newcomers disconnected by the newcomers disconnected by the new creetly, from a distance. Now, a year later the combination of Washington's chill and Moscow's warmth seems to be producing both what Washington expected, and feared.

The new regime has settled down into something resembling what happened in Egypt when the old monarchy was over-approach to the solution of Portugal's manifold social and economic problems. Its econ-

Communist Party based, so far, on the unusual ability and willingness of the Communists to be helpful in practical ways. Small in number but highly organized and efficient, the Communists have specialized in helping maintain order, For example, they have effectively stopped strikes which would have made the economic condition of the country worse than small countries. The only difference they yet understand is that Moscow has been benign and remote whereas Washington has been chilly and critical. U.S. Ambassador Scott was removed in December, 1974, for being too sympathetic and replaced by Frank C. Carlucci who was picked because of his "toughness." He is said to be under criticism now by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger for the same ain committed by his predecessor — that of being too sympathetic toward the young colonels and too tolerant of their radicalism.

washington was beauty procurated with the final and the Nixon president, source at the Nixon

Israel worried and irked

The Christian Science Monitor "Thinking the unthinkable" used to mean to Israelis that there might some day be an unbridgeable gap between the United States But since the loudly orchestrated break down last month of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's latest, mediation effort, all It is against this agitated background that Israel's Foreign Minister, Yigal Allon, will be visiting the U.S. this week, conducting a controversial courtesy call on Dr. Kissinger in Washington, in addition to participating in some United Jewish Appeal Ond-rataing Opposition parties, as well as some circles within the ruling government coalition, have argued that Mr. Alion's trip is pointless at this time if not inopportune and potentially dengerous.

An embarrassing squabble between the State Department and the Israeli Toreign Ministry over the way in which the foreign minister's Washington visit came about has charged the atmosphere here even more. The right-wing opposition Likup Party demanded an extraordinary session of the Kneeset (Parliamppi) to debate the Allon mission.

*Please turn to Page 14

FEATURES

Arts			22
Books			23
Commentary			35
Editorial			36
Edúcation			20
Financial			24
Home Forum		32,	33
Home		-	21
Lecture	-	28,	29
Opinion			34
People			27
Science			26
Translations		30,	31
Travel		·	25
1

Egypt's 100-mile bypass around Africa will. reopen in June. John K. Cooley, the Monitor's staff correspondent in Beirut, talks to Mashhour Ahmed Mashhour, canal authority chairman.

See P. 18

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

Assistant deligner editors, Standary and Frankeys in the Published delig expect Saturday, Sandary and Frankeys in the Publish of Saturday, Sandary and Frankeys in the Publish deligner in the Saturday of Saturday and Frankeys in the Saturday of Saturday and Saturday of S any given accepting rates given on application. While rendersoling to accept party reliable atthertisements, The Christien Science Publishing Society will not be responsible to the public for acceptional and the right to decline by disconlinus any artistication. firmaniad 178 Class II An SCIENCE PUBLISHING SOCIETY Cris Norwin Street, Boston, Mass. U.S.A. 02115 Phone: (617) 262-2300

FOCUS

Peking keeps Americans patriotic

By Clayton Jones Staff writer of The Christian Science Monitor

Oh say can you see, by the dawn's early light, the rockets' red glare . . . imported from the People's Republic of China?

On the Fourth of July, 1976, the United States plans to explode "the largest display of fireworks in history" — using red, white, and blue rockets made in mainland China.

America has a serious missile gap in its arsenal of fireworks. So leaders of the nation's 200th birthday celebration are turning to the world's oldest pro on explosives, China, to supply the explosive jubilation honoring America's glorious founding.

An estimated $3 million of fireworks—including firecrackers — were imported to the United States from China in 1974, says Patrick Moriarty, president of Pyrotronics, Inc., the nation's largest fireworks supplier.

And other nations, such as Britain, Canada, Japan, and Taiwan are also selling fireworks

In all areas of pyrotechnics — from the pinwheel to the akyrocket, from the two-inch salute to the Great Mikado Bomb — the U.S.

And the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission may soon ban even the one- and two-inch firecrackers still legal in 22 states.

Only the paltry sparkler (which now threat- time forward and forever more." ens to replace the candle on the birthday George Washington loved fireworks, too,

By a staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

A new oil price war could erupt next winter

as a result of the breakdown of the conference

here between oil producers and oil consumers.

The confrontation will not be immediate.

The oil-consuming nations are in a strong position today because, peradoxically, their economies are weak. The winter was warm;

recessions bit deep into the United States,

West Europe, and Japan; and oil storage tanks everywhere are still brimming over.

a different story. As their economies get going again, the industrial oil-consuming nations are going to require more fuel — not in the wasteful quantities of the days before the Arab-Israeli War of October, 1973, and the quadrupling of prices that followed it — but

Next year, the winter could be colder.

Unless oil producers and consumers work out a mutually beneficial accommodation before were 10 participents: the United States, the European Community (sitting as a single delegation), and Japan representing the industrial consumers; Algeria, Iran, Saidi Arabia, and Venezueia, representing the oli-producing nations; and Brazil, India, and Zaire representing the developing nations that

The purpose was to draft the agenda for a full-scale conference to be held later in the year, but the participants could not agree

Most of the oil consumers wanted dialogue with the oil producers centering on oil but broadened slightly to include "energy and

For the producers and the other developing what they should be talking about.

then, there could be another price war, with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

still in substantial amounts.

do not produce oil.

But next fall, some oil analysts say, could be fire hardly suits the original incendiary spirit proposed for the capital named after him.

under the leadership of Algeria.

executive of a minerals company.

of the Founding Fathers,

For it was John Adams who suggested a lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and lights extending 800 feet into the air, loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and loud and flery Independence Day in a letter to painting a patriotic tableau of red, white and loud and fle was for tactical purposes or from his own deep after 25 years spent negotiating with government ministries throughout the world as the

Mr. Robinson's more outspaken deputy,

Thomas Enders, indiscreetly told a British television audience just before the Paris conference began that the U.S. goal was to

"hasten OPEC's demise." Algerians reciprocated by intimating they wanted to break up the International Energy Agency, established to coordinate the major oil consumers' policies - largely on the initiative of U.S.

U.S. fireworks importers who plan this "breathtaking" bicentennial hoopla say China makes a superior type of booming serial bomb — if altered to meet U.S. safety standards.

U.S.-made rockets, such as the Repeating Old Glory Shell and the Little America Shell now share company with such Oriental beauties as the Prismatic Dragon and the Cherry Blossom Shell. These are all the products of ancient skills and very skilled hands, for nobody has found a way to make fireworks by machine. (Most machines that have tried have been found in pieces on the floor after a few fumbling tries.)

The essential operation — the packing of gunpowder into the piece — must still be done

Adding blue to the exotically legal varieties of fireworks for the nation's birthday is difficult for U.S. manufacturers. Not only does this color require using dangerous chemicals, but blue has a particularly difficult time standing out against red and white blasts, importers say.

Cheap labor in China, Taiwan, and Japan also puts the U.S. at disadvantage in the world fireworks market. An estimated 1.1 billion to 4 billion firecrackers are imported into the U.S.

Last May, the Consumer Product Saftey Commission tired to ban all remaining types "It ought to be solemnized with pomp and of firecrackers, but put off the ban pending a But until then, imports of firecrackers into parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, study by an administrative law judge. On this country will continue to, well . . . to bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one April 8, 1975, the judge proposed that the end of this continent to the other, from this commission not ban small firecrackers from interstate commerce, saving:

"To prohibit all fireworks nationally would cake) has taken a great leap forward. But its and might have enjoyed a bicentennial event frustrate patriotic, religious, and cultural expression by a substantial percentage of

Oil: buyers and sellers find no meeting ground development were more important topics.

camp. Although the nine European Commu-The consumers were surprised at the cohesiveness of the seven developing countries hity nations had only one collective seat at the conference, individually they oscillated between hardlining West Germans, Britons, and The chief of the U.S. delegation, Under-secretary of State Charles Robinson, took a Danes and the more conciliatory French, who were anxious to have the conference succeed. flexible and conciliatory attitude at the outset, but observers could not fathom whether this

President Giscard d'Estaing irritated his EC partners when, on the fifth day of the conference, he told the press in Algiers, which convictions. Mr. Robinson joined the State Department in January as its No. 3 officials he was visiting, that he and Algerian President Boumedienne had reached agreement the morning on the agenda for the conference.

The resulting deadlock was not unforespet said an American spokesman. "Our attitude: was well-known before we came," said a Said.

Whether a further attempt to initiate a dialogue will be made before the year is out remains to be seen. But, as one delegate commented, the failure of this conference does not in any way diminish the urgent need of a common search for solutions to the problems of an interdependent world.

countries (OPEC) The abortive Participants: the United States of the State of the Britain's North Sea oil bonanza is coming in much more slowly than expected.

Latest forecasts by the Department o Energy suggest that only 1 million to 3 million year, compared with last year's estimate of 5 to range from 100 to 130 million tors: million tons and an estimate two years ago of to tap the oil already discovered beneath the discovered in early March unruly waters of one of the world's stormlest if all offshore areas under British jurisdictions.

opment is enormously costly. Whereas 12 new companies constiter excessive.

orders for platforms were expected last August, only 6 have materialized so far. The annual construction rate is likely to be 6 platforms instead of the 8 to 9 expected recently as 9 months ago.

The Department of Emergy, in a brown book published April 14, still expects Britain to be self-sufficient in oil by 1980, when it expects tons of North Sea oil will flow to Britain this demand to be 100 million tons and production

It also is optimistic about reserves its estimate of reserves has been raised percent and stands at 1 billion tons proven 25 million tons.

The government blames bad weather and percent and stands at 1 hillion tons proven and delays in construction of the platforms needed a possibility of 1.8 billion tons for all fields.

of the two, construction delays seem to be estimates that reserves could be as high as the more serious. Financing North Sea devel-billion to 4.5 billion to 5.5 billion to

Healey budget draws fire from left wing and unions

By Takashi Oka Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

The harsh budget presented this week to a somber House of Commons by Denis Healey, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, has brought bitter complaints from trade-union leaders and from the left wing of Mr. Healey's own Labour Party.

But more generally, there seems to be a resigned acceptance of 2 percent higher income taxes and 25 percent taxes on a whole range of consumer products in order to beat inflation now spiraling past the 20 percent mark — the highest rate for any major industrialized country except Italy.

Britain, the Chancellor sternly said, must stop its "rake's progress" toward more and more borrowing to keep up its standard of living. Already, he said, 5 pence out of every pound Britain spends is borrowed from for-

The major purpose of the budget, Mr. Healey made clear, was to curb inflation by reducing consumption, first of all through higher taxes, then increasingly through cuts in public expenditures even on social benefits such as housing and food subsidies.

The Chancellor hopes to squeeze out £1.25 billion ($2.9 billion) in increased taxes of various kinds, although he has designed personal allowances in such a way as to avoid too heavy an impact on the poor. He wants to bring down the public sector borrowing requirement by £1 billion, from the pre-budget expectation of £10 billion to £9 billion this year. Next year he hopes to bring it down by another £ 3 billion.

Mr. Healey is prepared to accept a degree of unemployment during the rest of his fiscal year — he expects it to climb to a million (it is now just over 800,000). He calls urgently for restraint in pay claims. Wage settlements, he says, have been running 8 to 9 percent higher than the inflation rate, thus fueling an inflation that hurts everyone.

If Britons do tighten their belts, increase productivity, and step up exports, Mr. Healy promised, they would then be in a good position to take advantage of the upturn in the world economy that he feels certain will be coming toward the end of the year.

Len Murray, the generally moderate general secretary of the powerful Trades Unions Congress, called the budget "disappointing." He said workers had to defend their purchasing power, meaning that if taxes increased so would workers' pay claims. Other trade union eaders were more caustic, calling the budget 'disastrous'' and "capitalistic."

Campbell Adamson of the Confederation of British Industries called the budget "courageous," although he was disappointed by the lack of relief given to companies suffering from problems of profitability and cash flow.

In their different ways, both business and labor want the government to inject money into the economy - labor in order to combat unemployment, business so as to enable companies to make the kind of investment that would make their factories competitive when the world upturn materializes.

But Mr. Healey is not going to be easily

Denis Healey raises bettered dispatch box in traditional budget day scene

deflected from his overwhelming priority bringing inflation down to at least a 16 to 12 percent figure by the end of the year. He told televiewers after his budget speech April 15 that Britain's problem today is not masses of hungry unemployed wandering about the countryside. It was too much money in the shops. It was borrowing from foreigners to keep up living standards.

Mrs. Margaret Thatcher, leader of the Conservative Opposition, briskly characterized the budget as bringing "equal shares of misery to all." But the Conservatives share Labour's concern over the gloomy state of Britain's economy.

Europe

The question is whether voters as a whole including trade unionists, will accept the "better alternative to the stony road" which Mr. Healey has offered them, by moderating wage claims and raising productivity, thu improving the country's balance of payments and enabling Britons to have "the same standard of living with lower prices, lower

Arms for Libya raise storm

By Richard Burt Special to The Christian Science Monitor

An attempt by Libya to purchase several million dollars worth of British defense equipment has provoked a debate that is in many way similar to the controversy surrounding U.S. arms deals with the Arab world.

The Libyan proposal was made seven months ago, but only came to light last week when spokesmen for two large British defense contractors, Vickers and the British Aircraft Corporation, confirmed that Libya was seeking to buy six light submarines, 39 Jaguar strike aircraft, helicopters, and surface naval esseis. The Libyan request has neither been granted nor rejected, and according to officials at the Ministry of Defense, is "still under careful consideration." No official price tag has been placed on the proposed order, but it is

Wilson personally intervened to stop the sale, and those opposed to the deal arguing that the weapons could be used against Britain.

At the heart of the controversy is the sensitive problem of weighing the possible benefits of the deal with the potential costs. The benefits are seen primarily in economic terms. A Vickers spokesman argued that the submarine deal alone 'would give continuity of employment in our diesel electronic submarine sector up to 1980-1981."

In addition to the domestic employment advantages, however, is the view that Britain; cannot afford to alienate wealthy trading partners in the Middle East and that if the order is blocked, it would only go to another.

Country.
This view has been reinforced by sugges tions that Libya has already approached.

The disadvantages of the Libyan deal involve military calculations, the concern being with extensive electronic gear, could upset the balance of power in the Middle East. (Closer to home. officials also are concerned over the intentions of Libya's controversial leader, Col. Muammar al-Qaddafi, and some suggest that it is not inconceivable that the sought-after weapons would be used against British citi-

Colonel Qaddafi is a self-proclaimed suppor ter of the Irish Republican Army (IRA) and is suspected of having furnished IRA terrorist units with money and equipment in recent Particular fears are attached to the proposed sale of submarines because of a report last year in the Egyptian newspaper Al Akhbar that Colonel Qaddafi in 1973 dispatched an Egyptian submarine to torpedo the British liner Queen Elizabeth 2 when she cruised to Israel from the United Staes.

understood to be worth over $2 billion. According to the report, Egyptian President Disclosing to the property of the submarile order to the submarine.

critics of the delay in following through on the arms order. Noting the loss of revenues that would result if the deal did not go through; several have blamed Prime Minister Wilson. In a statement issued by the Frime Min-ister's office late last week, Mr. Wilson denied intervening to stop the arms deal. But Lord Boothby, president of the Anglo-Israel Association, later released the text of a letter written to him from Mr. Wilson, which indicated that the Prime Minister had opposed the sale of submarines to Libya.

The letter has become the focus of an angry effort by pro-Arab members of Parliament to gain authorization for the Libyan deal. According to one member of Parliament, Labourite William Wilson, the deal may have country are losing out on the Arab market when we should be there taking the real trading opportunities," he said.

Beetle people take drubbing

Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Mighty Volkswagen - maker of the beetle, symbol of West Germany's postwar economic miracle - has bitten off more than it can Overexpanded and running at a loss for the first time in its history, Volkswagen AG has announced work cuts in Germany of 25,200 to be applied gradually through 1976. This is just under 20 percent of the giant firm's present work force of 136,529. It is the biggest layoff in postwar Germany.

In 1954 the firm employed only 25,293 people, about the number to be let go now, By the 1970s it was Germany's largest firm in terms of financial turnover, but last year, when it first suffered a loss, it dropped to seventh place. Production is down 60 percent from a year ago — the reason for the layoffs.

The long-expected announcement April 15

was privated announcement April 15

publicity in the Garman press There were of the eight plants in West Germany following . rumors that several of them would be closed

West Germany pow has 1.1 million unemployed, or 4.9 percent of the work force, a high and worrisome figure by standards and tradi-

Officials of the firm see the following as reasons for Volkswagen's doldrums:

to other currencies — especially the dollar — that export prices have shot up-abnormally

. The present recession, affecting all countries, is hurting automobile sales in general. that had to be quickly dropped for models have to acquire an already existing plant, with models that cut into traditional VW sales. each year makes enough sausage to stretch Volkswagen's plight in the United States is from Wolfsburg to Milan No cut in sausage by far the biggest and most hard-to-remedy production is expected.

problem. There are many unsold vehicles in the U.S. as well as here in Germany.

For years a third of all VW cars made in Germany have been exported to the U.S. In vehicles there. But the figure dropped each of the next four years as devaluations of the dollar pushed up the price and as U.S. manufacturers came out with cars like the

In 1974 VW sold only 334,515 cars in the U.S., just a little more than it had sold in 1965. Today, according to officials, the new VW Rabbit, which salls for $3330, does not make a

The reason is that the price of the Rabbit was set when the dollar was higher in relation to the German mark, The dollar is now worth about 2.38 marks. If it should climb to 2.55, say, the firm would make an additional $224

There has been much speculation about production plants in Brazil, Mexico, South Africa, Australia, Thailand, the Philippines, and other countries. It is doing well in these overseas plants, but much money has been spend on such expansion and on new models.

Toni Schmueckers, chairman of the board, said the U.S. plant question will not be decided This reporter was told it takes two years to . The German mark is so strong in relation get a plant in operation but that the firm does not have the inoney to build in the U.S. now anyway. Evidently the 1974 losses to be announced the first week in May were high and continue into 1975. So if VW is to build care in the U.S. it would man: The VW firm, in its efforts to leed its more stilted to bityers lastes. man: The VW firm, in its efforts to feed its

• Other car manufacturers have come up army of employees owns a sussege plant that

Soviet Union

Soviets blush after outburst on partisans

By Eric Bourne Special correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

The Soviet Union has apologized to Yugoslavia for a bit of clumsy footwork.

The apology came after two articles by Soviet military leaders downgrading the World War II role of Yugoslavia's partisan forces in defeating the German armies in the

The U.S.S.R. also reaffirmed its 1955 declaration — made to end the Stalin-Tito quarrel - that Yugoslavia's independent "road to socialism" is its own business.

These propitiatory amenda were made during last week's visit to Moscow by Yugoslav Prime Minister Dzemal Bijedic. He had talks with both Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Mr. Koaygin spoke of Yugoslavia's unforget-table contribution to the destruction of fas-

"From the first day to the last the Yugoslav patriots were our fellow fighters and allies," he said. "On the eve of the 30th anniversary of our joint victory we want to express our feelings of deep respect to the combatants and commanders of the National Liberation Army and to President Tito, the organizer and hero of the struggle."

Soviet-Yugoslav relations have had frequent ups and downs. Two weeks ago they took a sharp dip so far as Belgrade was concerned ever articles by Marshal Ivan Yakubovsky, commander of the Warsaw Pact armies, and Marshal Adrel A. Grechko, Soviet Defense Minister and member of the Polithuro.

These articles, each marking the 30th anniversary of victory over the Nazis in Europe, were published in Prague, one in the hard-line Czechoslovak party newspaper Rude Pravo and the other in the Army newspaper Obrana Lidu. Each credited the Yugoslavs with only a secondary role in freeing their country.

President Tito at once reacted with an

Special to The Christian Science Monitor

A giant Russian rocket, larger than America's Saturn 5 moon rocket, is expected to be test launched this summer from the Tyuratam

Preparations, which have been under way since last year, have been watched by the U.S.

Air Force 'Big Bird' spy satellite.
The huge booster, known as the SLX-14, is being developed to send into orbit sections of a arge multiman space station which will be put

The "secret" project, which the Soviets

By Dev Murarka Special to The Christian Science Monitor

What goes on behind the counter in Soviet shops is largely a mystery—especially to the consumers, who complain about the lack of goods and poor service.

But the veil was lifted a little in an account of a grocery-store assistant manager's ordeal in Sverdlovsk, a city of 1 million people on the eastern side of the Urals. The assistant,

Alexander Artsibashev, was fired after four years of service for not "fulfilling the plan." Since then he has taken up the fight for cosmódrome in central Asia.

together by teams of cosmonauts.

Marshal Tito stoutly defended the role his partisans had played angry public outburst against "those who still belittle the sacrifices of a people who lost every 10th citizen" during the war. The Yugoslav leader followed on April 4 with an unusually warm friendship offer to Albania next door

"We can have very good relations," President Tito said. If old disagreements were indulged then "the enemy would try to intervene. The Albanian leaders know, however, that we have great common interests, believe that we will be developing them to our mutual benefit."

Both countries have been uneasy about the failed in flight. None of these tests has been admitted by the Soviet authorities.

The project seemed to be on the verge of cancellation when the Kremlin ordered a drastic design review. The rocket's importance as a major launch vehicle to advance

Soviet space ambitions in the 1980s ensured made to rescue the launch system, and the latest design review has focused on the system's reliability and more extensive

Meanwhile, the mishap to the smaller SL-4

As assistant manager of Grocery Store No.

2, Mr. Artsibashev was responsible for keeping goods in stock; He had come to the shop fully trained as a tradesman but soon found that, the institute had not prepared him for the

All shops in Soviet cities are supplied from a central store known in Russian as the "baza."

In theory, all the tradesman has to do is to wheeling and dealing he encountered.

that development would continue.

stround testing.

skaya Pravda.

Prague's reform government in 1968. Both branded it aggression against an independent

At that time, although relations with Belgrade were still at rock-bottom, Albania leclared its solidarity with Yugoslavia should it become the Soviet Union's new target for 'socialist" intervention.

A sequel came in 1971 when the two Balkan neighbors resumed normal diplomatic ties and trade after more than 20 years. Modest further exchanges followed.

Albania's "reliance" on its solitary ally, distant China, has diminished since China's Soviet Union's possible Balkan intentions ever about-turn in its policy toward the United since it invaded Czechoslovakia to overthrow States.

Russia to test huge rocket in central Asia 1971 and 1972 two more of the big test rockets. spacecraft and a Soyuz capsula 140 miles above the earth in July. Ironically, the rocket that went satray has > the U.S.-Soviet docking exercise. The Soviets would have wished to have had a pair of cosmonauts aboard the Salyut 4 space station with the American space team including Thomas P. Stafford, Donald K. Slayton and Vance Brand - soon to visit the had a very high success rate. It is the same type that will launch the Soyuz cosmonauts for Tyuratam cosmodrome for the first time, They also would like to have launched the hig SLX-14 booster but may now be reluctant take the risk in case of another major

Grocer Alex unmasks Sverdlovsk wheeler-dealers

hetter Soviet stores, and a meticulous report on his difficulties in running the grocery store appeared recently in the daily, Komsomoi-

But in practice, it is not so simple. A whole system of handouts exists. If the system is not complied with, the supplies simply are not

John Burns of the Toronte Giobe and Mall Mr. Artsibashev writes. "I cannot pro-nounce the word baza' without trembling. How many people came here wanting to get high quality goods. But their desire is not enough. One has to give the loader a bottle of vodka, a clerk must be given a box of sandled. calling these people "refugees from commit-plant" was a lie designed to help the Saint Soverment continue the war.

Moscow eyes Hanoi gains

By Elizabeth Pond Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

In the Soviet-Chinese duel for influence, the expansion of North Vietnam's control over Indo-China is likely to benefit Moscow more than Peking, in the view of Western observers.

The Soviets, observers believe, are counting on the tough North Vietnamese to keep their historic distance from their large northern neighbor. Moscow apparently thinks that a strong Hanoi basically content with the outcome of its long struggle would turn inward for its own development and inevitably have national interests different from China's. these observers say.

The Soviets believe further that differences between Hanoi and Peking would arise regardless of the relative weight of Chinese and Soviet aid to North Vietnam.

Such a situation would not necessarily mean a dominant Soviet influence in Hanoi, but it would lead to a Vietnamese buffer against a southward seepage of Chinese influence.

In Cambodia the situation is reversed. The Soviet Union has virtually no direct influence there over the insurgents. It holds no love for the nominal leader of the government in exile, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, who has been living in Peking for five years. And Moscow's relations are hardly better with Prince Sihanouk's Deputy Prime Minister and the head of the insurgent forces inside Cambodia, Khieu

To counter the present Chinese ties with the Cumbodian insurgents, the Soviets apparently are hoping for a strong North Vietnamese influence in Cambodia. Historically the Vietnamese have dominated Indo China and Amine Hanoi has consistently close battle the with the Cambodian insurgents through the supplies, advisers, and cadres it has provided.

Luos presents a different picture from either Vietnam or Cambodia. Moscow has good relations with the Luctian coalition government and equally good direct relations with Communist-led Pathet Lao. Moscow stands to gain with the likely incressed influence of either the Pathet Lao or the North

In recent days the Soviet press has golds tougher on the United States on the subject of Vietnam — particularly concerning refugees The United States is now consistently linked with the South Vietnamese Government in charges of forced relocation of "so-called

The Soviets are eager not to spoil Soviet-American detente, however, and they continue to avoid aiming their accusations per-sonally at either President Ford or Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

The new Soviet enthusiasm for chasting the U.S. over the refugee issue became evident in three articles in the April 12 Pravda, One of these reported a statement by the Vietnamese Provisional Revolutionary Government (PRG) that "the PRG decisively cannot hide from the prying eyes of space satellites, has been delayed more than five years by a saries of mishaps.

In the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the summer of 1969— the year that tioned and the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the flight had to be abouted within the year that the provisional Revolution. It will be interesting to see if the NASA team at Tyuratam catches a glimpse of the booster either when flying in from Moscow or from the helping the actions of the U.S.A. In actively either when flying in from Moscow or from the helping the Saignon military clique to carry of the Civilian South flagrantly violating the Paris Agreement."

In addition, during the past week the Sovid media said that American ships recently see to the Indo-Chinese count were there in evacuate fleeling Salgon troops rather than is evacuate Americans.

What the Soviet press has not told its public is that President Ford sent notes last week to Moscow and all other signatories of the Paris Victnam coass-fire accord saking them to influence Hanol to abide by the coass fire.

China has stepped up its distribe against U.S. efforts to aid Viotnern refugees. As article April 12 in the People's Daily said calling forms.

Sudden end to five-year friendship U.S. pulls out of Cambodia leaving sense of betrayal

Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Salgon
With the evacuation of American officials from Cambodia, the Phnom Penh government is left with dwindling supplies, a sense of betrayal by the United States, and little hope of a negotiated end to the Cambodia war.

> Prime Minister Long Boret has announced Lt. Gen. Sak Sutsakhan had taken power is order to "strengthen the military and political position of the republic" with the ultimate aim of arriving at a peaceful settlement.

But last week the situation had deteriorated to the point where American planes were no longer able to land at the Phnom Penh airport but were dropping ammunition and food by parachute to the besieged capital.

It was not clear how long the airdrops would continue. A U.S. spokesman said they would go on for only as long as appropriations lasted, which could be for as short a period as two transport planes.

The evacuation of the American officials and President Ford's speech last Thursday, in which he failed to urge Congress to approve supplemental military ald for Cambodia, dealt severe blows to those Phnom Penh officials who had lingering hopes that the United States would somehow prevent the fall of the capital.

The feeling of betrayal by the United States was avident in a Phnom Penh government communique that said: "We are profoundly disappointed at the declaration of President Ford regarding our country."

The communique said that the American President "sought to avoid his responsibility to press for aid to our people." But, it continued, the government was determined to pursue its struggle for a negotlated peace.

Now that the United States has virtually admitted defeat in Cambodia by withdrawing weeks. And even if supplies continued to be dropped by parachute, they could not possibly equal those that arrived previously in glant great illusion in a war built on illusions.

Many Cambodian officials who had begun to speak vaguely of betrayal some time ago could somehow still never quite face the fact, until this weekend, that a big power like the United States would fall to salvage something for them from the ruins of Cambodia.

Their feelings were summed up by Um Sim, Cambodia's Ambassador to the United States, when he said, "let's face it, you took advanage of us, of our inexperience.

The Phnom Penh leadership welcomed the entry of American troops into Cambodia in 970. But the main effect of this so-called incursion by the Americans was not to benefit Cambodia but to buy time for the United States in South Vietnam

While the U.S. drive into Cambodia forced the North Vietnamese and their southern comrades of the National Liberation Front further into Cambodia, it took a great deal of pressure off the southern part of South Vietnam, thus allowing for a more orderly U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam than might have been possible otherwise.

A recent and possibly decisive turning point in the Cambodian war appears to have been the fall of the Mekong River town of Neak Luong nearly two weeks ago. It was the Cambodian Army's only remaining stronghold on the river. Its loss put an end to hopes that the Mekong could be reopened.

The final irony has been a call from Cambodia's acting president for the return of Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the titular leade of the insurgents, whose ouster by the Phnon Penh leadership led to the war. The acting president, Saukham Khoy, left Cambodia with the American evacuation helicopters.

In Peking, Prince Sihanouk sald that price to the American evacuation from Cambodia ho had rejected a U.S. request that he return to Phnom Penh to assume power and achieve a cease-fire. He said that a note from George Bush, chief of the U.S. Ilaison mission is Peking, stated that the people of Phnom Peni were hoping for his immediate return.

The Prince said that he had advised the Americans to evacuate immediately all U.S. personnel from Cambodia in order to improve the chances for an eventual normalization of relations between Washington and his royal government of national union.

Here it is!

the Monitor's new international edition to get you to the heart of the world's news

The world-aweeping coverage and all the rich feature variety of The Christian Science Monitor are here — in an easy-to-handle compact

Every week this refreshing new edition collects and updates the important Monitor news stories from around the world. They're organized geographically so you quickly find the area of your interest.

And the smaller pages then put what you want to read in stronger

This newspaper has always been known for getting to the essentials, quickly, accurately. Now, in its new weekly edition and compact design, the Monitor can do that job with more criepness and readability than ever.

There is no better time to become a regular reader. Simply use the

Please start my subscription to the new compact Monitor:* □ 6 months $U.S. 12:60 ff is $1.00 Bank of afternolosed Ukstruktor ☐ International Money Order to follow-☐1 year $U.S. 25.00 ☐18.months $U.S. 37.50 Local Currency check enclosed (only if from British isles, Germany, the Netherlands, or Switzerland) THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR Box 125, Astor Station Boston, MA, U.S.A. 02123

State/Country.

Why Can't You Use Good English?

A well-known publisher reports there are simple techniques in using everyday English, which can pay you real dividends in social and business everyday, English, which can bey you real dividends in a social and business advancements by helping you so express your ideas in a more interesting and convincing manner.

According to this publisher, many people do not restine how important it is to know how to use effective English. Whether in business, at social functions we even in casual conversation with strangers, there are ways you can use the English language to make a good impression each sime you speak or write.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the casy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday English, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a 32 page booklet, "How You Can Gain a Command of Good English," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Simply send your name, address and zip to; English, Division Career Institute, Dept. 500-39. Sherman Turnpike, Danbury, CT 06816. A home andy school.

The place where your Dollar is worth still

ALPENROSE

Wengen, Switzerland

Open May 5 to September 3

Full Beard per person per day:

May, June and Septembe approx. $20.00 with bath approx. $16.00 without bath

July and August approx. $25.00 with bath approx. $20.00 without bath

Family von Allmen

CH-3823 Wenzen, Switzerland Telephone 036/55 32 16 Telex 32883 ch alrew

Choose

PALMERSTON NORTH WELLINGTON LOWER HUTT CHRISTCHURCH DUNEDIN

EIGHT PROGRESSIVE STORES

IN NEW ZEALAND

D. I. C

at Your Service in

Remember You Can Operate on Your Accountat Any D.I.C Branch

PHILIP CHU LTD.

HAMILTON

WANGANUI

INVERCARGILL

Custom-made FURNITURE

Precious and Sami-Precious

51 Hankow Rd., Kowloon, Hong Kong

The Concord Fight Miniature Book Set

An American farmer and British sol-dier's account of the battle on April 19, 1775, Two books 2" x 24", leather bound, gilt edged in linen slipcase. $16.45 ppd. (Mass. residents add 3% rax.)

Robert D. Naiva, Publisher 1736 Wedgewood Common, Concord, MA 01742

BUILDERS — DECORATORS

SANITARY ENGINEERS

2-8 KENWAY ROAD

EARLS COURT ROAD S.W.5.

TEL. 01-370 1155 (2 lines)

RUNDLES

Pay only for the amount of carpet necessary to cover your floor by "WESTON" wall to wall carpets with this exclusive service: WESTON is

W. RUNDLE (PUTNEY) LTD.,

300 Upper Richmond Road, Pulney, S.W.15. Telephone: 01-788 5751

ACTION

CLEANING COMPANY

In Your Home, Office,

ur Restaurant

delivered tallormade to your requirements.

seamless in any width up to 16 ft. and all wastage in form of right angled recesses deeper than 10" is not paid for.

Marines stand by offshore

Use of force not ruled out in S. Vietnam evacuation

By Guy Halverson Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Washington The Pentagon, it is learned, is pondering two basic courses for evacuations from South Vietnam, should that become necessary:

First, in a "lightning" action similar to the evacuation of Phnom Penh, evacuating U.S. nationals still in Salgon, plus those South Victnamese who worked directly for the American Embassy and U.S. military mission.

All told, this means 5,000 to 7,000 persons, and would likely involve a helicopter airlift from Saigon to U.S. aircraft carriers in the South China Sea.

Barring specific congressional restraints, U.S. marines would be used to cordon off the American Embassy while the evacuation which the Pentagon insists could be undertaken with speed — was in progress.

Pentagon planners, however, concede that the logistics of the operation would be far more difficult than the Cambodian operation because of the larger number to evacuate. There is also concern — and anger — that the South Vietnamese Government is rejuctant to give visas to key South Vietnamese to leave.

Second, if the military situation permits and Congress approves, evacuating as many other key South Vietnamese as possible, using some civilian and military transport sircraft but relying heavily on cargo vessels under con-tract with the U.S. Navy. Such an evacuation, it is estimated, could involve up to several hindred thousand people. As of this writing, the U.S. has a flottila of 25 to 20 ships in the South China See, in cluding 4,000 Marines. The helicopter carrier Okinawa, with a detachment of Marines, has been stationed in the Gulf of Siam and was used for the Cambodian evacuation; the carriers Hancock and Midway are off the South China Sea. Meanwhile, the nuclear attack carrier Enterprise, and the Coral Sea, are in the Philippines and could be quickly diverted to South Vietnam.

Of the two plans, the one said to be most "firmed up" here is that involving the U.S. personnel and some embassy workers. Pentagon officials privately express confidence about evacuations of all personnel in a short time, without an incident with either advancing Communist troops or unfriendly South Victuamese Officials here note that Marines, securing they are used, would be given authority to "fully detend" the evacuating

Indeed, while U.S. officials continue to insist that there are between 5,000 and 6,000 Americans in South Vietnam, some Pentagon analysts believe that number has in fact been. reduced to between 4,000 and 5,000, with more evacuations quitely under way.

The larger evacuation plan, meanwhile, is

The matter of logistics, alone, notes the Pentagon, would be formidable. Although there are limited port facilities in the vicinity of Saigon, the only other major large port would be at Vung Tau, on the Vietnamese east coast. Thus, if there were to be a seaborne evacuation, that likely could mean moving a column of people from Saigon to the coast.

Some Pentagon officials privately say they know of no plans to provide U.S. Marine "security" for such an exodus, and that is ssumed that cover would have to be provided by the South Vietnamese.

by the South Vietnamese.

There also is a question here about whether or not the South Vietnamese could long maintain security at the large Tan Son Nhut air base out of Saigon, in case of an all-out Communist offensive on the Saigon area, and assuming commercial and military sircraft were used for evacuation.

The U.S. still has some nine civilian "contract" ships in South Vietnam for evacuation purposes. Ail of them, according to a Navy spokesman, are being "emptied, cleaned, refurbished and restocked," after being used for refugees on the northern coast of South Vietnam in recent weeks. No evacuations are . The 700 Marine guards assigned to the ships, meanwhile, have rejoined their regular Navy detachments with the aircraft carriers and other U.S. surface ships operating near South letnam coastal waters.

Given relatively short distances, such as along the coast, it is estimated a number of the contract ships could squeeze aboard 10,000 to 15,000 people each.

While the Pentagon has to date issued no official statement on whether it would use force to defend these evacuation ships from hostile action during evacuation, some sources here insist that such force would not

A Pentagon spokesman, meanwhile, insists the Pentagon is "not close" to making a lecision on evacuation, Other Pentagon sources, however, speaking privately, say that the test for Saigon might come within the next several weeks and could happen quickly.

Tide turns briefly: Salgon soldier totes captured Soviet assault rifls

Artillery and armor threaten capital

North Vietnam wields initiative in thrust toward Saigon By Guy Halverson south toward the west coast port of Vung Tau, least 18, and possibly as many as 20 divisions in The compresses, for example, are belief and them, mount, heavy artillery to out off. Continued to the compression of the compres

Despits stepped up South Vietnamese mili-tary activity porthwest of Saigon, the battle-field initiative is almost entirely with the communists Pentagon analysis say communists, Pentagon analysis say.

By almost every conventional military measurement, they say, the South Vietnamese are at a dissilyantage, facing what is increasingly seen here as the need to prevent a twofold "pinces" operation against Saigon itself:

itself:

1. The South Vietnamese must hold back a major communist push at Xuan Loo, northwest of Saigon—involving what are believed to be three North Vietnamese divisions massed with heavy tank and artillery forces.

The battle for Xuan Loc is seen here as crucial, because if the communist could breat through South Vietnamese defense, perimeters they would be poised to strike

At the same time, they could press toward Blen Hose, which houses the largest air base left in South Viginam, and is only 10 miles north of Saigon.

2. Meanwhile, using three of its remaining divisions (seven more are positioned in the Saigon region). Saigon must keep open the Mekong Delta. The defense of Route 4 roadway saiding from Saigon south to Tan An is considered crucial to keep food supplies Howing northward.

Is considered criticis to keep food supplies flowing northward

At the least, intelligence sources say, Hanol now has at least 50,000 to 70,000 men in some five divisions (and possibly a sixth) in the Saigon region (plus three divisions in the southern Nekong region) facing the seven Saigon-based South, Vietnamese divisions and some 100,000 men.

Overall, however, North Vietnam has at Militarily, indreover, Hand has several other key advantages besides manpower and Long-range air strength, if needed. air bases at Pleiku, Da Nang, and Hue, all in the abandoned northern sector of South Vietnam. The North Vietnamese reportedly already have brought in belicopters for these bases, and could dispatch long range fighter-

bombers

South Vietnamese Air Force P-SA fighters, and A-87 bombers, by contrast, are not considered capable of launching raids deep into North Vietnamese terrifory, or to North Vietnamese supply bases.

Ardilary and tanks North Vietnam is reported shifting heavy artillery weapons and concentrations of tanks toward Salgon.

Pentagon sources here say they on see! way for Seigon to safely regroup its the Mekong Delta divisions in event of a published capital. These divisions are consists among the best led and best fighting units in Seigh Mexicon. in South Vietnam.

Yet, Pentagon analysts note, fully a their South Victnam's population is in the rice of Mekong, politically and militarily the man secure part of the new truncated Republic South Victory. If the Mekong area vert suckienty collapse, say these analysis, Safe would be lost.

Moraceer, despite the heady statistics divisions and bettle units available to Sole chatriers note that the forces defeated th Satisfact in great measure tackets non-carle install units, many of them made up if me

in and around LONDON england homes and gardens

AUGUST JAMES RUGG & SON Ltd.

ALL TIMES

Bouquets Potted Flowers

Vases • Wreaths Bulbs • Flowers

46, COMMBE LANE and STATION APPROACH, RAYNES PARK. S.W. 20. Tel: 01-946-6583

S. TUCK WATCHMAKER

JEWELLER

2 Market Place Stevenage, New Town Tel. 0438 52383

FINCHLEY JEWELLERS Finchley Central,

London, N.3. Tel. 01-346 3563

FURNITURE . . . CARPETS ... BEDDING . . .

We supply everything for the home.

We are storage and.

Days

PART EXCHANGES

THE FURNISHERS

609-637 Norwood Road West Norwood, S.E.27 01-670-1165

300 UPPER RICHMOND RD. Carpets and Upholstery Expertly Cleaned

MONITOR advertisers appreciate

Maynards Interflora Florists

Phone: 0474-69541 Gravesend. Telex: 96492

Chile rounds on its critics

By James Nelson Goodsell Latin America correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Faced with growing economic distress at home and mounting worldwide criticism for alleged political repression, Chile's military leaders are groping for new answers to these

On the domestic front, they are in the midst of a cabinet reshuffling which could bring more civilians into the government as part of a new effort to shore up Chile's sagging eco-

On the international level, they have launched a massive counterattack aimed at turning attention away from Chile and spotlighting repression in other parts of the world. It is far from clear how a cabinet reshuffle will help the country on the economic level, but there is no doubt that Gen. Augusto Pinochet Ugarte, the head of the junta ruling

Chile, is preoccupled with the economic problems besetting Chile. Inflation last year topped 370 percent and this year is already running at 61 percent.

Santiago observers say the economic probems are compounded by mismanagement in cign critics of his government, General Pinochet called on the international community to investigate alleged repression and infringement of human rights in the Soviet ments in the application of this policy.

Union and Cubs.

Marxist orientation of the deposed Aflende government - but there may well be refine-

In launching his counteraltack against for-

Those countries, he said in a speech in Punta Arenas, Chile's southernmost city, "have no idea what respect for human rights means."

Answering a request from the United Nations Human Rights Commission to visit Chile in June and look into alleged violations of human rights, General Pinochet said:

"I have decided to let them come and see ... but first [they must] investigate the Soviets and the Cubans [and] find out if the Soviet Union and Cuba will open their doors as

Chile's diplomatic corps is pushing the same theme in contact with governments in Europe and Latin America; it is also carrying the message to the United Nations, and its

It is obvious, say Chilean observers, that the some government, ministries. The central Pinochet government is smarting from the bank, for example, issued 70 percent of the worldwide criticism of events in Chile since new currency to be circulated in Chile on Jan. the overthrow of President Salvador Allenda 1—a move that helped fuel the inflation.

Gossens and his Marxist-leaning government in September, 1973.

DAVID MURE & CO. LTD.

CARPET AND FLOOR COVERING CONTRACTORS"

Specialists in Carpet for

· INDUSTRY

HOTELS

• OFFICES

. CHURCHES etc.

SPECIAL TERMS FOR MONITOR READERS

Tel: 01-723 8217/8

21 and 23 Chilworth Street, Paddington, W.2.

in and around LONDON england homes and gardens

RICHMOND ELECTRIC INSTALLATIONS

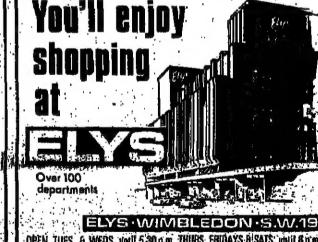

COMPLETE SYSTEMS INSTALLED

2 Eton Street 01-940-4031 and 0437

Antiques, Purniture, Bric-a-Brac

Also willing purchaser of whole steem, collections or part thereof Place write 38 Press Road, Landon, N.7. or telephone 03-607, 4816

DPEN TUES, 6 WEDS, Intil 5:30 p.m. THURS, FRIDAYS 8 SATS, Intil 8 p.m. Closed Moris. Tel: 01-946 9191

GRANT BAXELL BEDDING SPECIALISTS LOOSE COVERS - CURTAINS

HE UPHOLSTERING - HABERDASHERY - UPHOLSTERY SUNDRIES 195 & 195a UPPER RICHMOND ROAD, PUTNEY, S.W.15

Telephone: 01-788-7423

Latin America

Banana Honduras

By James Nelson Goodsell Latin America correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Disclosure of a $1.25 million bribe paid by the multinational foods concern United Brands Company to an as yet unnamed official of the Honduran Government is likely to cause new problems for private U.S. businesses operating in Latin America.

For Latin Americans the incident is a sharp reminder of an earlier era of United States economic domination - an era in which United Fruit Company, now part of United Brands, held sway in Central America. United Fruit is a major producer and supplier of bananas and other fruit.

Moreover, the incident raises serious ques-tions about the viability of the government of Gen. Oswaldo Lopez Arellano in Honduras.

The disclosure came only a week after fellow officers ousted General Lopez from his post as head of the armed forces.

There was immediate speculation following the ouster that General Lopez would find it hard to retain the presidency - a post he original understanding with the Honduran increase the pressure on the general, who is not be made. reported to be in seclusion. There is nothing in the disclosures so far linking General Lopez to the bribe payment by United Brands. But the Securities and disclosed the payment, is investigating the possibility that the payment was made to United Brands has acknowledged the payment that was uncovered during a routine SEC investigation into the suicide of the company's president Eli M. Black last Febru-

Exchange Commission in Washington, which

The bribe was apparently paid to get high banana export taxes lowered. United Brands, in a statement, said that Mr. Black had authorized the payment, which went to a Swiss bank account of the unnamed Honduran assumed in a military coup in December, 1972. official called for an additional payment of The bribe-payment revelations are bound to $1.25 million. It said that the payment would

> Meanwhile, the company admitted it was looking into not only the Honduran payment but also "certain other payments in countries outside the Western Hemisphere" totaling an estimated $750,000 over the past five years.

The banana tax, which United Branda sought to have lowered, was imposed after a group of nations, primarily in Central America, organized the Union of Banana Exporting Countries early last year. They sought to impose a $1 tax on every 40-pound box of bananas exported from member countries. which included Honduras, to offset the staggering rise in fuel costs.

United Brands, through its subsidiary United Fruit, actively opposed imposition of the tax in the countries where it operates.

Elections shore up

By James Nelson Goodsell Latin America correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Argentina's battered Peronista leadership has been shored up by a solid victory in critical provincial balloting.

While the results of voting for gubernatorial and provincial legislative candidates in northern Missiones Province were not an overwhelming affirmation of Peronista policies, they were nevertheless the first good news in quite some time for Argentine President Maria Estela Martinez de Peron.

Moreover, the relative calm in which the voting took place this past weekend belied a variety of forecasts of election violence.

Argentine commentators are putting much stress on the calm that prevailed in the northern province, up next to the Paraguayan violence fell in many other parts of Argentina.

The voting gave Mrs. Peron's Frente Justicialista de Liberacion (FREJULI) 46 percent of the total, allowing it to win the governorship and half the 32 seats in the

The Union Civica Radical, the nation's second major political grouping, polled 38 percent and won 13 assembly seats. This party, although opposed to many Peronista policies, has tended to support Mrs. Peron in the wake of her assumption of power last July following the passing of her husband, Juan Domingo

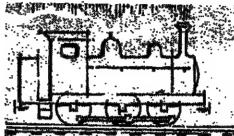

While there had been widespread forecasts of major electoral upsets in the Missiones voting, stemming from the candidactes of border — noting the sharp contrast with the percent of the vote and won three seats in th provincial assembly.

Results in Missiones do not necessarily serve as a barometer for the rest of Argentina Missiones is rather untypical of the southern nation. For example, 80 percent of the Argentine population lives in cities, while in Missiones more than half live in the coun

But the results do give Mrs. Peron a boos when she most needs it.

Mrs. Peron and her supporters can use the results as the first indication of electoral support for her government. Various cabinet nisters and others went to Missiones during the campaign to support FREJULI candidates and pre-election polls suggested these candidates would do well to get about 40 percent of the vote. Winning 46 percent, although not a dissident Peronists, nothing of this sort took majority, does indeed strengthen the Peplace. The dissident Peronists polled only 8 ronista image.

"HOMELAND"

6 Dib Lane, Leeds 8.

DRAPERY

CHILDREN'S WEAR

WOOLS

HABERDASHERY

A FINE SELECTION

EASTER GIFTS

Dorcen R. Eyre

pace

Danish and Scandinavian

DRESSES

Telephone 564113

Leeds & Sheffield ENGLAND

From ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

EVERYTHING ELECTRICAL

ihowrooms: 36/37 Merrion St., Leeds Tel.: 41740

6. The Grove, likley

13. Parliament St., Harrogate Tel.: 66881

MEGS

For your Freshly Baked Bread Cakes • Puddings • Pastries • Savories

QUALITY UNCHANGED ORDERS TAKEN

35 North View Bristol 6.

Kim Howard

Galleries

28 Gloucester Bristol 44954

Picture

preservation reproductions

Waterloo St., Clifton 8. England

D.J. WEBBER Watchmaker and Jeweller

7 North View, Westbury Park, England

Choose a gift with personal service from our wide selection of:

Dress Rings, Jewellery, Silver Plate and many other items. Also stockists of Certina, Avia, Roamer watches and Excalibur Jewellery.

HIGH-CLASS CONFECTIONERY. BIRTHDAY - ANNIVERSARY GARDS, ETC.

5 NORTH VIEW. WESTBURY PARK, BRISTOL 6, ENGLAND

Think First

MONITOR ADVERTISERS

0

CLIFTON FURNISHING

For the best and most modern in

CARPETS & FLOOR COVERINGS CURTAINS & SOFT FURNISHINGS LAMPSHADES & PENDANTS OCCASIONAL FURNITURE FURNISHING ACCESSORIES

Anywhere within 50 miles radius

MAKING & FITTING FACILITIES

Wildings & Garlick

MEN'S OUTFITTERS

Main Fitting Centre for

Children's Shoes

Also a Large Selection for the Whole Family

C.J. Maringher

94 WHITELADIES ROAD

arks

96c WHITELADIES ROAD, CLIFTON BRISTOL 8. Tel: 39351

For generations

fathers and sons

have come to us

BRISTOL, ENGLAND

and quality

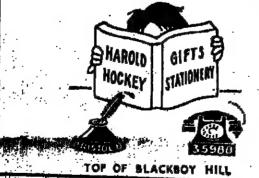

for quality, scrvice.

60 QUEENS ROAD

TEL: 20304 ENGLAND (AND BRANCHES) 287 Ecclesali Rd. Sheffield $11 8NX

126 Coldharbour Road and BRANCHES Redland, Bristot 6

> A Wide Selection of New Spring Fashion at

DORIS COX BOUTIQUE Open all day Saturday

BEAMONITOR OCHWatcher

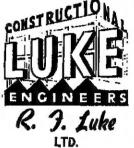

THE SPRING COLLECTION OF MODEL COATS, SUITS, GOWNS and SEPARATES

PRICE OF BROOMHILL

sively for Children's Wear and the Junior Miss

HAPPINESS BLOOMS WHEN YOU SEND.FLOWERS ADDISON'S

19 Otley Road, Headingley CONVEYOR & SPIRAL CHUTES Tel. 752618 Telex 557559

Oxcroft Works, Clowne,

Chesterfield, Derbyshire

59 Fargate Sheffield Tel. 26113

44 Chapel Walk Sheffleid Tel, 25741

FURNITURE, • BEDDING CARPETS

Ponsford's

Florists.

Leeds LS6 3AA

Sheffield's Main Stockist of distinctive ERCOL

Specialists in famous G Plan Furnishings

579-601 London Road

leeley, Sheffield $2 4HS

THE CHILDREN'S SHOP

271, 281/283 Fulwood Rd. Tel. 62691

STRUCTURAL STEEL WORK STEEL FABRICATORS

I.S.O. "CONTIP" & "CONTANK"

Tel. Clowne 810324

BRADLEY'S

MUSIC FIRST CHOICE

RECORDS and

CASSETTES

Tel. 50075

J. & R. W. RYAN & SON LTD.

290 Ringinglow Road Sheffield 11 Tel. 3021 DOUGLAS

EVERITT Interior Decorator

High Class Decorative Work

36 DOBCROFT RD PHONE 361825 SHEFFIELD S7 2LR

Get more mileage with a tune-up RHODES

& MIRFIN BUSLINGTHORPE GARAGE

MEANWOOD ROAD LEEDS LS7'2HZ Tel. 624849

CARPET CLEANING!

taking up, fitting, alterations and dyeing

Carpet and 3 piece Suite Cleaning

IN YOUR HOME

FRANKLINS

Head Office and Works 116/120 Onslow Road

114 Ecclesali Road Sheffield

A Die

HALI

Plumber, Glazier, Gas Fitter Sanitary and Hot Water Engineers Property Repairs Bathrooms and Glass Wall Tiling a speciality

THE HALLMARK

OF QUALITY

38 Suprisout no Road halffold & Talapholog 38882 ENGLAND

Dauson & Co., Ltd (Opposite Clock Cinema)

Gifts of Bright Ideas

ENGLISH

313. Roundhay Road, Leeds LS8 4HT. Tel. 624145

Sanderson

furnishing fabrics . COMPREHENSIVE STOCKS OF PRINTED COTTON and LINEN UNION at REALISTIC PRICES

FASHIONS

You are cordially invited to inspect our spackling range of fashions including evening gowns, day and afternoon dresses, trouser suits, etc. And of course, our fine range of furs to complete your spring outfit.

> JOSEPH FOX FOX HOUSE, ROCKINGHAM GATE.

THE MOOR, SHEFFIELD

STAINBECK PHARMACY

Tel.: Leeds 682963 REQUISITES

TRANSISTOR BATTERIES Holiday Requirements

Cosmetics and

Toiletries

PHOTOGRAPHIC SUPPLIES
DEVELOPING & PRINTING

H. HILEY Haraldills, Leads 9. Tel: 493435

SHOP Monitor adventisers

But more than anything, a top aide explains

the President wants to feel that he no longer is being handcuffed by Congress in his dealings with foreign nations - that there is, indeed, a new presidential-congressional partnership of trust and cooperation as the two, together, in some instances, this aide says, the President will want the Congress to provide clarification of how it views presidential move forward to achieve peace.

Africa

France and Algeria 'condemned' to cooperate

By Takashi Oka Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

"Geography and history condemn France and Algeria to cooperate," says President Boumedienne of Algeria. Also, "Relations between France and Algeria can be good, or they can be bad. They can never be ordinary."

'As if to test the truth of both statements, President Giscard d'Estaing has paid a three-day visit to Algeria — the first visit by a French head of state since the North African country won independence from France in 1962 after a searing eight-year guerrilla war.

Mr. Giscard d'Estaing's trip was a delicate exercise in personal diplomacy. Both Presi-dent Charles de Gaulle and Georges Pom-pidou, although invited in their time, found it. politic not to accept.

For General de Gaulle, the trauma of the war years was too fresh in the minds of French voters, For Mr. Pompidou, Franco-Algerian relations were soured anew by nationalization of France's share in the Algerian oil industry. Yet it was General de Gaulle who characterized Algeria as "the door of the third world." The country, whose intellectual elite retains its cultural links with France, leads efforts to coordinate third world policies aimed at getting higher prices for raw-material exports and more generous aid commitments from rich industrialized countries. At the recent energy conference in Paris, the Algerians skillfully asserted this lead-ership and pursued with dogged determination their effort to bring about a larger conference later this year in which raw materials rather than oil alone will be the Algeria had a $4 billion income from oil exports last year. But repeated, costly at the two countries is human. When Algeria tempts to develop new fields in the Sahara have not so far yielded fruit. It is expected that oil production, which stood at around 50 million tons last year, will not substantially increase and that reserves will be exhausted by 1995, when the country expects to have a population of 30 million.

President Boumedienne, therefore, is in a hurry to industrialize. Unlike Libya or Saudi Arabia, which have oil to spare, the Algerians

By a special correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor future political orientation of Zaire.

Shock waves from the "revolution within a

The measures were announced soon after

President Mobutu had returned from visits to

'rumor-mongers' and asked his 100,000-

China and North Korea. In a speech explaining the decisions, General Mobutu dehounced strong addlence if his visits to the Asian

Communist countries made him a communist

The crowd roared a categorical "no" in reply.

The President went on: "We continue torid" ourselves of a Western system. We will give our country a new orientation, strictly respecting our authenticity, an orientation

Quite what that orientation will be is not

The new measures privide for drastic state which will be unique."

Kinshasa, Zaire

Little girl of the future and women of the past in Algiers and they want to use the income as effectively as possible while it lasts.

But according to French sources, doctri-naire socialism and lack of sufficient attention to agriculture are causing the classic dilemma of many Eastern lands: bureaucratic bottlenecks hamper industrial development, while burgeoning population forces the government to raise food imports.

The knottiest problem in relations between became, independent, nearly one-million. French citizens resident in the country took refuge in metropolitan France. Most of these have managed to establish new homes and businesses, but their bitterness remains both toward the Algerians and toward the French Government they feel deserted them.

Meanwhile, Algerians form the largest racial minority in France - 850,000 out of a Arabia, which have oil to spare, the Algerians total immigrant population of four million. Went the highest possible price for their oil, Most of these Algerians have settled in ghettos mented: "With the massive intervention of mission schools.

He announced plans for agricultural cooper

Referring to the case of five women caught selling forbidden imported soft drinks, he sald

there would be no more sugar imported after

1977, Deploring the 36 percent of Zaire's foreign exchange expenditures going to meat, he proposed steps for increased meat production and urged citizens to cut their con-

for getting all Zaire's children into school.

General Mobutu set 1980 as the target date atives, national brigades of farm help, and the Zaire: Revolution within a revolution

been effective.

intervention in agriculture, and for Zairlaniza. He said that henceforth no Zairlan children tion of "all the larger means of production and could attend consular schools in the country in Paris and southern French cities. Their housing conditions are frequently lamentable, and the bitterness of the former French settlers; often erupts against them in ugly

Currently, France is allowing no new Algerian migration, and Algeria itself has banned further emigration, saying that sufficient job opportunities are opening up at

In terms of personality, there is little in-common between the relaxed, informal manner of the French President and the ascetic Cairo-trained Islamic ruler of Algeria, But on both sides, there is a determination to turn a new page in Franco-Algerian relations.

Despite the very different political and economic paths chosen by the two countries, the strands of history, culture, and commerce that tie them together across the Mediterranean are so thickly interwoven that both governments recognize no choice but to ovement(PRM)—Zaire's single party—

The understanding was that he would voluntarily return to Rhodesia after the or primary or secondary schools abroad (a ruling that affects his own children). This The influential weekly Jeune Afrique com- followed an earlier decision nationaling all General Mobility admitted in his speech that page description of how the Chinese Army previous priorities for agriculture had not below in agriculture.)

foreign enterprises as well as property ac-quired before those measures. Agricultural enterprises and land were exempted. enterprises and land were exempted his own designed to appears African nation.

The President also amounced a massive alist sentiment generally. The Zambian Formulating maggant for pair to pair to preside a massive alist sentiment generally. building program for naw housing, hospitals dispensaries, and schools.

In Kinshasa the political bureau of the PRM and its newly formed eight man executive council are wreathing with ways of putting into street the draconian and expensive programs handed over by the President.

Black-white power play in Africa

Zambia, South Africa ally to prevent Rhodesia race war

> By Geoffrey Godsell Overseas news editor of The Christian Science Monitor

The biggest and most dramatic power play affecting relations between blacks and whites in Southern Africa is under way.

Its outcome will decide:

Whether white-run Rhodesia will soon pass to black majority rule.

· Whether South African-run South-Wast Africa (Namibia) will soon be freed by South Africa to go its own way.

· Future relations, at least short-term. between white-run South Africa and the rest of black Africa.

 The course of black-white relations within South Africa itself.

At the very core of the present deliberations is the status of Rhodesia, where till now the white minority — led by Prime Minister Ian Smith — has had a monopoly of political and economic power over the black majority. (In Rhodesia's population of some 6 million, blacks outnumber whites by about 25 to 1.)

Since the end of last year, Rhodesia's neighbors to north and south — black-run Zambia and white-run South Africa, respectively - have perceived a common interest in preventing race war in Rhodesia. The one thing they want to avoid is being sucked into any such war, Zambia on the side of Rhodesia's blacks and South Africa on the side of hodesia's whites.

To head off any such possibility, Zambian resident Kaunda and South African Prime Minister Vorster, unlikely collaborators on most issues, have been separately, puting pressure on Rhodesia's blacks and Rhodesia's whites to resolute a risk constitution that would, in effect, open the door of black majority rule; Both Mr. Knunda and Mr. Vorster perceive that this may be the only way to head off race war in Rhodesia.

Since Mr. Smith and the Rhodesian while minority are being asked to give up in any: settlement the privileges they now enjoy, Mr. Vorster has presumbaly had to do more arm. twisting than has Mr. Kaunda.

The latest bit of arm-twisting resulted in min. Smith releasing the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithok (leader of the most radical African group in Rhodesia), from detention so that he could attend the recent African foreign ministers meeting in Tanzania.

conference. But he has not done so. At last reports he had remained in Tanzania rather than face possible reincarceration.

To match Mr. Smith's parole to Mr. Sithole, and to give Mr. Smith a plausible background for his release of Mr. Sithole, President the state, will the present vigorous free- He ordered the Army to join in the produc- Kaunda of Zambia arrested in his capital Mobutu Sees Seko early this year are still enterprise system not be set back? In that case tion system by using its engineering copps, its. Lusaka, virtually, the entire guerrilla leading through this burning reforms will be put the control of th more difficult any intensification of black guerrilia activity against white Rhodesians. The President criticized officials of the

Some African foreign ministers gathered at ernment and the People's Revolutionary the Organization of African Unity meeting in purchase and sale of all agricultural product who combined national responsibilities with too far; but he apparently has the backing of Dar es Salaam say Mr. Kaunda may have goos tion by the state. All these steps are designed private gain. He asked Zairians to return to such moderates as President Nyerere of to make Zaire self-sufficient in food stuffs, the state all property received by them as a Tanzania President Mehant of Zeire and the the state all property received by them as a Tanzania, President Mobuty of Zaire, and the result of the November, 1973, Zairianization of ... new African leadership in Mozambique.

Mr. Voster is trying to make things easier for the moderates by offering concessions eign Minister has told the Dar es Salam meeting that Mr. Vorster: (1) has promised to withdraw from Rhodesia by the end of May all South African security personnel hitherto halping Mr. Smith (2) accepts African majority rule in Rhodesia; and (3) has agreed in principle to the independence of Namilia.

Ford plans to walk handalmost-in-hand with Congress | Vandalism in schools personnel to evacuate foreign nationals - if

Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

President Ford wants to shape a whole new working relationship with Congress in making foreign policy.

The relationship - mentioned in his televised April 10 address to Congress but overshadowed by the headlines given to his aid requests for South Vietnam - would go like this, sources disclose:

The President wants to make sure that neither he nor any future president can use-hidden, indirect, or even devious means to pull the United States into a war overseas. He promises close, candid, day-to-day consultations with Congress in making policy and considering agreements with other nations.

At the same time, Mr. Ford wants from Congress the flexibility he feels he needs to be effective in leading the nation in foreign policy.

This kind of close-working arrangement, with Congress being brought into the policy process and, at the same time, taking much more responsibility for decisions, is what the President means when he says there should be one foreign policy for the U.S.

To make his point clear, Mr. Ford intends to restate this thesis very soon, perhaps in his address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors this week in Washington. However, it may come a little later.

When the President began to put his April 10 speech together some time back, he and his advisers were entirely occupied with this concept of what they see as a new kind of presidential-initiated bipartisanship,
But by the time Mr. Ford went to California, the Southeast Asia theme was beginning to intrude on this original thesis. By the time the President was ready to deliver the speech on Thursday, it had become clear to Mr. Ford and his advisers that they really had two speeches on their bands... What to do? A debate ensued. One view presented to the President was that he should make two speeches, the first on Southeast Asia, the second, on his new foreign-policy The President was told that if he put the two together, particularly as the Southeast Asia theme began to really dominate the text, that his foreign-policy concepts would be over-

However, Mr. Ford decided to go ahead taking his chances. Now he intends to reemphasize what he and his advisers see as a whole new course for America in foreign

When the President asks for more "flexibility" from Congress, his intentions remain a little unclear.

Specifically, however, he wants authority from Congress for using military vehicles and (DECORATORS) LTD.

Bernard

PAINTING

and

DECORATING

CONTRACTORS

19 GREENHILL GAADENS

LEEDS LS12 4HE

Tel: 637783

CAR

RENTALS

IN

BHITAIN

seasonal weekly rates

U.S. $65,50 summer

from U.S. $55,00 winter

Delivity to meet arrivals at all major U.K. althority at eastonal value from $55.00 wester inclusive VAT and unlimited fees relicage. Choice of saleons (seedens), estate cars (station vergees), metorized carevans (campers) and minibuses. Automotics wester able. Special lattiff for onesing resides. Write for quotation advising approximate dates of bites and delivery/collection service required.

Replies by airmail from:

CARS, P.O. Box No. 38

Cobham, Surrey, England KT11 3BT.

advertisers

Monitor

Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Washington A U.S. Senate study that paints a grim ationwide picture of school violence and andalism has brought forth a recommended wo-track approach to prevention:

1. Provide more security guards and use better security technology to make school buildings safer for students and teachers, and less prone to vandalism.

authority in this whole foreign-policy field. 2. Devise alternate educational programs The President feels that since Franklin D for students bored with conventional educa-Roosevelt the executive has been taking tion or unable to cope with it. The idea is to important initiatives, without congressional prevent the frustration and boredom in which udents sometimes turn to violence and approval, that have helped bring about global andalism, specialists say.

Educators say any child's interest can be captured and held by a skillfully administered The President also underscores those presidential initiatives which have seemed relatively small at first - like the 1964 Tonkin Gulf educational program geared to his interests, needs, and grade level — provided the child is resolution - and which have been used as not handicapped emotionally, mentally, or by authority for much larger involvement. special learning disabilities.

These the President now would avoid -These proposals, contained in a Senate bill, are prompted by the study, and sponsored by Indiana's Democratic Sen. Birch Bayh, who is although he has not worked out the details of such a close-working partnership with Con-

These details, he feels, should come, at least chairman of the Senate Juvenile delinquency subcommittee for which the study was made. In large part, from Congress itself. He thinks that these would naturally be forthcoming The Bayh proposal would authorize "such from a Congress grateful for this unprece dented opportunity to participate in the shaping of the nation's foreign policy.

funds as may be necessary" from the federal budget to school districts to cope with violence and vandalism in their schools. Thus it runs counter to President Ford's announced determination not to approve additional spending programs this year in order not to add to the mounting federal debt. It is not expected to become law this year.

In any case, hearings on the bill and the underlying study will open in the subcom-mittee in mid-April, Subcommittee members and the American public will hear that the study, conducted in 757 public school districts over three years, estimates school vandalism cost the United States $500 million nationwide during that time.

In the school districts followed, the study also found:

- 70,000 physical assaults against teacher and administrators. — Several hundred thousand assaults (

students. - Over 100 students murdered.

- In north-central states, students' use of alcohol and other drugs rose 97 percent between 1970 and 1973.

- in the south, assaults on students rose 316 percent during the same three years.

School districts studied include both urban

DERBY

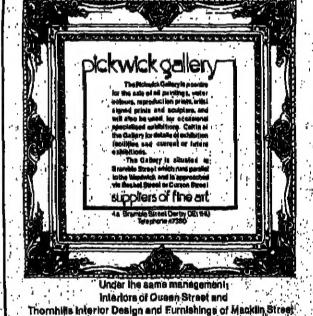

GARDEN SEEDS By Unwins - Sharpes Thompson & Morgan SCOTCH CERT, AA

SEED POTATOES LAWM GRASS MIXTURES

Materials - Gerden

Tools & Greenhouses, etc.

PERBY HANDYCHAETS LTD. The Spot Tel. Derby 45503

Timber, Chipboard, Tools, Mouldings, HandyBoard, Stoneplan, Louvre Shutters & Doors, Double Glazing, Elm & Yew Furniture, Phylogod, Plastic Laminates, Silding & Folding Door Gears, 9 a.m. 5:30 p.m. MON., TUES., FRI., SAT.

18-19 IRONGATE, DERBY

Tel. (0332) 44798 & 364037

CLULOWS BOOKSELLERS OF DERBY Personal and Postal Enquiries Welcome For Our Main Agencies
H.M.S.O. Books, White Papers, etc. B.B.C. Publications Ordnance Survey Maps & Plans

RENDERS FOR FINE FABRICS

FOR DRESSES, COATS AND FURNISHINGS

Selected

WEDDING PRESENTS

Lamp Shades

Costume Jewelry
Micrors — Pictures

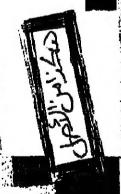

Chess Sets

William Haslam Ltd

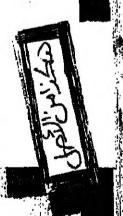

22 Irongate (opposite cathedral) Darby

THE RESERVE THE PERSON NAMED IN

EAST STREET DERBY 44558

and unwed

teen

mothers

United States

Slump feeds the hungry Attica trial stands trial of the world

By John Dillin Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Worldwide recession apparently is responsible for saving millions of lives this year in southern Asia.

So says Dr. Norman Borlaug, Nobel Prize-winning authority who has studied world food problems for 30 years:

With less money to spend, people in the West ate less meat, Dr. Borlaug says. When less meat was sold, fewer cattle were fattened with corn and wheat. That made more grain available to India, Bangladesh, and other hungry nations - and it saved millions of

Dr. Borlaug was in Atlanta for the Albert Schweitzer Centenary Symposium. In a wide-ranging interview, he noted that "sad as it is for the livestock producers, the collapse of beef sales is the only thing" that has slaved off famine in Asia.

This situation, however, is only temporary a brief breathing spell before some nations could be faced with "real disaster," he warns.

Despite lower cattle production, world grain reserves have continued to alide to an estimated 88 million tons, or a 23-day supply. That is the lowest level on record.

If livestock production climbs again, Asia could be staggered by critical food shortages in a short time

"We're still on the brink," he says.

Obviously, the immediate need is to increase food production, which means getting higher yields, producing more fertilizer, using better agricultural procedures, he notes.

Concurrently, something must be done about population growth, now running about 78 million a year worldwide.

But there also are other steps that can be

· On an international scale, a world food bank is essential, he says. Every nation should have drawing rights, and each should contribute to the cost.

However, Dr. Borlaug says that bank also should become a useful "club" to force action on the "population monster." Any nation refusing to take effective action on population. growth should be denied access to the food

. On the national level, the U.S., Canada, Australia, and Western Europe should step up educational efforts to acquaint their urban populations about agricultural problems.

Individuals and families can take action, the world barrel into

Borlaug - recession saves lives

situation, and by being careful not to waste

It is the population problem that worries Dr. Borlaug most in the long term. Continued growth threatens world stability, he says.
"Food is important to social stability. If we're going to have international peace, we can't build it on empty bellies."

Serious problems can be found in Africa. million today. With that kind of growth, Mexico could experience empty food baskets before the end of the century, he says.

Dr. Borlaug also suggests the United States should clamp down on immigration, es-pecially illegal immigration, which is adding millions to the population.

Otherwise," he says, "how can you bring pressure to bear? You're letting steam out of the world barrel into our own balliwick - one dential nomination, according to the latest

While disturbed about primary devel-

ing toward their first presidential primaries, which should improve prospects for the

In North Carolina, the primary system would be replaced by a convention system.

such as existed prior to 1972; In Maryland, the General Assembly has passed and sent to the Governor a bill that they chose."

the national convention.

Wallace is put to the test

By John Dillin Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Early skirmishing in the 1976 U.S. presiden-tial race is testing the political clout of Gov.

George C. Wallace in four key primary states, Efforts are under way in North Carolina and other Waliace strongholds to abolish or alter

Mr. Wallace is taking the threat seriously.

He appeared before a committee of the North-Carolina Senate this week to plead in favor of keeping the state's primary, which he won handily in 1972.

The bill to abolish the North Carolina primary passed easily in the State House and had a good chance in the Senate, according to ources in the legislature.

Similar moves are reported in Michigan, Teinessee, and Maryland — all Wallace strong areas in previous years.

The anti-Wallace efforts, if that is what they are reflect growing concern about the Goverpor's potential in 1978, in the view of some colitical analysis.

Mir Wallace leads the entire field of potential Democratic candidates for the presi-the primary.

By George Moneyhun misconduct.

Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Attica prison inmate Frank Smith says he has dling of the investigations.

something to smile about. that he and the 60 other former Attica inmates being tried in connection with the revolt might still succeed in getting what they want most — total amnesty.

finally coming out," the former inmate said in a telephone interview from Buffalo, where he faces murder and kidnapping charges that could result in 40 consecutive terms of life

"We're not interested in seeing any [police] officers indicted," he said, "we want amnesty for everybody - all 1,500 people that were

Ever since a state police assault force invaded Attica prison in September, 1971, and brought to a bloody climax a four-day prisonrebellion that ended in 43 fatalities and 80 njuries, state officials have been criticized for xhibiting a double standard of justice.

There have been recurring complaints that o member of the police force was indicted by he special grand jury that was impaneled shortly after the uprising, despite reported eyewitness accounts of crimes committed by he invading police.

These charges have gained new credence with the disclosure that the former assistant chief to the special Attica prosecutor resigned after accusing the head of the prosecution team, Anthony Simonetti, of "consciously keeping evidence from reaching the jury" about police actions during the uprising.

The assistant prosecutor, Malcolm H. Bell, a report to New York Gov. Hugh L. Carey. reportedly said he had been blocked from obtaining audio tapes and film of the prison assault needed to back up allegations of police

Two other members of the Attica proce-New York cution team have resigned in recent months For the first time in four years, former because of their disagreement with the han.

Governor Carey and State Attorney General New charges of high-level cover-up sur- Louis J. Lefkowitz have decided to appoint rounding New York State's investigation of new special deputy attorney general to conthe 1971 Attica prison revolt have given "Big duct a probe of the Attica cover-up charges, Black" - as he likes to be called - new hope Mr. Bell has indicated there is substantial evidence to bring murder indictments against some state police.

Meanwhile, civil-rights lawyer William M. Kunstler, who represented two former Attle "Everything we've been saying since 1971 is inmates convicted last week of murder and assault during the rebellion, said a staff member on his defense team has admitted the was an FBI informer. The lawyer says he will seek to have the convictions thrown out.

Chief prosecutor Simonetti has denied vigorously any cover-up, calling the Bell charges 'entirely false and wholly misleading." Mr. Bell first made his complaints in a letter of resignation which he submitted to State Attorney General Lefkowitz on Dec. 11, In his letter, Mr. Bell said the investigation of possible crimes by law-enforcement officers 'lacks integrity" and was being "aborted" by the chief prosecutor.

Governor Carey has asked Mr. Simonetti to prepare a report in response to the cover-up

A state Supreme Court justice has refused to dismiss charges against one of the former Attica inmates who had asked that marder charges against him be dropped on the grounds of "selective enforcement" of the Defense lawyers, nevertheless, were encouraged at week's end that the new cover-up charges would improve the former immates released from prison; six have pleased suffrant to less serious charges; and two were found guilty last week, one of murder and one of attempted second-degree assault.

Asia, Latin America — and as close to the United States as Mexico. The Mexican population has zoomed from 18 million in 1945 to 58 Far-right pressure on schools

By David Winder Staff correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

Los Angeles The John Birch Society is arousing fresh attention with increased influence in U.S.

lassrooms, according to educators. The National Education Association (NEA), and Group Research, the Washington-based organization that watches the far right, sees the hand of the John Birch Society in mounting ultra-rightist pressures on school boards, chalking up victories along the way.

The John Birch Society also is closely identified with a new coalition of anti-busing and anti-'dirty' textbook groups that joined forces last month in Washington D.C., under opments, the Wallace camp points out that other states, including Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, and possibly Mississippi are movthe banner of the "populist Forum."

One example of the society's influence: the recent community uproar in Kanawha County, West Virginia, where local coal miners went on strike to protest certain extbooks they considered immoral.

Alton Dauphin, finance director for the Although the local school board was origin the state of the second of Carolina and elsewhere an attempt to "do turally forced the board to make certain of the away with the people's right to vote for those books available only in the school library books available only in the school library and then only with parental permission.

Mike Bell, director of public information at Kanawha County public achools, says: "The American Opinion (John Birch Speiety) bookstors printed a lot of material used by the anti-book people, and in some instances it was identified by the printers and in some cases fully affiliated with the John Birch Society. Very definitely likeline, were part of it."

Other groups closely identified with the society in similar struggles are Leadershlo would make the primary non-binding. Mr. Wallace or any other candidate who won the primary would not be assured of any votes at other groups dosely identified with the society in similar stringles are Leadership Action in Richmond, Winginia; Awareness League in Houston Texas; LITE (Let's Improve Telegy's Editesion) in Arizona; and Concerned Chizens Group in McKeesport Pennsylvania; Arizona, Wisconsin, West Virginia, and Georgia sage manifolds as states where local North Carolina Sen, McNell Smith, whose committee will hear Gov. Wallace this week, says the effort to abolish the primary comes in part because of unhappiness with 1972 results: Presidential candidate Jimmy Carter of Georgia also has spoken in favor of retaining school boards, under pressure from similar right-wing groups, have abandoned certain textbooks or held to a more restricting curriculum rather than arouse community

Wesley McCune of Group Research regul the "formalization of anti-busing and did books issues with George Wallace hovers over the entire thing" as "quite significant"

Among the participants: Wallace consultate Eli Howell; Dr. Max Rafferty, former Super ntendent of Public Instruction in California the Boston anti-busing group ROAR (Restort Our Allenated Rights); and some of the less book protestors from Kanawha County.

Says William Haubner of the NEA Washington, D.C.: "There is increasing activity on the part of right-wing organizations which we readily identify as the John Birds." Society. They do have an influence on education and we think it is a bad influence."

Mr. Haubner, who also chaired a three de hearing on the controversial question school testbooks in Kanawha County, said is the county of to current right-wing tactics, which he called distortion." lying, and resorting to fairlice

One instance he cited was reference explicit sexual material which the NEA and was never in the curriculum. The result according to Mr. Haubner, is that mayner parents immediate overreact and say: "We can't have that."

But John McManus, Birch Society Public relations director at its beadquarters Belmont, Mass., says that when the society attacks, it is not without fusification.

Referring to the West Virginia case, Molfanus said various texts were "actual! laced with obscenities, and blamber hatred of white people, and inducement experiment with nercotics, downgrading riotism and the glorification of immora

By David T. Cook Business-financial correspondent of The Christian Science Monitor

A campaign has begun to clean up the lyrics of popular songs that glorify childbearing outside a formal family setting to a largely teen-age audience

More responsible rock record lyrics could play a part in solving the rapidly rising number of unmarried teen-age mothers, some population experts say. The Population Institute, a New York City-based organization supplying information on population matters, recently started a threeyear project to "raise the consciousness of the record industry," says Norman Fleishman, West Coast director of the institute. The institute recently began meeting with performers and recording industry executives to "encourage them to think about what they are saying" to an impressionable audience, Mr. Fleishman says. The Population Institute admits that it has the sharp increase in the number of U.S. teenagers having pregnancies outside wedlock.

GREAT BARGAINS

But population and food supply expert Lester Brown notes that the "generalized media phenomenon" of glorifying irrespon-sible childbearing has a definite, if imprecisely measurable, impact on population

Less immoral records are not the whole answer to the problem of rising teen-age births outside marriage, cautions Robin Elliott, information director for the Planned Parenthood Faderation of America.

"Major causes" of the rising rate of youthful unmarried mothers include a lack of available contraceptive services and a lack of educational programs, Mr. Elliott says. A less welldefined but recognized cause of the illegiti-macy problem is "motivational factors," he says, where media messages have some impact. But these factors are the "least understood" casual factors behind teen-age pregnancy, Mr. Elliott cautions.

The Population Institute cites a variety of recent records that by dint of repeated play on

FATTIS

HILL FISHERIES

DUNKELD STORES

and.

popular radio stations could have substantial effect on the way young people view childbearing outside wedlock. Officials of the Population Institute recently facetiously suggested that an "award" be given to the Paul Anka song, "Having My

According to Mr. Fleishman, "That song encouraged hundreds and hundreds of thousands of young girls" to consider childbearing outside marriage. A more recent Anka song, "I Don't Like To Sleep Alone," is another tune not high on the Population Institute's charts. Whatever the precise impact of particular songs, there is no doubt that the number of unwed teen-age mothers is growing rapidly in the United States. In 1973 (the latest year for which figures are available), 339 of every 1,000 teen-age mothers were unmarried. The comparable figure for older women is 76 unmar-ried mothers per 1,000 births.

Illegitimate teen-age births among teen-agers have increased 50 percent between 1963 and 1973 while the rate among nonteens dropped 30 percent, according to Dr. Arthur Campbell of the National Institutes of Health.

ALWAYS AT YOUR SERVICE! Greatermans

JOHANNESBURG ROSEBANK PRETORIA SPRINGS PORT ELIZABETH GLAREMONY (CAPE) PAROW (CAPE)

Join the clever pirls...

shoe atores throughout South Africa

JOHN WEINBERG

President St., Germiston - 51-6966

Everything for the Builder, Plumber and Painter

KEEP IN STEP

with Autumn Fashion from

ROSEBANK SHOE STORE

THE FAMILY SHOE STORE

Antrim Court, 8 Tyrwhitt Avenue, Lower Rosebank, Tel. 42-1775

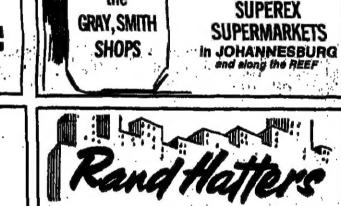

"The Greatest Name in Hardwar

Stockists of manne

brother

PARTHENON

for Men's Clothes since 1899

Commissioner and Loveday Sts. Johannesburg, South Africa

Rutherford Moulding Company (Pty.) Ltd.

WOOD MACHINING - MOULDINGS - BEADS - PICTURE FRAME MOULDINGS -ARTISTS STRETCHERS

A. Norminton (Proprietor)

LOINERY MACHINED TO DEDER P.O. Box 28253,

Bond & Mansor

(PTV. LTD.) Printers

The House of

Personalized Service

TEL 836-8007/8 P.O. Box 82662 BOUTHDALE 2135 TVL.

53 JABPER ROAD

JOHANNESBURG

Work: 134 Side Road,

HERMERS OF ROSEBANK

welcomes you for your Gents Outlitting at their NEW Branch "The FIRS" Oxford Road, Rosebank Phone 42-9535. And for Gente & Juvenile clothing at their Lower Rosebank Branch cor. Keyes & Tyrwhitt Avenues, Phone 47-3391:

★ Hanoi ponders the best way to take Saigon

From page 1

On the other hand, Western logic would suggest certain advantages for the North Vietnamese in opting for the political route to win control of Saigon. Such a route would probably: (1) be more acceptable to North Vietnam's major allies; (2) look better in the international arena; (3) make things easier in the internal politics of North Vietnam; and (4) lessen the difficulty of getting things back to normal in Salgon if the struggle ended in North Vietnam's favor.

Western logic, however, does not necessarily operate in North Vietnam. Yet If the North-Vietnamese should choose the political rather than the military road, they have a much broader spectrum of possible tactics. In any case, President Thieu blocks their path for the moment. Last month's bungled strategic withdrawal seemed for a while to be about to precipitate his downfall. But he is still there and swore in a new Cabinet Monday under a new Prime Minister, Nguyen Ba Can. Mr. Thieu described it as "not a Cabinet of surrender to the Communists."

Provided the military situation now holds, President Thieu is probably safe as long as he continues to enjoy the support of the military directorate which first installed him (in tandem with Air Vice-Morshal Nguyen Cao Ky) in 1965 to end the instability of governments in the wake of the assassination two years earlier of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Personal incompatability makes cooperation between Marshal Ky and President Thleu impossible today, but once they seemed a good team. Marshal Ky was and is (in Vietnamese eyes) the charismatic patriot but poor administrator, President Thieu the good administrator and manager without charisma.

Marshal Ky stepped forward offering his charisma last month when President Thieu's strategic withdrawal became a rout. But now that Mr. Thieu has survived the rout the military directorate has apparently decided that what is needed is still a manager.

Soviet Union to start making chewing gum

Soviet schoolboys pestering Western tourists for chewing gum may soon be a thing of the past — the Soviet Union is to start making

According to a recent issue of Pravda, proposal to begin the domestic production of chewing gum has been approved at all the

*Israel worried and irked by U.S.

The fact that Mr. Allon has publicly said he was not taking any new proposals with him to Washington prompted the Likud's Yitzhak Shamir to declare in parliament that this will only inflame U.S.-Israeli relations still further. Mr. Shamir described Mr. Allon's trip as untimely, damaging, and fraught with dan-

The National Religious Party daily Hatzofeh advised the foreign minister to cancel his light to the U.S.

Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin has been trying to hush the outcries against his government's handling of the Israeli-American relationship, maintaining that disagreements have cropped up between the two countries from time to time but that the basic U.S. commitment to Israel is unchanged.

President Ford, Israelis say, has not made Mr. Rabin's task any easier. He first rubbed the Israelis the wrong way when he sent a stern note to Mr. Rabin warning against the consequences of the collapse of Dr. Kissinger's mediation effort. Then he omitted the traditional reference to American dedication to the survival of Israel in the Middle East portion of his address to Congress last week.

clear-cut disagreement about the Arab states' of Egypt. The Israeli leadership suspects that both Egypt and Syria have been using avowed interest in peace as a means with which to extract sizable Israeli troop withdrawals as a result of which they would eventually be in a superior military position.

An intriguing new dimension has been added to Israel's diplomatic situation with reports of the recent meetings in Jerusalem between Mr. Rabin and Mr. Allon and several Soviet emissaries.

Cynics consider this a not-so-subtle maneuver meant to hint that Israel could look elsewhere for foreign backing in case the U.S. were to switch to a pro-Arab stance.

But the consensus is that the Soviets are not making any serious offers yet and that the U.S. will find its Arab friends too unstable for partnerships of the kind it has had with Israel.

High-speed IBM printer

International Business Machines Corporation says it has developed a new high-speed printer which it will begin shipping to customers in the third quarter of 1976.

The new 3800 system will print on plain At the root of the American-Israeli rift is a paper at speeds up to 13,360 lines per minute. about six times faster than IBM's fastest long-range intentions — and especially those printer now on the market, the company said.

Aus Liebe zur Musik

MUSIK HUG Das grösste Musikhaus

der Schwiez

Tel. (071) 22 43 53

7eler

SANITÄR AG.

Gas & Wasser

Spenglerel

Metallbau

BUCHENTALSTRASSE 27

Tel. 25 25 22

BILDWEIHERSTRASSE 9.

Tel. 31 31 81

Marktgasse / Spitalgasse

Neugasse 5, Bezirksgebäude

Footwear

LOW

SCHUHHAUS

MODISCHE

PELZNEUHEITEN

GROSSER AUSWAHL

ST. GALLEN

Spisergasse 8

Tel. (071) 22 36 60

Ihr Fachgeschäft für

Schreibwaren

Bürobedarf

Schreibmaschinen

Geschenkartikel

LÖW PROTHOS LÖW BOUTIQUE

Metzgerei RIETMANN

Engelgasse 13 das ältesle Fachgeschäft fancy

eather

goods

romme

leder

DIE FREIBURGER

Agentur St. Gallen C. ROTH

Bahnhofstrasse 7. Tel. (071) 22 55 88 ALLE VERSICHERUNGEN

Spezialschuhhaus

Bequem-Schuhe

Fussbettsandaletten

E. Rütti

FUSSHILFE

Ketherinengasse 10

St. Gallen

Tel. 24 77 25

Watches Gold and Silverware

Goldschmiede

Café-Restaurant

Studio

Mittag- und Abendessen preiswerte Tellermenus

Bekannt für Torten,

Patisserie- und Glacéspezialitäten aus

eigener Konditorei

Hans Steiner

Torstrasse 20 Tel. 24 85 55

Multergasse 45

Grocerie z. Rebstock

Baumgartner

& Co. AG.

St. Gallen Multergasse 6

Interior

Decoration

Pine Parniture

for Your Home

STUDACH

inh W. Stöcklin

SPISERGASSE 19

Mode auf 3 Etagen für Damen, Herren & Kinder mode Multergasse baumwollbaum Tol. 22 63 74

Fehr'sche Buchhandlung AG.

9001 St. Gallen

ROSEHILL INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

CH-9000 St. Gall, Switzerland

Boarding School for boys and girls, Healthy mountained (2,500 ft). Excellent for sports. Modern educational method Official Center for American College Futrame Examination and British General Certificate of Islination, Courses in French, German and English as a Foreign Linguage with official diplomas. Commercial course. Swiss Section comprising Academic and Commercial Schools, House system. Prospectus from the Dean of Admissions.

St. Gallen

BAKER CONFECTIONER TEA ROOM

BECK

Multergasse 18 Tel. 22 18 05

KOLONIAL WAREN JEAN BENZ

> zur Nachtigali Spisergasse 9 Tel. 22 40 74

> > Grocerie

Multergasse 20

Fine Watches and Jewelry

Gimmi

Stationery for Personal and Business Use Fountain Pens

Multergasse 7

ERNST HERZIG dipl. Bücherexperte

Wordstrassa 728 9410 Helden Tel. 071/ 91 31 41

Treuhandmandate Expertisen . Steuerberatung

Millinery

Holenstein

Damenhüte Brautschleier und Krönli

Poststr. 25 neben Walkalla

NEW YORK ab Fr. 895. -

Multishop

Sonderflüge ab Zürich

(Buchung:85 Tage vor

LATZEL

Herrenmoden

Tel. 22 85 82 Tel. 23 22 33

St. Gallen Tel. 071/22 44 25

Veumarkt — Papeterie

3 GOOD SHOES Offsetdruck Endlosdruck

Buchdruck

Telefon 071 22 22 12

9001 St.Gallen

Davidstr. 45

Sturzenegger St. Gallen St. Leonhardstrasse 12

Blusen -St. Gallische Damenwäsche CREDITANSTALT.

Taschentücher CREDIT ST. GALLOIS Kinderartikei MARKTPLATZ 1

Tischwäsche MORTGAGES

COMMERCIAL LOANS INVESTMENTS FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Corsets—Lingerie Fine Neugasse 34, Wathalla St. Gallen Tel. 22 34 58 22 34 55 Weitere Beldonaspezialgeschäfte In: Aspau Astona, Baden, Basel, Bellinzbna, Bern, Biel, La Chaux de Fonds, Chui, Davos Platz, Genève, Horgen, Kreuzlingen, Lausanne, Locarno, Lu gaño, Luzern, Olten Heuchâtel, Slon, Solothorn, St.: Moritz, Thun, Wil. Yverdon, Zug, Zürich, has a wide choice of china and all kinds of household wares A huge selection o ironware and everything winter sports you'll find at Fehr Control of the second s Schube. Shoes

GROB

Spinergasse 22 St. Gallen Tel. 22 11 57 Shoe House: Gossau Flawil, Herisau

Oberuzwil, Rorschach, Heiden

HEROLD Touch

Tel. 222 777

Teufenerstrasse

Alpetein drogerie parfumerie

Ekkähard Hollmahn 9000 St. Gallen, Neugasse 12

Technische Artikel Krauter Karzen, etc.

LICHTSIGNALE

Elektrotechnische über dem Anlagen: Durchschnitt LICHT . KRAFT TELEFON und

ilgenotrasse 🏕 Neugasse 1/3 TEL (071) 27 12 12

Die Konditorei am Marktplatz mit ihren bekannter

Spezialitäten.

SCHUBIGER Grösstes Schuh-Spezialgeschäft

SCHUBIGER

Tel, 0040 Rappersuli (055) 2 17.50 6730 Uzniech (055) 5 12 67

In weiter Umgebung

führende Weltmarken

Bally- Schuhe u.a.

BLUMENHAUS

St. Gallen . . . Marktolatz 4 Tel. 071/22 36 35

FLOWERS

Multergasse 10 Modestoffe, Mercerie Escharpen, Kravatten Handschuhe

Pringle Golfers and Sets Ready-Made Dresses

ANTIQUITATEN

GALERIE WIDMER

KUPFERSTICHE KUNSTGEWERBE RAHMEN

Far East

South Korean strongman hangs leftists

Park crushes dissent undaunted by Hanoi triumphs

By Geoffrey Godsell Overseas news editor of The Christian Science Monitor

President Park of South Korea has reacted with characteristic toughness to the shock waves around the perimeter of east and southeast Asia from the latest Communist successes in Vietnam.

Some other Asian leaders may tend to trim their sails to the latest turn of events - by being more accommodating toward China or North Vietnam, for example, But this was never President Park's way.

ground leftists convicted on charges of having plotted to overthrow the government a year ago. The executions took place as soon as the Supreme Court had upheld the capital sentences handed down by a court-martial.

Also this week, President Park also used an emergency decree to close Korea University one of the country's three largest — after two days of anti-government demonstrations by students there. Mr. Park sent troops to the campus after the faculty had refused to suspend classes as long as the demonstrations

By John Burns Special to The Christian Science Monitor © 1975 Toronto Globe and Mail

The passing of the veteran former President of the Chinese People's Republic, Tung Pi-wu, earlier this month seemed to have a special poignancy for the ordinary people of China, perhaps because of the reminder it gave them that the men who towered over the nation's first quarter century of socialism may all soon be gone, to be replaced by relatively unknown figures from the second generation of party

Nineteen months ago the Communist Party made provision for a collective succession to Chairman Mao by naming five vice-chairmen, with Chou En-lai first among equals. But the arrangement has fellen into disuse with the iliness of three of them, Mr. Chou, Defense Minister Yeh Chien-ying, and former security boss Kang Sheng, and the downgrading of a fourth, the former political boss of the Army, LiTen-sheng.

Mr. Li's fall from the position was con-firmed by the official list of the funeral committee for Tung Pi-wu, which included all 25 surviving members of the Politburo, Mr. Li was included on the list but well down among the Politburo members, a demotion that may have been in effect since he was transferred from his Peking post to head the Army's northeast region in a general shift of military commanders in December, 1973.

With the formal arrangement for a collective succession overtaken by illness, the

Who will follow Mao, Chou?

Chairman Mao and Mr. Chou pass from the scene is more than ever one of uncertainty. Effective power in the short run seems likely to rest with a group centered on Vice-Premier Teng Halao-ping, a veteran adminis-trator who has been deputizing for Mr. Chou, and the younger, more intellectual Chang Chun-chiao, a former newspaperman who came to prominence during the 1968-89 Cultu-

Mr. Chang, a slightly built, bespectacled figure, has come increasingly into public view since he was named a vice-premier in January. Last week a major ideological article appeared under his name in the People's Daily, one of only two pieces that party leaders have signed since the Cultural Revolution. Mr. Chang also acted as host for the visiting Tunisian Prime Minister.

Although Mr. Chang appears to have moved closer to the ideological center since his days as a prime mover of the Cultural Revolution in shanghal, he still has close ties to radical elements in the party hierarchy identified with Chairman Mao's wife, Chiang Ching, and the man who is rumored to be the Chairman's son-in-law, the ideologue, Yao Wen-yuan. With Mr. Teng closely associated with the pragmatic Mr. Chou and the older echelon of iders, the Teng-Chang tandem is seen by many observers as an arrangement that allows differing viewpoints within the party to be brokered while avoiding a recurrence of the schisms that have proven destructive in

Shang dynasty site unearthed

Special to The Christian Science Monitor 1975 Toronto Globe and Mail

A major new archaeological find showing that Chinese civilization had spread south of the Yangize River more than 3,000 years ago has been announced by the official Hsinhua News Agency, which said the find also gave important new clues to the origins of the Chinese written language.

A year of excavations in the village of Wucheng in Klangsi Province has uncovered a Apparently production techniques were as bronze and pottery relics found at the site grayish-white clay," fired at a high temperahave shown them to be products of the same ture. The numerous stone molds found at the civilization that sprang up along the banks of site, including some for casting bronze arthe Yellow River in the central plain of the rowheads and axes, showed that bronze crafts-in addition to establishing that the Shang level," it said. Dynasty had spread farther south than pre- The Wucheng finds are the latest in a series potmarks in a limited area of excavation is a chow (wither north, 32 Chou Dynasty tombs on noteworthy point which indicates the wide use the outskirts of Peking, and two additional groups on pottery pieces, were similar to those found on oracle bones unearthed préviously in Anyang, site of a Shang Dynasty settlement in the Yellow River basin, the agency asserted... However, some of them were more akin to hieroglyphs, an even more primitive form of

The groupings — one jar had 12 characters around the shoulder and two bowls seven each on their undersides — were rare in ancient pottery, the agency noted. It said that the characters deciphered so far mainly record production and life at the time.

settlement of the Shang Dynasty (16th to 11th advanced as they were farther north, nearer to the house and the dynasty free agency said to the dynasty. The agency said examination of the pottery fragments showed it noted that studies of the large hoard of them to be made "from a fine solid bisque of manship had also "attained a fairly high viously thought, the relics bore more than 60 of important discoveries announced in recent characters and potmarks indicating that a months. These include the foundations of a written language was in widespread use at the time; the agency added.

3,409-year-old Shang Dynasty palace near the modern tricity of Wuhan on the Yangtze, the remains of another Shang city near Chengof such a written language at the time and reveals the inception of the Chinese written language before the Shang Dynasty," it said. The characters, many of them carved in noblewoman was found three years ago.

day between students at three private universities and the police.

The eight leftists hanged Wednesday were said to be members of the People's Revolutionary Party, described by the government as an underground "anti-state organization designed by the North Korean Communists to overthrow the Republic of Korea by violence and establish a Communist regime in the

None of the men executed was well known, and none of them was either a student or a clergyman. Students and clergymen have been in the forefront of open opposition to Mr. Park over the past couple of years, and to have laid a hand on any of them now might have been too provocative a move for opinion at home or abroad. Yet there is little doubt that Mr. Park saw the executions as a warning.

The President has been increasingly sensitive about criticism and opposition ever since U.S. troops withdrew from Vietnam - where Mr. Park is known to wonder how much with the times - or good for South Korea.

Some of Seoul's other institutions of learn- longer the U.S. will want to keep them there. ing have voluntarily suspended classes. But this did not prevent continued classes Thurs-mitment to his country, Mr. Park is more resolved than ever to crush any dissent which. as he sees it, could provide an opening for North Korea to exploit After an assassination attempt on himself last August - in which his popular wife was killed - Mr. Park did loosen up for a while. He also made conciliatory gestures at the time of the February referendum on his policies endorsed by 80 percent of those voting, according to official records. But this has not kept quiet a growing segment of articulate urban political opinion. Throughout the winter, Mr. Park has been locked in battle with Seoul's most prestigious newspaper, Dong-A Ilbo, which refuses to be cowed and is getting a remarkable measure of support from its

In all this, Mr. Park sees at this moment of renewed uncertainty in Asia the hand of or openings for the North Korean Communists. But his critics at home tend rather to feel they South Koreans had fought, too. There are, of are resisting an excessively authoritarian and course, U.S. troops still in South Korea. But unconstitutional strongman no longer in step

CLASSIFIED *ADS

ANTIQUES Wanted

ANTIQUES, FURNITURE, BRIC-ABRAC. M. J. Nicholson is keen to offer the right price for good furniture, paintings, prints and brice-brac.
Also willing purchaser of whole eslates, collections or part thereof.
Please write 38 Penn Road, London,
N.7 or telephone 01-507 4810,

Carpets

L. 8. POWTER &
Walthametow, Lonk
Walthametow, Lonk
Walthametow, Lonk
Walthametow, Lonk
Ontoff the right price for good furniture, paintings, prints and brice-brac.
Also willing purchaser of whole eslates, collections or part thereof.
N.7 or telephone 01-507 4810,

Carpets

L. 8. POWTER &
Walthametow, Lonk
Ontoff details, Leisure Drinks Ltd,
Also-non-Trent, Derby, Tel; 0332.
Offices to let offices t

WETTON CLEANING SERVICES.

HOUSE CONVERSION IN OUTSKIRTS of lovely Haslemers on bus route to station. 2 flats contain 2 rooms, bathroom 8 kitchen. Phone pref. evenings Haslemere (0428) 3480.

BEXHILL-ON-SEA Two roomed ground floor flat. Kitchen, bathroom, and infant schools. Wall select warming planted accommodation. 3 beds. Terms from 18,75-23 50 pounds par double glazing. Kitchen evenings Haslemere (0428) 3480.

BEXHILL-ON-SEA Two roomed ground floor flat. Kitchen, bathroom, and infant schools. Wall select warming planted accommodation. 3 beds. Terms from 18,75-23 50 pounds par double glazing. Kitchen overfootking with parcing surround and double glazing. Kitchen overfootking will shocked garden with held. Full 18,839 pounds Fraehold. Tel. Wall.

FIRST ADVERTISERS

don 89/3X 7JH. HOTEL. Bournemouth. Family run & unit cansed. Near Lowin centre & unit cansed examination. Substance & unit cansed examination. Substance & unit cansed & un

L. 8. POWTER & CO., 80 Hoe St., Walthamstow, London, E.17, Tel: 01-520 3360 All types of insurance offected Agents for Answer Church

PRACTITIONER'S OFFICE TIME

Please write 38 Penn Road, London, N.7 or telephone 01-607 4810,

Carpets

Genuine 8. African Handmade Karakul, Carpets, natural aclours any else, write 1908. Box 48138, Roceevelt Park, Johannes, Burg 2129 8. Airlos.

DAVID MURE & CO., LTD., 21-23 Chilworth Street, Paddington, W. 51638. Telephone 01-723 8217/8. Floor covering specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing sections. Confract carpet specialists and consultants. Extensive carpet library and testing specialists and consultants. Exten

WETTON CLEANING SERVICES, lots overall state of the second state o

DORIS PUSEY High-class dreasmak homes to share small hotels and pensions including flagger dreasmak. Without LACY NEAR HEATH with the property of the property ST. ANNE'S MANAGEMENT selection of the state of selection and Employing the Agency, 43. ABLE family house by Trevose golf from 4.95 pounds. Doubles from 7.95 philoge 48134/5/8. Covers all grades views, surfing. Spoked July-August lax. All rooms with tribune and staff throughout the U.K.

22. Tel. evenings 01-235 7105 or write CSM GR, 4 Grosvenor PL, London BWIX 7.JH.

HOUSE CONVERSION IN OUT- TOLLEGE for the state of the staff of lovely Hashed the CSM GR, 4 Grosvenor PL, London BWIX 7.JH.

ARNCOTT MALE ARROUTT MALE ARRO

CITY SHOPPING GUIDE

PIETERMARITZBURG

republic of south africa

cape province CAPE TOWN EDINA PRESS

(Pty.) Ltd. LETTERPRESS LITHOGRAPHY

Telephone 45.4245

CAPE TOWN

CAPE TOWN

Timoney's LONG ST. GARAGE Ltd.

(Estab. 45 Years)

Petrol-Olls Workshops—Storage Used Car Dealers

Phone 2-2107

1 Orange Street CAPE TOWN

P.O. Box 2102

I.D. BOOKSELLERS

The international Bookshop with a wide selection of Books and Prints GENEVA HOUSE 26 PARLIAMENT STREET CAPE TOWN Telephone 43.2508

CAPE TOWN

C.N.A. for the largest selection of

STATIONERY BOOKS • TOYS GIFTS • RECORDS MAGAZINES Branches throughout the Republic of South Africa

> MONITOR READERS RESPOND

natal

PIETERMARITZBURG

Grey's

SERVICE STATION

Motor Repairs And Service

Guaranteed Used Cars

269 COMMERCIAL ROAD

PLETERMARITZBURG

Phone 41581/2

Seek Out Monitor Advertisers

Agents for Cyma Watches

51-2258

6 Library St., Germiston

More than just CLEANING... Professional Dry Cleaning SPEE DEE

GERMISTON

CLEANERS CENTRE

We specialize in SUBDE CLEANING (Car, President & Oostbuizen Sts.) Géraliston Phone: 51-1513

Cowan's Radio Dotman (PTY.) LTD. Pretorius

For all your Radio and Electrical Studio of Requirements. Photography Repairs a specialty.

Centenary Building 182 Longmarket Street Phone 25061 Pletermerlizburg Telephone: 3-6964

engiand

LONDON S.E. Blackheath Village

Vanity

Fayre

Shoes and

Leather Accessories

Gowns and Accessories

TEL. 01-852-3791

Jollys

OF BATH

Fashions - Accessories

Menswear

Fabrics & Furniture

make a visit to JOLLYS PRACOCK

RESTAURANT

MILSOM ST., BATH

For Furnishings

Phone

FOUR THOUSAND

BEXHILL ON SEA

transvaal british Isles GERMISTON

SAYERS LINEN KIST

for Your TROUSSEAU and BABY WEAR

8A PRESIDENT ARCADE (Opp. Police Station) TEL.: 51-1529

Transvaal Graphite Co.

Graphite and Plumbage Products for Youndry use Separated Tale Powder for Insecticides

Head Office and Factory Refinery Road Germiston Ext. 4 Phone 51,9567

W. A. Wilde

Germiston's

hone: 51-3991

ERMISTON

Most Exclusive Shoe Store

The Centre-President Street (Opposite City Hall) SHOES OF QUALITY For every member of the family

Longley & Co. ST. LEONARDS RD. D. Carrington

and Co. WATCHMAKERS Insurances AND JEWELLERS Effected the Leading Companies Gifts for all occasions Repairs a Speciality

and at Lloyds WILLIAM C. SHIPMAN ASSOCIATED INSURANCE BROKERS

> 59, PARK STREET PHONE BRISTOL 292324

MONITOR READERS BUY monitoradvertised brands from monitoradvertised stores

Japan's voters shun change, opt for incumbents

By Eduardo Lachica Special to
The Christian Science Monitor

Japan's local elections were fought to a standoff last week with the conservatives keeping the countryside and the reformist parties holding on to their urban strongholds in Tokyo and Osaka.

But the ruling conservative Liberal Democratic Party (LDP) appeared the happier over the results, claiming that its public support was clearly on the upswing. Prime Minister Takeo Miki and other LDP leaders campaigned vigorously to prevent further advances by the progressive camp.

The elections were contested quietly in contrast with the sponding spree for the 1974 upper house elections that contributed to the downfall of former Prime Minister Kakuet

All the incumbents won, indicating that Japanese voters shied away from a radical change in local governments. This conservative mood also was counted as an LDP asset since it portended a grass-roots desire not to rock the boat while Japan still was trying to recover from an economic recession.

The four opposition parties had few successes to show for their patchwork alliance The Socialist-Komeito-Democratic Socialist team-up did badly in most places and the Communists were out of running everywhere

Tokyo Gov. Ryokichi Minobe, backed by three of the opposition parties, was voted to a third term but his patented landslide victories were a thing of the past. His popularity was diminished by his perplexing changes of mind about whether to run and by LDP charges that local administrations had run up huge deficits

Osaka with only Communist Party support, progressive camp.

base of Yokosuka is located. But the LDP staved off a total Socialist-Communist encirclement of the industrial beartland by winning a key contest in Chiba, the fastest-growing prefecture in Japan. The LDP candidate, former Vice-Gov. Kiichi Kawakami, rolled back a combined opposition effort to give the Miki government its biggest

CITY SHOPPING GUIDE

STOCKPORT

THE HOUSE OF FINE

FURNITURE PRIVATE FIRM

(061) 480-4227

STRANGE

TUNBRIDGE WELLS

WITH THE PERSONAL SERVICE 5/6/7 The Square Hyde (061) 488-2849 1/11 Middle Hiligate Stockport

TELEPHONE

WORTHING (0903) 35701

Monitor advertisers value your appreciation

ELECTRICAL LTD. 57 MOUNT PLEASANT For All Your Electrical Requirement Lighting, Healing Specialists, etc. scotland

HDRUBAK Phone Tunbridge Wells 27079 Response to an ad

Jenners of means another ad Edinburgh Where quality and

Jordan and style come first . . . Cook Ltd. for you, your children (WESTFIELD) LTD. or your home Specialists in FLORAL ARTISTRY LIVERPOOL ROAD

WORTHING

Telephone (0903) 32885

Jenners Lid., Princes St. Edinburgh

except in Osaka and Kyoto.

under "progressive" rule, Gov. Ryoichi Kuroda was re-elected in keeping Japan's second largest city in the Another former academic with opposition backing, Kazuji Nagasu, acored a close victory in Kanagawa Prefecture, where the U.S. Navy

GLASCOW

IRNITURE

europe

switzerland

CARPETS

Family Controlled Since 1832

A. Gardner

& Son Ltd.

Handsome

CURTAINS

Home Furnishings

36 Jameica Street, Glesgor

Open Thurs, till 7 P.M. All Day Saturday

scotland

SHAWS Jordan & Cook

> Experts in the Art of House Furnishing | Fu

35/39 SOUTH ST. WORTHING, SUSSEX

May We Quote You for REMOVAL and STORAGE?

Alle Carrosserie Reparaturen und Neuanfertigungen fachmännisch

prompt, preiswert CARROSSERIE

WENGER Mischwiterstr. 15 (beim Brausehad) Tel. 39 95 90

Mingentaistr. 77 (Filiale Kielebasel) Tel. 32 84 83

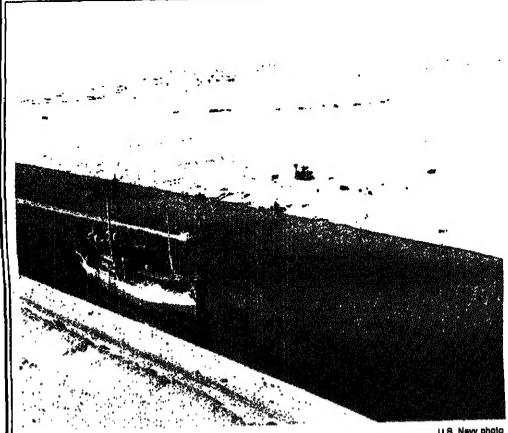

SCHUHHAUS Gräb

Haus Der Grossen Pormenwal Zurich 1, Oberdorfstr. 27 beim Grossmilnster

Helmhaus oder Bellevue SHOES

Tramhaltestelle

U.S. Navy helicopter assists in international effort to clear mines . . .

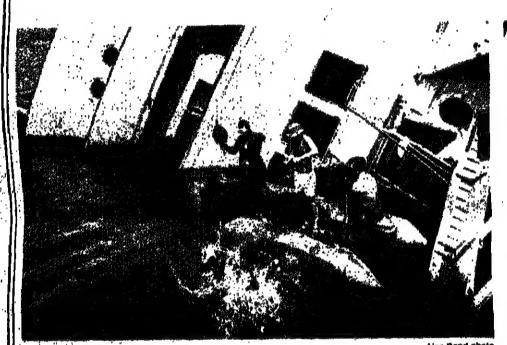

... from war-torn marvel of Ferdinand de Lesseps . . .

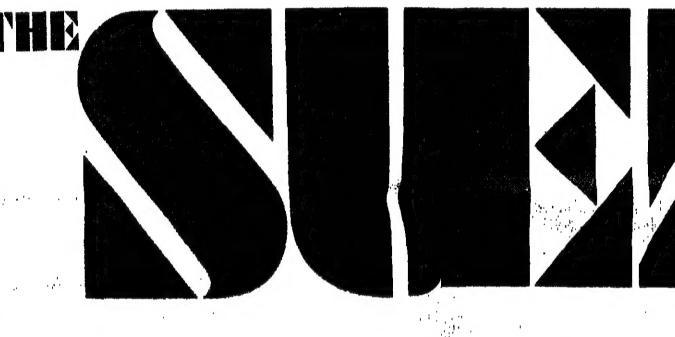

... , that first opened amid pomp and ceremony in 1869

Frogmen from Britain and France also helped

Royal Navy divers raised wrecks

CANAL

Soon the last ships trapped since 1967 will be removed

The mines are nearly all removed, the wrecks cleared. Egypt's 100-mile bypass around Africa will reopen this June. The big question is who will use the Egypt's Suez Canal Authority is forcing the pace of its work to reopen the waterway that connects the Mediterranean to the Indian Ocean on June 5, the date set by President Anwar al-Sadat.

Timesh about midway down the canal's 100-mile length.

From here, he phones minute-to-minute directives and watches operations—from repair of the canal authority's war-shattered installations to the recruitment and training needed to supply pilots and others for the staff of 11,500 persons who will run the canal.

"I knew the opening would be June 5 only four days before President Sadat announced it March 29," Mr. Mashhour recalls, "But, in fact, we were making plans for an opening in June anyhow and hoping that the political decision would be taken to enable us to carry them out. We are very happy and content to be going ahead."

Waterway now. In Cairo's Arabic-language version of a Time magazine interview published last week, President Sadat is quoted as reiterating that Egypt would use its rights we apped since the 1967 war will be released. Three Constantinople Convention of 1888 to bar Israel will proceed north under their own power. The from the canal as long as a state of war continued will be towed north."

Egypt and Israel. On Israel-bound cargoes, the Arabic text quite the U.S. freighter "Observer," the only vessel Sadat as saying: "Even if they the Israelis of Ismailia, unloading a cargo of eight-year-old their cargo be carried on ships flying other tag. "The other 14 ships are anchored in the Little and their lages and full right to stop this." The Control Lakes, south of here. The skeleton maintellanguage Time magazine released in the United Srews aboard them are soon to be replaced by the housever, and the stage of the cargo of eight-year-old them are soon to be replaced by the however, quoted Mr. Sadat as saying he was my crews that will take them out.

Mr. Mashhour said cargo checks would be "gs;" Mr. Mashhour said. "For the first week after "by the proper military authorities," but not bing, only ships of 35-foot draught [between 40,000 canal authority. This rould be done "during the ship tons fully loaded] will pass through. Afterward waiting period," which in 1967, before the case said accommodate those of 38-foot draughts [60,000 to was about 10 hours, with stips waiting at the approximation at the said said." navigation begins, we will keep on making allow Israel-bound cargo to pass through. waiting period," which in 1967, before the case was about 10 hours, with ships waiting at the approach dompletion of a first stage of widening and

With the help of British and French mine sweeping operations, larger tankers of up to 150,000 tons canal authority now is running a final check bable to use the canal. The improvement program waterway and its approaches have, in fact, best many cleared of explosives and observables.

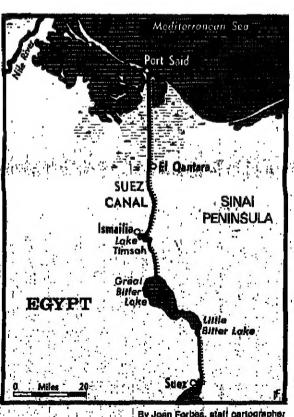

Within six weeks this will be completed. The cross section for the second stage of widening Mashhour. "As soon as the check has been finished."

sumption in the West and because major oil producn smaller, specialized tankers.'

Mr. Mashhour said Egypt stands to gain much more annual revenue than the approximately $230 million it by war on June 5 of that year.
On the basis of studies by a British, a Japanese, a Norwegian, and an Egyptian firm, the canal authority. now is conducting computer runs and will soon recom-mend new toll rates to the Egyptian cabinet, which will make the final decision on tolls.

Mr. Mashhour emphatically denied Egyptian news-paper reports that tolls would be raised 100 percent. "We are keen," he asserts, "to keep the canal very attractive for users who formerly had to send their ships on to the Cape route around Africa. Using the canal is a decision of economic policy. Despite inflation and all that has happened since 1967, we want to make this decision as easy as possible to take.

EDUCATION GUIDE.

colleges and universities -- france

SUMMER COLLEGE IN FRANCE AIX-EN-PROVENCE, AVIGNON

(Institute for American Universities, Chartered by the Regents of the University of the State of New York)

The Institute offers 4 outstanding programs in southern France from late june to mid August; FRENCH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE (in French), in Aviguou, specializing in French Grammar, Composition, Conversation and Phonetics. Students enjoy the Theater, Festivals in Avignon and Orange. (6 credit hours.) 6 weeks. Tuition, $585, TREASURES OF PROVENCE (in English) in Aix-en-Provence. A four-week course in Civiliza-tion, Arts, and History of Meridianal France. (4 credit bours.) 4 weeks. Tultion, $485.

ART IN PROVENCE (a Pine Arts workshop in English), in Arignon, painting with European and American masters combining the best modern elements in European and American art. Subjects include still lifes and models in the region painted by Cézanne and Van Gogh, (6 credit nours.) 6 weeks, Tuition, $585.

EUROPEAN CIVILIZATION AND POLITICS (in English), in Aix-ns-Processos. A course in troducing American students to contemporary European Society and Politics, Art History and Education—with field trips—providing insights into the social evolution and cultural renaissance of the European community. Recommended for Education specialism. (6 credit hours.) 6 weeks. Taition, $383.

For Surther details write to:

Tel. (91) 26.63.68

The Director, Summer Programs, 27, place de l'Université 13625-Aix-en-Provence

ALSO Canterbury, England: Literary Canterbury

INSTITUTE FOR AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES Chartered by the University of the State of New York

AIX-EN-PROVENCE

Joutharn France

Under the auspices of the Université d'Aix-Marsellie founded 1409

 ACADEMIC YEAR OR SEMESTER. DIRECTED INDEPENDENT STUDIES PROGRAM for French specialists, exclusively

In French at the Faculté des Lettres.

ADVANCED FRENCH for French majors, oourses also at the institut d'Etudes Fran-

EUROPEAN AND MEDITERRANEAN STUDIES for majors in Arts and the Social Sci-

Qualified students earn:

- Transcript, certifying courses and hours taken, with mid-semester and semeste
- Certificate of European Studies
- Certificates or Diploma of the Institut d'Etudes Françaises.

tion and Bulletin write by airmail to:

Tel. (81) 26,69,68

ALSO: British Studies Centre, Canterbury, Kent

CONNAITRE, AIMER ET VIVRE LE FRANÇAIS EN FRANCE institut Universitaire Américain

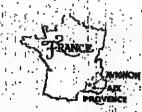

En collaboration avec le Collège Universitaire d'Avignon (Université de Provence)

 Programme Complet de Cours: Langue, Littérature, Phonétique, Sciences Politiques, Histoire, Histoire de l'Art, etc.

acquests (Cardinal ter Sententes (minimum) receives the sententes and the sententes

Logement: dans des familles avignonnaises

Frais d'Erudes: $890 pour un semestre; $1,660 pour l'année. Pour tous reuseignements, derive (par avion) à:

Monsieur le Directeur 27, place de l'Université 13625—Alx-en-Provence France:

Tel. (91) 26.63.68

home study?

Sign up with an advertiser in The Christian Science Monitor

education

Super-efficient library where no people are

By Margaret Thoren Special to The Christian Science Monitor

London What would be the best place for a library - order; books in English, Russia, Speak a little Arabic. an ultra-modern, sophisticated international German and numerous other large lending library? A 60-acre estate in a remote and windswept corner of the Yorkshire moors may seem the most unlikely of unlikely answers. But the little town of Boston Spa, Wetherby, Yorkshire, has been chosen for the headquarters of the British Library Lending Division (BLLD) which has a service unique

The choice was deliberate. The library's remoteness is no disadventage, in fact its mass-production technology is necessarable is a language spoken by more than location is a positive faset, for the BLLD is a mail-order reference library.

Library officials first asked the post office what the best location would be for a mailorder business. Somewhere between Leeds (an important G.P.O. sorting office) and Crewe (the railway terminus) was the an-

As it happened, there was an abandoned munitions factory on 60 acres of government land halfway between York and Leeds, and convenient to Crewe. The library took it over in 1961, moving into the old storage buildings. Then in 1973, it moved into its own specially designed building. Now there are plans for more buildings to accommodate the library's rapid growth.

Just how fast the growth has been shows up n statistics: last year alone, the BLLD received more than two million requests (nearly 10 percent from overseas) for the books and periodicals stored on its 72 miles of shelves. It has taken over about 75 percent of all inter-library lending in Britain and suppiles more or less equal numbers of books and

Its stock includes 225,000,000 wind am very well, books and periodicals; one million deathanks to God. in microfilm; 46,000 different journal thanks to God. over 100 countries with a further in translation service; British Government lications; conference proceedings in a jects and languages; plus current him. American doctoral theses.

miles of shelves runs a monoral anging cradle which is used to imspecial to The Christian Science Monitor books to the dispatch department. Their keep up with demand. supplied to the libraries or institute have registered with the BLLD. The Children cost £15 for 50 and each one entitles the borrow one item or the photocopy of milest purely Arabic words are based on of up to 20 pages.

The BLLD can usually fulfill a wide the base for most words about in around 24 hours, but if the itemismiting: "Kateb" is a writer; "kitab" is a shelves, it will track it down how; "naktubu," we will write; and "kaspecialized library in Britain or, if months," we wrote; "maktaba" is a library, and abroad, often within three days leaved aktab" an office. Once you know the stem such a sleuthing job is rare: neglicial congress at a whole series of words based percent of all requests are filled from some ways Arabic is a simple language:

Although the BLLD now enimsiwas to provide scientific metals to Chess reference material which might will scattered throughout Britais. The site evolution of this idea has made militari reference books and periation and the libraries in the tiniest ownery disport busicst urban town in British and shoul

ARABIC EXPRESSIONS

أ هلا و سرولا You are very welcome Ahlan wasah'len

Essayak?

Kawayess, el hamdulielah.

shewaya bass.

رند کلم عزیی سویه بس

The BLLD building looks and opening reak into Arabic today

Calro

eep up with demand.

'million people in over 20 countries,
Within Britain the service openingading from Morocco on the Atlantic coast prepaid basis using special forms whatrica to the Arabian peninsula in the East.

borrow one item or the photocopy of melost purely Arabic words are based on

Problem No. 6685

verb "to be," so that if a hoy wished to say "I am an American," he would say "Ana Amrikani" — "I American;" and a girl, "Ana Amrikaniyya."

But in most ways, it is a more complicated languago than English, with a vocabulary of great variety. The richness of its sounds and the rolling way it is spoken make Arabic an ideal language for verses and public speeches.

One of the beauties of Arabic is its script: Flowing, graceful, curved, and naturally elegant, it has inspired artists through the centuries to render it in ever more stylized and artistic variations. Arabic has 28 letters but each letter may be written in a number o ways depending on where it comes in a word. And remember, it is written and read from right to left!

Problem No. 6686

By Frederick R. Chevaller

Food for roses and onions

By Christopher Andreae

Austwick, Lancaster We gardeners certainly indulge in some strange activities. At one time I used to carry a shovel and container in the back of the car, so that whenever I happened to pass a particularly promising bit of potential I could scoop it up and carry it home to add to the

I am of course referring to that food of the soil, manure — In this case, horse. Manure to the garden is like oil to an engine.

This is a good time of year, if you are fortunate enough to be able to obtain some, to make a good pile. Dump it near your patch to avoid future carting, Form it as neatly as possible into a heap certainly no shallower than two feet. Don't let it sprawl.

If you leave it like that, occasionally working over it with a fork so as to turn the outside in, by next winter it will be thoroughly rotted, and just the job for spreading over the ground when you dig it ready for the next season's planting.

If you still want to add some manure to the garden this year, it must be well rotted already. The only exception is on ground where you plan to grow potatoes. They are happy on virgin land and don't mind fresh

Other root vegetables, such as carrots. bests, turnips and parenips grow normally on soil manured a year or so ago, or on soil with no manure in it. So reserve your stocks of this valuable substance for beds destined for brassicas, onions, leeks, celery, peas, beans and salad vegetables. Marrows and cour-

End-Game No. 2197

bed, like loshings of matured manure. The range of manures is quite considerable Horse, particularly with plenty of straw in it, is good for helping to break down heavy clay soils. Cow manure is better for lighter soils.

Pig and poultry (very well decomposed) are excellent but not advisable too near the house.

Gardening

"Mushroom manure" - what is left over when a mushroom crop has been exhausted is good. At one time the only easily available manure where I lived was obtainable from the local sewage plant. This was certainly worth having. I found however, that it did two things. First it grew a host of unexpected (though easily disposable) tomato plants; the other was that it tended to go rather "sour" on the surface of the soil. The solution is to dig it in

For indoor plants I heard a $h_{II,III}$ suggestion on the radio the other day. If you happen to keep gold or tropical fish, water your not plants with the state water whr n you clean out the aquarium. How about that for recycling of

In the flower garden, pretty much the same applies as for the vegetable garden. Personally I believe in burying the manure rather than laying it on the surface - whenever this is possible without too much root disturbance. If you are dividing or moving a large clump of some perennial plant, a good dollop under its roots can work wonders. But beware! Never put manure near lupins. They can't stand it.

Roses should ideally have an annual dress-ing of manure. Herbs like a regular feeding. For heathers and conifers, however, pest or leaf mould is a better form of mulch, and for buibs bone-meal is more suitable. It is slower to act, dryer, and doesn't seem to attract bulbeating creatures quite so much. If you grow alpine plants, although it is true that they are mostly pleased with a richer soil than many people recommend, liberal manuring is not very practical. Manure is really for the big

A scarf to add flair

By Phyllis Feldkamp

Karl Lagerfeld, designer for the Paris house of Chice, really let his imagination take over on new ways to wear a scarf with flair. A silk square, folded into a narrow band, was wound around the neck like a choker and fastened with a cluster of Lalique crystal flowers. Again employing the scarf as a piece of jewelry, he tied a matching silk square around the model's wrist.

Other designers are using rolled-up small squares at the neck to fill in open sports shirts or jackets or are folding them into triangles worn in the approved cowboy manner.

Fashion

Overlapped on the diagonal, larger squares make good sashes to slip through belt loops of pants. Fred Astaire could be credited with this idea. The dancer sometimes has worn a necktle or a muffler as a belt.

The wrapped waist — a big trend for apring — can be achieved with a long twill or thin slik scarf. To achieve an obl or cummertund effect start winding at the front, cross over in back and, depending on the thickness of the fabric, either make a knot or tie a bow at

· A number of manufacturers are following the lead of Albert Nipon by including matching three-cornered scarf with each dress. Recession-conscious shoppers find this irresistible as they feel they are getting for they can be worn middy style at the neck or tied on the head. Morty Susaman of Mollie Parnis Boutique adds lace-trimmed matte jersey scaryes to dinner and evening dresses, and these scaryes can serve as shoulder shrugs.

Echo produces a wide variety of shapes and sièes et popular prices, knot, and tie, you'll see why the scarf is yards ahead of every other accessory this year.

EDUCATION GUIDE_

colleges and universities -- british isles

NEW ENGLAND COLLEGE BRITISH CAMPUS ARUNDEL, SUSSEX

ENGLAND fries welcome from vis-students, transfer siu-a and trastemen.

U.S. Liberal Arts B.A. de gree program. Fully accredited. Anglo-American fac-ulty. Residential, rural cam-pus, 1% hours from Landon

Major programs include:

BRITISH STUDIES EUROPEAN STUDIES

WHEN YOU

SELECT A SCHOOL

Let the Monday Educa-tion Page of The Christian Science Monitor be you guide, Choose from one of the many outstanding achools ad vertised on these pages; then let them know you saw shelr advertisement in the Monitor

OXFORD — Summer 19/

WARNBOROLIGH HOUSE, a private British College of Beducation, it offering an instantive outside on the life and four major English writers—

White to play and mate in two (First prize, L'Italia Scacohiatica, 1973.) CHAUCER, SHAKESPEARE, MILTON, and DICKS

The purpose of this course is confold: first, to eashe the study the nujor works of these authors under expert One tutors; second, so familiariae the andent with the biast tators; second, so familiarias the anadent with the interaction of providing field crips so those place with the writer was intimately associated — e.g., Clauser's Control Dickens's London. Lecrures and seminars will be given as in crait cultural sentings — architecture, associe, pointing — and particular crafts of each period — hook-binding, illuminately suriges, aspectry, countage, furniture, because and related spin. Each modest will be given a postello containing plant guider, factionities, and detailed none for each author. The of special peactical value to teachers and students of English state and Mistory.

The course lasts for six weeks and technics a general factor of the Course lasts for six weeks and technics a general factor of the Course lasts for six weeks and technics a general factor of the Course lasts for six weeks and technical factor of the Course lasts for six weeks a period of pulmer of the Course lasts for the course of the Course lasts for the course of the Course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for six weeks and technical for the course lasts for the course last for the course last

Dates: Session A: 2nd June -- 11th July 1975 Session B: 21st July -- 28th Ampel 1975 The Registrat (CMI). Wandstrange House, Orders, Office (Miles). U.S. and Pan American champion Walter lincine $1 for AIR MAIL putage of country.

OXFORD - ENGLAND

Warnberungi House a provide Bestrish Callege of Higher Education and receives from energy students, beautifur students and frecine in Marching in Onland for a somewher, a year, or beautiful a degree. The feen of tencines, is the interval, and the academic programmental with field-trees to places of historical and colored mande. Window, first, Stotland, Window, Sometimes, weeklighter - Strikets Faculty. or further delade plober scho (aschanig $1 to cover les intil pl The Registrar (CSM) WARNBOROUGH

Oxford, OXZ 43A, Regions

rowns frequently takes part in short Swiss vents, particularly those with a good prize ind. One of these was the Fourth Annual erroll M. Capps Memorial Tournament held by 29-28 at the Mechanics' Institute Chess Up in San Francisco.

Browne's Profitable Weekend

Solutions to Problems

6684. 1 Q-K5 threatens 2 Q-K3

6683, R-Kt5

Ninety players vise for the $1,820 prize und in a stx-round Swise. Waiter Browne, with a 5% 1/2 score, was first — and $600 other for it. Second to fifth prizes were trained by V. Pupola, C. Barnes, S. Spencer, nared by V. Pupola, C. Barnes, S. Spenoer, and J. Siliman; they won $143.75 each; Following is Browne's Important win over-tuben Rodriguez, a Philippine master now lying in California. Earlier in the year, in the list California People's Chees Festival, Rodliguez defeated Browne to take first prize.

Learn About Karpov

The Karpov book draws heavily on Soviet sources, as might be expected. It includes 347 games, or about all the games up to the Spassky match that were considered good enough to be printed in Russia.

Karpov's chess career begins in 1965, and the Karpov's chess career begins in 1965, and the Karpov's chess career begins in 1965, and the Karpov's chesses are career begins in 1965, and the Karpov's chesses are career begins in 1966, and the Karpov's chesses are career begins in 1966, and the Karpov's career begins in 1968, and the Karpov's career begins in 1968, and the Karpov's career begins in 1968, and the Karpov's career begins in 1966, and the Karpov's career begins in 1966,

White to play and mate in three (Third prize, Parallele 50, 1948.)

Sicilian Defense

_	TOTAL CARE	20101140
Browne White	Redriguez Black	Browns White	Redrig
1 P-K4	P-QB4	14 Q-K14	. 9-
2 KI-KB3	P-03	16 B-K3	_ 0
3 P-Q4	PxP	16 Kt-K4	KI-K
4 KKP	KI-KB3	17 KIXB	_P;
5 Kt-QB3.	P-QR3	18 8-R6	. P-I
6 B-K2	P-K3	19 KtxKt.	Q
7 0-0	B-K2	20 Q-KB4
8 P-B4	Q-B2		at the H
9 P-QR4	P-QKt3	22 QR-Q	P.
10 B-B3	B-Kt2	23 R-Q8
11 P-K5	PXP	24 Q-Q4	R
12 PxP	KKI-Q2	25 P-Kt3	Q-
13 BxB	QxB	26 PxP '	Resi

"The Games of Anatoly Karpov," by Kevin J. O'Connell and Jimmy Adams, has just been published by Pilman Publishing, 352 pp., $12.95. Mr. O'Connell was co-author of "Bobby Fischer's Chess Games," which appeared in 1972.

Black to play and win (Pantschenko-Kotohlev, Riga, 1973.) where he shared top honors with T. Petroelen and L. Portisch. By sharing first in the Leningrad inter-zonal, in 1973, he qualified for the Candi-dates matches, which he climaxed by defeating V. Korchnol.

The many detailed annotations in this collection leave no doubt that Bobby Fischer, if the match is ever played, will have a fough fight on his hands.

The following exciting game was played in the 38th U.S.S.R. championship semi-final.

W	(hillin	Biapk	While	Black
	1 P-K4	P-Q3	22 P-KKt3	Kt-Kt3
	2 P-Q4	KI-KB3	23 B-K120	h K-Kt3
	3 Kt-QB3	QKI-Q2	.24 Kt-B3	8-Q6
٠.,	4 KKt-K2	P-OKI4	25 Kt-K2	B-K4
)	5 P-K6 .	PXP	26 P-B4	B-Q3
	6 PxP	KtxP :	27 Kt-83	P-83
	7 QxQch	, KXQ	.28 P-QB6	h BxP.
	8 KKP	P-QR3	29 Kt-R4q	h K-Kt4
	9 Kt/5-Q4	B-KI2	30 K-Kt3	R-Q6ch
· ·:	0 B-84	KI-KI3	31 B-B3	- RxBch
. 4	1 0-0-0.	K-B	132 KtxRoh
· 1	2 B-Q2	P-K3	33 KI-R4	B-B7
. 1	3 Kt-QKt3	Kt-Kt5	34 R-QB	KI-K2
. 1	4 B-K	B-Q3	35 R-B2	B-K6
· 1	6 P-KR3	KI-B3	36 BxP	Kt-R4
. 1	8 KI-R5	R-O	37 B-K8	KIXKIP
	7 P-QB4.	K1-85	38 K-B4	Kt-Q4
	B KtxB	KxKt	39 P-R3	Kt-Kt3oh
1	9 K-B2	. B-K4	40 K-Q3	KtxKt
. 2	0 kt;B3	. F. PXR	141, KxB,	Kt-KB4qh
. 2	1 KtxR	R-Q	42 K-Q3.	Resigns

Pirc Defense Surgiovsky Karpov 99 P-KKt3

something for nothing, for a change.

The triangles change the look of the dress

Once you start trying out new ways to wind;

arts/entertainment

Talking with Cloris Leachman

"Are you ready for the entrance?" the familiar voice of Mary Tyler Moore's zany TV friend Phyllis shouls from another room of the Hotel Plaza suite.

Before I can answer, Cloris Leachman glides out, arms gracefully outstretched, highfashion style, modelling a slinky black silk creation with a collar of black ostrich feathers.

"Aren't I too much?" she asks, posing, preening, blowing the feathers from her mouth. Once again, before I can answer that she is too much - she beckons me into the other roum. "I'm so tired that I'm doing all my interviews this afternoon lying down." While her publicist fluffs the pillows resignedly, Miss Leachman stretches out: "I hope this is going to be an intelligent interview," she says with a straight face. "I can't imagine why reporters always call me loony."

I would like to state at the very onset that Miss Leachman isn't loony. She's wily. Wily all the way to the bank. Wily enough to recognize that her zaniness often pays off in publicity which in turn pays off in acting jobs. However, I would also like to state at the onset, that if one is willing to take the trouble to look beyond the loon, one is liable to find a kind, sensitive, intelligent woman constantly transmitting waves of positive energy

Miss Cloris Leachman to has been acting since about 1950 in Broadway theater, television, movies - winning an Oscar for her she is private is because she's just a doll. We role in "The Last Picture Show," an Emmy nomination for her role in "The Migrants" ("As soon as I saw Cleely Tyson's final scene in 'Jame Pittman,' I knew it was all over"). Currently you can see her in "Young Frank-eastein," and of course as Mary Tyler Moore's

Miss Leachman, out of a sense of responsi-bility, tries to talk about that show a few times but is really more interested in talking about. life as seen through the eyes of Cloris Leachman. The mother of five children ranging in age from 9 to 21, married to producer George England, Miss Leachman has just finished the pilot for a new spin-off from "The: Mary Tyler Moore Show:" "Would you believe if is called 'Phyllis'?" she asks.

"You know, Phyllis is 100 percent me but I am Phyllis plus 1000 percent. If it goes as a series this fall, Phyllis will have to change a bit - in the long haul she's got to be more run at life . . . making it work . . . having a palatable because right now a little of her goes ball . . . accepting who I am, I've learned that a long way. We have to make her more normal . whatever I might not like about myself, I've except for certain idiosyncracies, of got to accept or it's like locking up your course, She'll be in San Francisco developing energy vault. For instance — my hands which more along the lines of a vulnerable woman alone in the world, because Lars Lindstrom will be phased out in some way."

jewellery ...

Mary, Cloris Leachman, and Valerie Harper in a shot from 'The Mary Tyler Moore Show

Is Mary Tyler Moore really a "barbie dell"? "I hate that question — and it comes up all the time. Mary is an unusually private person and it's wrong of us to decide that the reason always have to know more than we know - so we make it up. Mary is my friend. . . . And

"Sure I sometimes behave in a silly way — I play it all funny. Like I may be moving in a way that looks like I'm cold and someone will offer me his coat and I'll say no, I'm just singing a song in my head and keeping time to it. I've got a song going on inside of me all the

"I hate labels. Why must everybody be labeled? Marlene Dietrich — 74-year-old grandmother. She's so many other things, too. People label me a nonsmoker. Well, I resent that — why should people who don't smoke have a negative label while people who do are called smokers. I'm a breather, that's all. I'm the norm, not them."

How would Cloris Leachman describe herself. "A pain in the neck . . . having a good don't have long fashionable pails. I've decided not only to accept my funny hands but to appreciate them. They hold things and people, hug children, paint, sculpt, play plano. Who ever decided long nails are good anyway?

How did this philosophy evolve?

"I picked it up from my mother. I remember I used to say: 'Mom is this fun - washing, ironing, scrubbing, cooking?' And she would tell me she made it fun. She taught me to sparkle — suddenly she would say 'Sparkle 'Cloris' and little Cloris would start batting her eyes and giggling. You know when I was a finalist in the Miss America contest in 1946, the last thing I heard when I walked out was mother saying 'Sparkle, Cloris.' Of course, I

What was Miss Leachman's favorite role? "No question . . . the mother in last year's Emmy nominee "The Migrants." I still feel bad when I think of that mother who struggled so hard to help her children to escape from the drudgery of migrant farm labor. The human spirit aimply has to have hope to survive. But, you know, nobody wanted to air that show. Who wants to see a show about poor migrant farmers, they said. The only reason it got on the air was because of Tennessee — they paid Tennessee Williams $15,000 for not much more than the use of his name. You know, Teddy Kennedy once told me that the only way you can get support for the poor is to make sure that rich people have the same tudent travel school at graduation time. All the parties and — remember this was in the then one of the mothers of a black glids us to a party at her house, One other gitt.

was for the ignorance of that class. It minority groups are finally in ABROAD 'daringly' invited two of the black still For Touring, Camping, Study, parties. They came and we sli had b.

African Safari.

were the only people to alor arrenol.

Lively Sender, taste and will be show arrenol.

Lively Sender, taste and will be show arrenol.

Lively Sender, laste and will be show a control of the show and show are shown as a show a show and show a sho

I was too young and inexperienced to tell the girl and her mother level. STUDENTS ABROAD

Catalogue: Headmaster ISB, Castle Beverweerd

Phone 03437-341

witzerland - boys' school

INSTITUT MONTANA ZUGERBERG

njemational boys boarding achool with rigorous U.S. col-ege preparatory program for Americans. Grades 6-12. Separate sections for French, German and Italian-speakaparate sections for Franch, German and Italian-speak-g students). Thorough practice of modern languages, bitly qualified American faculty. Affiliate Member Na-ingl. Association of Independent Schools. College pards, Ideally located at 3000 feet above sea level, in intral Switzerland, 45 minutes from Zurich and Lucerne. If graports, excellent ski facilities. Travel Workshop during ofing vacation. Write: Dean of the American School, in-lifet Montana, 6316 Zuperbers. Switzerland. Montana, 6316 Zugerberg, Switzerland

tiadvertised in The Christian Science Monitor

Mystery lurking in an old croquet box

Long-lost documents reveal an unknown Boswell

he Tressure of Auchinieck: The Story of the Boswell Papers, by David Buchanan. Longirls. He determined to leave behind his Boswell Papers, by David Buchanan. London: Heineman. £6.50

odern and plausible as his acceptance of the lexities of his own nature. He goes to bed the depth of despair, as it were, and wakes figle and hearty. of that he was more of a hypocrite than the t of us. Remorse gnawed at his conscience

777. and fell under the benign influence of Samuel Johnson, he experienced someing more than mere remorse — something he nature of a conversion. He stopped dissipated days and to concentrate.

Johnson provided him with a large object for concentration. More, because Johnson was himself a deeply Christian man, he provided Boswell with opportunities for thinking about matters which went beyond persons and

We would know some of this story if the Boswell papers had never been found, but not ali of it. David Buchanan calls his book "The Treasure of Auchinleck," and for once a rather boy's-adventure-story title is not misplaced. This is the tale of how a treasure was ound. For Boswell, in writing his biography of Johnson, accumulated a great mass of papers. He also kept a daily journal and boys' and girls' camps

inspiring.....

"Adventurers was

A full range of exciting activities, family-style tiving, ca-pable and loving staff — all in an atmosphere of Christian Sci-

June 23-July 21 or July 26-August 9

Surprisingly affordable

Write for brochure or filmstrip. Comperships available.

CAMP ALGONQUIN

Addem reading clinic for intelligent boys 7-17 on all levets of ettainment: Speed teading. Developmental Comprehension, Remedial, Learning Disabilities. Prolegiational Comprehension, Remedial, Learning Disabilities. Prolegiational Comprehensional Compreh

DALCROZE

INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL OF MUSIC

RHYTHM SOLFEGE .- IMPROVISATION

DALCROZE TEACHER'S CERTIFICATE COURSE

CHILDREN & ADULTS - DAY & EVENING PROFESSIONAL TRAINING - ARTIST FACULTY

INTENSIVE SUMMER SESSION - July 7 August 16

For Information DR. HILDA M. SCHUSTER, Director 16] East "3nd St., NY 10021.— (212) TR 9-0346

the only authorized Daicroze Teacher's Training School in the Americas

Reading Camp for Boya Rhinelander, Wisconsin

JAMES G. DORAN

Also one, two, and three week sessions for junior high and a blast"

Adventurers is Colorado camping at its best for boys and girle entering century all this matter was presumed lost or

Then, about 1925, it became known that a good deal of it had survived. It was in the hands of Boswell's descendants. It was also scattered here and there — in an old croquet box stored away in an Irish castle, in the lumber-filled attic of a Scottish country house, in the loft of a farmyard outbuilding, and so

The task of recovering and reuniting all this mass of manuscript was undertaken by one man, an American collector, the late Col. Ralph Heyward Isham. Isham is the hero of Mr. Buchanan's story. And what a hero! For 25 years the intrepid colonel tracked and searched and sifted and collated, accomplish-corresponded with the most interesting liter-ary figures of his day. Yet for more than a Boswell papers in a state fit for publication, but only at the cost of near impoverishment.

In a lively prose style, Mr. Buchanan tells us what really happened to the Boswell papers after Boswell's death, and how they were hoarded by successive generations of the Boswell family. He presents Isham to us as a literary detective, employing skills of cunning and intuition to out-maneuver other would-be purchasers, risking his own cash in a lavish scheme of private publication, encountering devastating setbacks, surviving terrible financial pressures, fighting his way through the Scottish courts over legal ownership of the papers - right up to the happy day when he was able to sell the collection to Yale

As for what has happened since — Peter Quennell has written that "The Yale Editions of James Boswell's autobiographical works is a project that, when it is complete, will be one of the most impressive and interesting monu-ments of its kind in the whole of English

This is one of those rare books which possess an excitement that communicates itself to the reader even if the reader does not much care about the subject matter. Mr. Buchanan tells the story of a literary coup, and he tells it with flair and distinction.

As for Boswell himself, if you do not care for him then I defy you to read any of the published Auchinleck papers without begin-ning to change your mind. They are such a complete record of human nature. And they have their moments of pure poetry, as when Boswell turns aside from self-ruin, in the days before he met Johnson, and experiences a moment in winter when the world promises rebirth of the spirit: "Snow in the night-time. The ground was all white. I like that appearance. Nature is like a man with fine linen well washed and his wig well powdered." That is from the volume "Boswell in Extremis 1776-1778," edited by Charles McWeis and Fred-

Robert Nye is a post, critic, essayist who lives in Scotland

EDUC4TION

John Cabot International College

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE PROGRAM

Two-year Liberal Arts program.
Optional living plan with Spanish families.

Apply now for 1975-78

le 123, Apartado 12138, Tel, 218-43-37, Bart

Gilian Packard makes very beautiful.

and it is a speciality of hers to design and make pieces for individual customers. This personal design service works by consultation - ex-ploration of ideas and materials for the customer, and interpretation by the designer. The personal design. service operates at her West End studio where you can view by ap-pointment some of the Gillian Packard wellery that is stocked by the best-wellers throughout the country.

R-2 STREAMS CT., 3 MARSHALL ST., LONDON WIV ILQ.

Preminger's latest: more heart than art

Otto Preminger has snatched his latest movie from the Enter the CIA, disguised as a newsmagning the indicated state of the CIA, disguised as a newsmagning the indicated state of the rest in the copie, And, also, clumsy is the handling + from the first little ironic vengence on the boas terrorist contrived situation to the last tepid plot-twist.

It's standard sov-movie fare, docked

Raf Vallone, plus carner appearances by Peter Lawford and John V. Lindsay (whose spot as a distraught parent receives more chuckles than sympathetic sighs from New York audiences, whose mayor Lindsay used to be)

Further, the "Rosebud" story crackles with exploitable thrills, not to mention meaningful philosophical overtones and potential political statements. What's more, producer-director Preminger is one of the movies' grand old men. His work is unpredictable and often uneven, but he is responsible for a few of Hollywood's plassics. And he always come so much about his projects, even the ones that don't make it.

"Rosebud" begins with some creepy guerrillas readying an underground dungeon. Then it shifts to five pretty girls about to embark on a pleasure cruise. Before long the creeps have

"Rosebud" should have been a surefire winner. Its cast is first-rate; Peter O'Toole as a heroic (that's right) CIA man, Richard Attenborough as a twisted terrorist, Cliff Gorman, its slack storytelling and listices moralized more windy than warning. It has a lot of heart is more windy than warning. It has a lot of heart is slack storytelling and listices moralized in the slate of heart is slack storytelling.

instance, recalis a famous George C. Scott care from "Anatomy of a Mander"; yet her contrived, by compension, is the closes of between O'Toole (as good) and Attenberoup of the contribution of th Much of the blame must so to the chop? Erik Lee Preminger, the directors see: inadequate performers chosen to fill several But Preminger himself must bear the brist much better, when he makes sure not to let

To be sure, the Preminger of long ago might wonders with "Rosebad," The new film's feet

giris' school "There's only one incident in my bit students in my The Andrews

Ski and Tennis Camp,

a loss for all of us. Some day having 1-C Sherman Square to Des Moines and find Madella id New York City 10023 tell her how sorry I am that I daily (212) 505-2044

Mr. Frank, The Andrews School Willoughby, Ohio 44094 (216) 942-3600

School

New in 65th year. Cusmopolitan stu-dent body. College preparation plus career training to develop self-reliant girls. Fully accredited. Outstanding faculty. Small classes. Ten to, one studeel leacher ratio. Very successful work-site authority program. Grades 7-12. Ex-callent boarding facilities. Emphasis as study skills, and close student-leacher calcitonables. Comprehensive wooded acres in the heart of the old Western Reserve, sest of Cloveland.

The Arts program. Situated on 300

Leschman stops abulliating in netherlands -- co-educational bright side. "That's why I'm appearance in the side of part of the one medium that Maria MTERNATIONAL SCHOOL BEVERWEERD

Suddenly she stops. "Yet is Good boarding, grades 7-12. Strong college prep. don't know a lot about what I is international milieu instructive for American children. I'm not an authority. I know he state of Small classes, creative electives. Founded 1934 how to be a human being by the Society of Friends. doing them all. Is that loony?

Werkhoven 2765. The Netherlands.

HE RIGHT SCHOOL?

study abroad -- italy

A Liberal Arts College

ALL COURSES FULLY ACCREDITED

Experienced English-speaking International (Applity) of the lectures interfaced study and travel Extra curricular activities.

Tel: (06) 855-241

study abroad -- spain

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE OF BARCELONA

V.A. approved A.A. Degree facing the sea.

Judging from the size of its houses, many of which are now boarded up or in ruins, it is apparent that Kastellorizon has seen better former Greek Orthodox church, I saw photographs of the town in the 1930s, showing well-

It seems that a daily seaplane service operated between Paris and the Island, though quite where the machines took off in the Elias Diakakis, the museum's guardian explains that Kastellorizon's families owned some 300 schooners in the 19th century, and enjoyed a virtual monopoly of shipping in the eastern Mediterranean. Its harbor was one of the few that offered safe anchorage to vessels plying between Piracus and Cyprus and the Middle East.

Before World War I when the Island was with bustling wharves, several European consuls, and a population of 20,000. Grapes and

Besides browsing through the museum, sponge fishing is the chief industry.

the ancient name for the island.

French capital is not quite clear.

kept houses and a harbor full of seaplanes.

Overexposed Polaroid strives to recapture old luste

By John D. Moorhead Staff writer of The Christian Science Monitor

Cambridge, Massachusetts Hoping for the clear light of profits, Polarold Corporation is promoting lower-cost models of its "instant photography" cameras.

Market analysts, however, doubt there will be a flash bright enough to bring back that old Polaroid magic any time soon.

Polaroid stock had soared to a peak of 1431/2 in 1973 before plummeting to 14 1/8 last year. Now it is hovering around 25. And 1974 profits were about half those of 1973, dropping from $52 million to $28 million.

A $25 version of Polaroid's colorpack camera, called the Super Shooter, was launched last month, along with an improved version of the familiar peel-off-a-layer film it uses.

Polaroid will have a less expensive version of its sophisticated SX-70 camera in stores by mid-May. The new camera lists for $99.95, compared to list prices of $194.95 and $149.95 for the two plusher models of the SX-70. These cameras are extensively discounted, and the new model may sell for as little as $70.

"It's a magic camera," says Polaroid vice-

EXCHANGE RATES

Argentine peso

Belgian franc

British pound

Australian dollar

Austrian achilling

Brazillan oruzeiro

Canadian dollar

Colombian paso

Danish krone

French franc

Dutch guilder

tereeli pound

Mexican pago

Hong Kong dollar

Norwegian krone

Spanish peseta

Swedish krona_

Swiss franc

Portuguese escudo

South African rand

Venezuelan bolivar

W. German deutschmark

colleges and universities

Italian iira.001Japanese ven

DOLLARS

1.350

1.477

EDUCATION GUIDE

schilder oblæge

STUDY IN STRASBOURG

Liberal Arts College in Europe

SUMMER STUDY & TRAVEL PROGRAMS

Heidelberg — Germen Language and Literature Program, for graduate students, undergraduate liberal anti-courbes Language — International Sust-ess Administration Program for graduate hitcheris, English territors and other liberal sits opurage for undergraduates

fadrid — undergraduate and graduate courses to Spenish suggest theisture and art

Paris - International Relations graduate program; undes-graduate and graduate courses for French majors

Stranbourg -- Chilleau de Pourtales Suomer Festival of the High School Summer Program 1975 offerh Corbon, French! Speakin and Brifish enture studies Catalog and high School program brochure now available

Write: Schiller College, Admissions

riedrich-Ebert-Anlage 4, 69 Heidelberg, Germany

president Peter Wensberg of the SX-70 series.

It delivers a complete sealed print which proceeds to develop itself outside the camera—and with no help from the photographer other than his snapping the shutter.

Despite the fact that many experts find the new camera's one-step photography a major technological achievement, atock market analysts have seen the magic of this glamour company of the 50s and 60s slip away.

One former Polaroid employee wonders if Edwin Land, the brilliant inventor who developed Polaroid's ingenious cameras, "may be a little too idealistic for the marketplace.

"He may be going too much on his own fascination with the products and assuming that everyone else would be fascinated, too." suggests this young executive who was laid off when Polaroid trimmed its work force by 9 percent last year.

Mr. Land stepped out as Polarold president in February but remains chairman of the board, chief executive officer and director of research. Polaroid's new president is William J. McCune Jr., who has played a major role in developing the company's products.

"The SX-70 was a deliberate, planned effort to move considerably beyond the boundaries of previous photo technology," says Mr. Wensberg, marketing vice-president. "It was not one step forward but dozens all at the same

For the present, the going is a bit rough. Polaroid officials and stock analysts familiar with the photography industry suggest some of the reasons:

· The stock market had expected too much of SX-70, and in its disappointment turned on the company. "When buils become bears, they get vicious," says one Wall Street analyst.

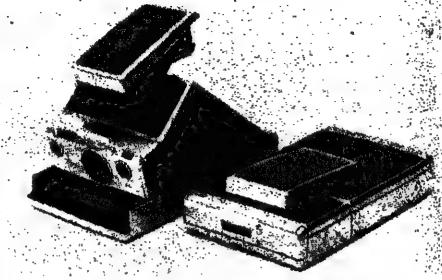

Polaroid officials insist the sales record for the SX-70 has been good, although sales of itsother cameras have been declining - and costs of sales have risen.

• The SX-70's present battery — which powers its mechanism and ejects its pictures - has a six month shelf life which means that it arrives at some dealers on the verge of exhaustion, Polaroid; after a costly research program, will announce a two-month extension of the shelf life soon.

 Demand for the SX-70 and its film is not keeping production facilities operating full tilt. and the resulting inefficiency is costly. Polaroid products, essentially luxury items, are feeling the pinch of recession.

. Eastman Kodak's expected introduction

8½x11", maps, index

Edwin Land's 8X-70: revolutionary but problematic

of an instant photo system within the next two years has many people waiting to see what happens when Kodak pushes into Polaroid's

Polaroid officials admit they have problems but are bullish about their long-term pros-

They are in the final stages of a $250-million capital investment program allowing them to manufacture most of their own cameras and film, instead of relying on outside contractors.

Much of this new production capability been paid for out of current earnings company has no long-term debt.

Stock analyst Lawrence E. Phillips of h Witter & Co., also is optimistic:

"Over the next 114 to 214 years, Polici has a difficult time facing them. There likely to face strong competition is a photography, open up world markets, a shooting stars against the Milky Way.

Are you seeking a Heeling and Educational almosphere for your son or daughter? We provide — at this RESIDENTIAL FACILITY — a complete and elructured program for those presently considered de velopmentally, disabled of all Programs to meet the present needs of smbulstory as well as non-ambulstory/mull-handlospped

11455 GLAYTON ROAD SAN JOSE, CA 95127 (408) 259-5635

With Your Bible

BERENICE M. SHOTWELL

Hible, which it is a pleasure to rec-

$21.50 (metading postupe)

EDUCATE MACL

Getting Better Acquainted

SHADWOLD PRESS

WATERS OF BOSTON, INC. 225 Mass. Ave., Buspe, MA 02115
SCHEINER BOOK STORE, 597 Fifth Ave., New York, NY 10017
MAIL BOX, 27 Hauvelt Drive, Hirrington Fark, NJ 07540
PRINCIPIA COLLEGE BOOK STORE, Floub, IL 62028
THE FRIENDLY SHOP, 296 S. 1st Ave., Arcadia, CA 91096
FARWAY HOUSE, 1473 Macine Dr., W. Ysngouver, B.C., Cameda
THE ART STORE 16 Mails St., Kirby Longista, Westphoetsand, Brigland LA & A AS

BOOK MARKER COMPANY OF AUSTRALASIA, 49-81 Ampling GroMoning Waverly, Victoria 144, Australia.

Monte Waverly, Victoria 3149, Australia.

BIBLE AND BOOK SERVICE, 209, Highland, Dr., Seattle, WA 30149

sullable direct from publisher or from:

monitor advertisers

Providing homes for University Students who are Christian Scientists.

, Asher Student

Asher Student Foundation Nat'l Hidgire... 820 Abbott Road East Lansing, Michigan 4887 Phone (517) 351,8440

Visit Chicago INTERNATIONAL HOUSE

at the University of CHICAGO Welcomes visiting foreign and American student individuals, groups and Workshops

In The Summer of '75

Excellent low cost offeteria For Reservation Writes

Housing Office, International House 1414 E. 59th St., Chicago, Hibrols 60557 or call (312) 753-2280

The Grassroots Summer Session In Verne

infroductory training for students of high school college, and pastolled a for luxury. So try the Helvetia at the foot of the elements of Agriculture, Forestry, and Wildlis Management Issumed at Rock," where an adequate double room PRACICES—harpeting logs, pain, and firewood. LIVESTOCK OF the Moven't coat $12, and the restaurant is excellent, heal, dairy, horse, sheap & pounty farming Jame coastruction, will be a second the victes of second general employment, grain management of the distriction, public regrention, to chias contraction, moving the second course you'll pay for the commercial slable operations, proving a transping streams, form the commercial slable operations, proving a transping streams, form the course are effected in the Green Hountains of Rothern Vernice and the course are effected in the Green Hountains of Rothern Vernice and the course are effected in the Green Hountains of Rothern Vernice and the course are effected in the Green Hountains of Rothern Vernice and the Rothern Research from the Rothern Religious for the course are effected in the Green Hountains of Rothern Vernice and Rothern Religious for the course are effected in the Green Hountains of Rothern Vernice and Rothern Religious for the course are effected in the Rothern Religious for the course are effected in the Rothern Religious for the course are effected in the Rothern Religious for the course for the Rothern Religious for the course for the Rothern Religious for the course for the course for the Rothern Religious for the Rothern Rothern Religious for the Rothern Rothe and August in T. 2, or if were necession under a visitify of programs in its law of the Bresknoots Propert in Various. It is the bresknoots Propert in Various. It is been proper by the bresk property in Various.

For futilises impromation write: STERLING Box 380, Craftsbury Common, Ye

Greek isle on Turkey's doorstep

By Nicholas Lynn Special to The Christian Science Monitor

It seems almost impossible to spell the beauty of the Greek islands. Rhodes, Mytonos, and Hydra, for example, never lose their magic despite hordes of visitors. But still, you might like to wander off the tourist

If so, try Kastellorizon

A tiny Greek island lying about a mile off the coast of Turkish Anatolia, Kastellorizon can be reached only by a seven-hour steamer trip from Rhodes. The Panormitis, a ponderous steamer, makes the 72-mile journey twice a week. It is the island's only link with the outside world.

The easternmost island of the Dodecanese Kastellorizon, is also the smallest, measuring 3.5 square miles. It is remote, even forgotten. I had beard it described only once during numerous trips to Greece. In fact when I went agent announced that such a place did not exist. to book a passage there the incredulous travel

The Panormitis makes the voyage at night. Hour after hour all that is visible are chosen field. Kodak will legitimatize in flickering lights from the coast of Turkey and

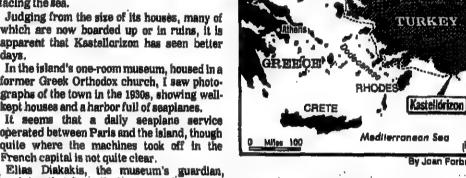

The island's herbor emerges from the darkness almost without warning. The water reflects eerie semicircles from lights planted at uneven intervals along the oblong waterfront. Behind a minaret, dating from the days when Turkey held sway over the island, one can just make out the walls of a ruined fortress built by the Venetians to guard their seaborne empire. Shuttered, toy-like houses stand around the harbor, their orderly line broken by strange voids, and their a.m. Kastellorizon was neither asleep nor deserted. Most of its 481 inhabitants were waiting patiently at the pier for the arrival of the Panormitis.

The Island's one hotel, the 15-room Megisti was full of expatriate islanders celebrating a nostalgic homecoming, so I found a room in a pension called Paradise. It cost me $1. Kastellorizon is one of the few places in the world where it is next to impossible to spend

Since the island's coast is rocky and eachless, the harbor basin — completely free. of pollution — is a huge swimming pool day and night. On many an evening I took a Bisnuely moonlight swim after dinner.

Unlike the domed cubes and low-lying rectangles of the Cyclades lalands to the west, Kastellorizon's houses are two or three stories high, whitewashed, and painted green or blue round windows and doorways. Nearly all the mposing houses crowd the waterfront of Kastellorizon's small, sheltered port

The name Megiste has obscure origins. There was a Megis, mentioned in the Iliad. who fought in the Trojan War and according to legend, settled on the island. But the name in Greek also means "largest of the small archipelago," which is perhaps the more likely derivation.

still Turkish, it was an important pilot station The pride and joy of Kastellorizon are its churches and monasteries. Near the battered Venetian fortress at the harbor entrance are the ruins of St. Nicholas' church, a barrelolives are grown on the island today, but vaulted structure decorated with 11th-century spent many delightful hours swimming in the From there it is a short walk to the cathedral harbor and hiking in the mountains to several of St. Constantine across an area where scores of the monasteries and to Kastellorizon's of lovely houses were destroyed by fire during ancient acropolis. This latter building was the British occupation in 1945. The cathedral erected by the Dorlans - one of the two main was founded by the Christian Emperor, tribes which later became the Greek people -Constantine the Great, and his mother, Helen, and dedicated to their god, Apollo of Megiste, who sought refuge from rough seas on Kastellorizon on their way to Jerusalem.

The cathedral which was totally reconstructed in 1835, includes 12 columns of red granite from the temple of Apollo at nearby Patara on the Turkish mainland. It was at this ancient Lycian port in 55 A.D. that St. Paul found a ship crossing to Phoenica, went on board and set sail." It is also traditionally the birthplace of St. Nicholas, renowned today as Santa Claus. A local tradition has it that during the Italian occupation of the Dodecanese the King of Italy, Victor Emmanuel III. visited Kastellorizon and offered to exchange one of the cathodral's columns for its equivalent weight in gold. The islanders declined his offer.

Kastellorizon has its own Blue Grotto larger and more impressive than the one on Capri. The trip by boat is best taken in the early morning or late afternoon when the low tides reveal a tiny opening in the rocks, and the sun's rays are refracted into the chamber in magnificent shades of blue.

There is some clandestine calque traffic between the Island and the coast of Turkey. but there is no official port of entry on the mainland. Thus trips to places like Myra, where St. Nicholas served as a bishop before his persecution by the Roman emperor Diocletian, are impossible—unless you make friends with one of the yacht owners who sometimes yisit the island.

I, personally, found no temptation to leave the blissful solitude of this miniscule island. where sunset is the most dramatic event of the day, and idle chatter with its friendly population over a fresh, grilled fish and Greek salad, the most taxing event of the evening.

The Riviera: a scent of flowers where the legions marched

By Kimmis Hendrick Special to

Menton, France

Menton, France

If you prefer a smaller city than Nice but Reduced raise for groups of 20 or more want all the beauties of the French Riviera, try

Excellent law or two weeks Martin.

> "But they're expensive!" you may say. Not necessarily. Like Nice, famed for its grand hotels on its handsome Promensde des Angals, all Riviera towns offer a range of pleasant

If you stay at the Hotel de Paris or the Metropole in Monte Carlo, of course you'll pay not luxury. So try the Helvetia at the foot of the "Rock," where an adequate double room get a reservation at the Pension Riviera for Something like $10 a day apiece you can have a comfortable room and delicious meals served on a flower-scented terrace above the Medi- — to the Riviere's perched villages. They next town, Beaulieu, has another fascinating city, if you write to the Syndicate d'Initiative, travel information - sometimes they even book you a room in a hotel. It's a good idea to contact the appropriate one as close to your departure date as possible to get the latest information, especially prices. The address of the SI in Menton is Pelais de l'Europe, Avenue Boyer, Menton 06, France.

Queen Victoria liked Menton, and she probably still would. Its shops, its smallcraft harbor, its beaches, and its spectacular mountain backdrop make it attractive.

It is an hour from Cannes by train, and it is a spectacular drive by car or bus, with Nice about halfway. Beyond Nice, the Riviera has a different character, partly because the coastal Alps lie farther back. Gannes, Antibes, and St. Tropez are favorites with the rich.

From Menton it's easy to get by bus - or car for drivers who don't mind hairpin bends city, if you write to the Syndicate d'Initiative, you'll get particulars. Often abbreviated SI, fabulous views, is just a half-hour trip. Eze: also a good base of visits to Italy's Riviers of the Syndicates d'Initiative have brochures, takes a little longer. It's a strange village, and the Flowers. Bordighera and San Remo are eagle's nest, and its old winding streets lead to artists' studios and shops. Its walk down to the cause while walking this path, so the story goes, he developed the thesis for "Thus Spake Zarathustra." It will test your hiking endurance, but you won't need to walk back up.

Faither along, by way of Nice and Cannes, lies the lovely town of Yence, well worth a day's trip to visit the Chapel of the Rosary with murals by Matisse. It's open on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Nearby is another town, Saint-Paul-de-Vence, well known for the contempo-rary art center buildings, and gardens of the Marght Foundation.

Along the sea between Menton and Nice at .. Saint Jean-Cap Ferral; an artists and writers colony, is the Ile de France Museum, housed beautiful villa set in fine gardens. The terranean.

cling to rocky uplands just as they did in the museum along the sea called the Kerylos, a Menton, offers a similar range along its days when the Roman legions marched this sumptuous reproduction of a Greek marsion beautiful scaffort and, as with any Pranch way to Spain and Gaul.

resort cities long enjoyed by Britons, and Ventimiglie, near at hand, is well worth seeing; particularly on Fridays when its great market is held under the trees in a park along

Perhaps nothing is more interesting than Old Roquebrune, immediately next to Menton; where the oldest feudal keep in France still guards the coastal routes. The old part of. Menton is also interesting and so are some of Monte Carlo's oldest steets. The Monte Carlo beaches, by the way, are superb.

For this whole area, a major attraction is the music Monte Carlo offers: symphony and opera part of the year in the charmingly baroque hall known as the Salle Garnier and summer concerts in the palace courtyard. The changing of the guard in front of Monaco's palace draws big crowds at midday.

HARVARD

SUMMER SCHOOL

OF ARTS AND SCIENCES AND OF EDUCATION

June 30 - August 22

■ 180 undergraduate and graduate liberal arts courses in the Humanities, Natural Sciences.

■ 20 graduate-level courses in Education; including 12 intensive 4-week courses for teachers

Harvard Summer School Repertory Theater

Harvard Summer School Cantabrigia Orchestra

Program Information and SPECIAL SERIES TICKETS are available NOW

HARVARD SUMMER SCHOOL

DEPARTMENT CSM

1350 MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE

CAMBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS 02138

(617) 495-2921

Social Sciences: all required pre-medical courses: Middle Eastern Studies; instruction in 12

colleges and universities - united states

science

Scientists still unhappy about SST and ozone

By David F. Salisbury

Staff writer of The Christian Science Monitor

After simmering on a back burner since 1971, the supersonic transport controversy has flared up once again.

The National Academy of Sciences recently has released a study on the effects of SSTs on the ozone layer. It concludes that currently foreseen fleets of supersonic and subsonic aircraft could have harmful effects unless jet engines are redesigned.

This contradicts some news stories which followed the release of a Department of Transportation (DOT) report on this issue. Its summary emphasized the fact that today's fleet of SSTs (30 at present) could not affect the ozone layer with their activities.

The ozone layer is a fragile zone 20 to 30 miles above the Earth's surface. It filters out much of the sun's ultraviolet light which some feel is linked to the incidence of skin cancer in Caucasians. The scientific concern that exhaust from the high-flying SSTs would thin the ozone layer led to cancellation of the American SST program.

As news reports that SSTs had been cleared of environmental charges spread, many of the scientists who participated in the DOT study became upset. They felt that the summary prepared by DOT, although factually correct, was misleading. They felt that the news stories made it appear that the original concerns which led to cancellation of the SST project were groundless.

The academy in issuing its report has attempted to counter this impression. It calls for international measures to regulate and redesign jet engines so large fleets of aircraft will not deplete the ozone. According to Prof. Henry G. Booker of the University of California at San Diego, who directed the second study, the authors of the DOT report in a letter addressed to him agree that their investigation "clearly supports the validity of concarns voiced by perceptive scientists in 1970" and that strict measures might be needed to protect the ozone.

Unneeded goods boost waste volume in U.S.

By the Associated Press If Madison Avenue ran an electric fruitripening bowl up a flag pole, would America

"Ludicrous as an electric bowl to ripen fruit sounds, considerable consumer demand could be generated through an advertising campalgn," suggested Karen A. Wendt of the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency.

EDUCATION GUIDE

united states

IF YOU CAN DO THIS

YOU CAN LEARN TO PAINT LIKE THIS

Student's Work

The Alexander School of Painting offers you a revolutionary low-cost Home Study Course in oil painting at a price everyone can afford. It is designed for beginners, amateurs and professionals alike.

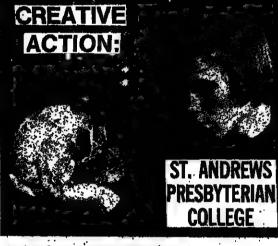

We GUARANTEE to make you a good painter or your money back. No drawing ability neces-sary. No salesmen will call.

Alexander School of Palnting Chicago, Illinois 60605 study abroad?

Go with a Monitor-advertised school or tour

colleges and universities --

With small group learning and a ladulty ratio of one to twelve students, St. Andrews has high adademic standards, an excellent record of placement in professions and graduate school, but most of all, a creative terment in all of the lively and liberal arts and one of the most sophisticated science programs on the East Coast. Theatre, creative writing, athletics, and publishing three campus literary magazines; a new small press, and sward winning students and teachers working together in such areas as soulpture, poetry, film and painting are part of St. Andrews' liveliness. Financial aid and competitive scholarships are available.

Liberal arts for women

B.A. degree in 23 fields; self-designed major Campus in metro-Atlanta

City

Year H.S. práduate

· · · · · · · · · · · For brochures, clip and mell-.

Street

To: Office of Admissions, Box B Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Georgia 30030

S COLLEGE

in specialized fields.

■ SPECIAL EVENTS: Monday Evening Concert Series

Music 200!

SUMMER PROGRAMS 1975

Office of Special Programs Sarah Lawrence College Bronzville, New York 10708 (914) 337-5670

COLLEGE

SARAH LAWRENCE

At Sarah Lewrence, learning is a way of ille — and now in summer lool Explore your potential through intensive programs in writing, visual arts, literature and religion, theatre and literature, American studies, science and math, women's studies and choral music. Or get involved in a seminar in early music, an arts resources taboratory, and a sound and movement workshop. Dormitory space is available, Courses may be taken on a credit or non-credit basis. For information call or write:

The Dance Center

Harvard Summer Band

. Harvard Summer School Chorus

rian, residential, liberal art. college offering B.A. degree.

Major Programs:
Learning Disabilities
Early Childhood
Elementary Education Business Management
Human Services Communication Arts and Sciences
Bi-Lingual Public Service
Fully Aggreetited Business

Fully Acquedited By New England Association of Schools & Colleges or Catalog address:

Dean of Admission

Curry College

Milton, MA 02188

Excellence. GROVE CITY

Excellence? At Grove City It's a way of Hel Academic program oncompassing 25 major fields in strangous. 2,100 students/113 faculty are carefully salected. Caristian atmosphere emphasized. Facilities second in mose. Tallien, reem, beard intes imong jowed in mation ($2,720 for 1975-76). Our goal is to assist young people in developing as whole persons — academically, salelimally and physically. WHITE

GROVE CITY COLLEGE GROVE CITY, PA-16

MOUNT MA JUNIOR COLLEGE 772 Author Stoot Section Contr., 34 and (017) 949-7900

MOUNT IDA

UNIOR COLLEGE

A fully accredited two year color, established in 1899, and situated in 1899, and situated in 85 acce country estate cape just 8 miles from all the cultural of unlertainment attractions of hodge.

Mount ide grants A.A. and A.I. degrass in the following feels of study:

General Studies, Libbast Aris, Education, Charl Study, Fact Aris, Graphic Design, Interior Design, Fashion Mustratum, Physical Education, Recognition Laboratus.

Socretarial Medical Secretarial, Relaiking

Administration and House Service

For you'r Mariet 1de Catalog, today Peggs Adler, Director di Marieta

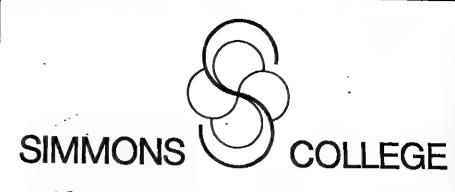

Science and Aliad Fields: Business Administration, Deptal Assistant, Medical Assistant, Health Con-

MONITOR readers respond

EDUCATION GUIDE___

EDUCATION GUIDE.

colleges and universities -- united states

1975 Coed Summer Session

May 27—July 5

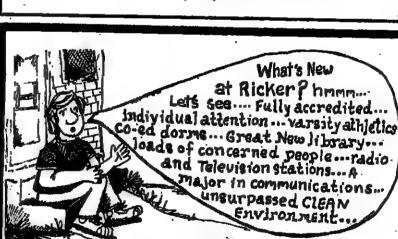

Boston, Mass.

EDUCATION

The Law and Society (Susiness Law)
Personnel Administration

Firste Maihematica Infroductory Statistic KURNING ... Nursing 1 (8 aradita)

For additional information, contact: Director of Summer Session Simmons College 300 The Fenway Boston, Massachusetts 02115 (617) 738-2177

I Guess there's nothing REALLY new here, we're Still the same vitally concerned institution that has an educational tradition dating back to

HINNE For further information write:

John L. Bove DEAN OF ADMISSIONS RICKER COLLEGE Houlton, MAINE 04730

THE RIGHT SCHOOL?

Find it advertised in The Christian Science Monitor

people

Wildlife champion

By Monty Hoyt Special to The Christian Science Monitor

"People are always asking me, 'Why do you spend so much time trying to save animals when there are so many people to be saved?' " says Felipe Benavides, a Peruvian former diplomat who recently received a $50,000 prize as one of the world's leading wildlife conserva-

"My answer to them is quite simple," he continues, his fiery eyes and rapid gestures freezing to express utter seriousness. "In saving animals, I am saving people,"

More than 20 years ago, this tireless crusader ended a distinguished diplomatic career, during which he had been Peru's consul general in London and New York and had served in other European capitals.

It was a shy, sheepish-looking relative of the liama, the vicuna, which persuaded him to leave that promising career. A wild, high-strung animal, the vicuna faced extinction. Valued for its wool, considered the finest in the world, its numbers had dropped from over 400,000 early in the century to less than 5,000.

First, Mr. Benavides cajoled the government of Peru to set up a vicuna reserve. Then he got Peru and Bolivia to issue strict laws banning the killing and exporting of vicuna wools and furs. Then he persuaded Argentina and Chile to join in the four-nation La Paz agreement to save the vicuna.

But that wasn't enough. Campaigning diligently, he succeeded in getting the United States and Great Britain to stop importing decima.

Soon the day will come, Mr. Benavides foretells, when rich vicuna wool will once mesticatable animals, as it was from early incan times. Again competing on the world market with cashmere and other fine wools, vicuna can provide Peru with a valuable, renewable resource.

Vicuna in Peru are beginning to revive (they now stand at 23,000). So this ambassador for wildlife has turned his main attraction to saving other animals. He has convinced his government to ban the trade, trapping, and killing of 16 other endangered species in cluding the spectacled bear, the condor. flamingo, chinchilla, Andean deer, and gua naco (another llama relative).

Last year, he convinced Peru to export of wild animals altogether.

"Now nothing comes out of our country.
You see what I did was to nationalize all wildlife. I don't believe animals should be used for the benefit of a few traders. They belong to everybody," Mr. Benavides says.

In his spare moments, he joined forces with the late Charles A. Lindbergh to stop the killing of blue whales by a Peruvian whaling company. He founded the Lima zoo and was the guiding force in establishing Manu Na-tional Park, the largest such park in South America. Most recently, he has been involved in setting up a rare marine sanctuary and national park on Paracas Peninsula, a priceless pre-Incan archaeological site.

This energetic defender of "the fourth world," as he calls it, was selected in January by the World Wildlife Fund to be the first recipient of the J. Paul Getty Wildlife Conservation Prize. Mr. Benavides stood out from among 525 nominations in 42 countries. His prize money will help found a biological research institute at Paracas, Peru.

EDUCATION GUIDE

colleges and universities -- united states

'Accept Only the True'

Martin N. Heafer of Houston, Texas, lectures in The Mother Church

Christian Science lecturer Martin N. Heafer, C.S.B., urged an audience in Boston yesterday to put serious effort into learning about God as "the one source of all that is true and good."

He cited the example of Christ Jesus in accepting "only true good, spiritual good, rather than the lies of sickness or sin."

To do this, said Mr. Heafer, is to accept what the Apostle Paul called "the mind of Christ," or, as the lecturer put it, the "divine Mind that gives us the true idea of God and man."

A former business executive, Mr. Heafer, who comes from Houston, Texas, became a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1964 and a teacher of Christian Science in 1967. He spoke in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetta.

"Accept Only the True" was the title of his

Mr. Heafer was introduced by Clem W. Collins, First Reader of The Mother Church. The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

I'm sure you've all had the same experience as I had the other day. I was listening to the news on TV and at a break the announcer said, "I'll be right back after this message." It struck me more forcibly than ever before that what followed wasn't really a message at all -it was a sales pitch for calla lily bulbs! Now love beautiful flowers, but I wasn't interested just then in hearing about calls lily bulbs, But, thought: "Why I don't have to listen to that! I can turn it off." And I did.

Just so, we're all confronted at times with what we might think of as sales pitches of another kind - suggestions of sickness, lack, failure, dissatisfaction, as well as temptations to do things we know are wrong. But in the same way that we can turn off a TV set, we can stop listening to these suggestions or believing they're irresistible. And when we do. wonderful thing happens. Good begins to appear in our experience.

But even to turn off a TV set or tune in to a better channel, we have to know something about a TV set. If we'd never seen one, we wouldn't know how to turn it off; we might even think there was nothing we could do about what we were seeing and hearing.

'So it is with changing our thoughts and experience. We need to know how to turn eviloff and how to switch to the good that's everywhere at hand — how to accept the true and make it our own. Unless we learn how to do this, our lives may be unsatisfying and

So let's consider together this evening how to consciously take our thoughts from God, the one source of all that is true and good.

There's a story of the little girl who was drawing a picture. Her mother looked over her shoulder and said, "Cheryl, what are you drawing?" The little girl replied, "I'm making how can you draw a picture of God! No one learned a leason that has stood me in good knows what God looks like." "Mother," said stead ever since. the little girl, 'when I get finished, everybody' will know what God looks like." Now, of course, we can't picture God physically, but we're all forming our concept of God in thought, whether we realize it or not. We know there's something outside of our selves, some power, intelligence, Love, call it God or whatever. We can't see or feel or sense Him physically. But we can get a clear mental flight trainer is real flying!

sense of what God is by knowing Him as Spirit. True thought is something else. It's thought. as pure Love, by having some idea of Him as rooted in goodness, unselfish love, purity believe there's another creation not made by absolute Truth, by realizing Him to be the one infinite Mind and source of intelligence.

These spiritual concepts may seem vague and intengible to the physical senses, but our perception of them through our spiritual senses tells us what God is.

So like little Cheryl, when we correctly form our idea of God, we surely know what He is. We learn God as the one infinite Mind or intelligence, the source of all true thought and

Can right ideas of God have anything to do with our physical bodies? Well, they have everything to do with them. For instance, let's take some physical activity such as football. When watching a football game on TV, as the action becomes intense, you hear the announcer say, "And the adrenalin begins to flow." He's indicating that the men playing are becoming capable of greater mental and physical effort supposedly due to the force of the adrenalin secreted into their bloodstreams. But what really tells the body that the situation demands "all-out" effort and empowers the limbs to add that extra speed? Why, the thought of the player, of course.

Praverful thinking

I remember an experience I had along these lines in my early years. Due to certain circumstances, I'd started school when I was four years old and as a result qualified for entrance to a university at the early age of 14. The university authorities were satisfied as to my academic qualifications and mental ability but were doubtful that a boy of 14 could meet the physical demands of a college freshman. So they decided I had to pass certain physical tests — a sort of mini-decathion. I must run a hundred yards in a certain time, swim 50 yards, and so on. Well, for a boy of 14 to take tests designed for the average 18-year-old college freshman was quite a challenge. As I was running, jumping and swimming, you can be sure my adrenalin was flowing!

But before I took these tests. I did a lot of prayerful thinking, 1-realized that the same divine Mind which had been the source of my capacity as a student would provide me with the energy and strength that I needed to pass these tests. The measureless power of God would enable me to do what was right and to accomplish this good purpose.

I saw that I couldn't be made afraid or doubtful by believing that I was dependent on human will or my own meager physical strength. I was depending completely upon divine Principle, Mind, and not on anything human. I further realized than man is never immature, but always the individual representative of God, divine Mind, complete and expressing all God's qualities.

Well, I didn't break any track records, but I

The activating power behind all right accomplishment comes from God, divine Mind. he do also" (John 14:12).

not brain, stimulated by adrenalin or any So, all of us, as we learn that God is the one other type of matter. The physical actions and infinite Mind, governing all true thought, can reactions viewed in brain and bloods called always present.

the effects of thought, not causes. So called always present.

But there seems to be another source of thought, of motivation, in addition to divine thought, of motivation, in addition to divine Mind—a second mind, which would tempt us reactions viewed in brain and bloodstream are spiritual qualities which come to us from God. Spirit. As we become conscious of these qualities of God — love, peace, joy, in-telligence — as we dwell quietly with them, we're truly thinking - we confidently turn off evil and increasingly experience only good. And there's nothing uncertain or random about this. It's scientific: it's the application to human affairs of pure spiritual Truth.

In order to perceive and recognize God as the one all-governing Mind, we not only have to turn off suggestions of suffering, but also we have to turn off relying on matter as the source of good, of pleasure, of comfort. This is an important point. To find continuing good in our lives, we must be willing to live more spiritually, more close to God, as Spirit. This demands that we express the spiritual qualities of love and true spiritual joy, rather than aim for merely material comfort, ease and

A woman many greatly admire came to this recognition, at the cost of guaranteed material comfort and ease. And great good resulted not only for herself but for the whole world.

She was alone, separated from her husband disowned by her family, living on a very small income, staying in boardinghouses, making and mending her own clothes. Her wealthy sister offered to build her a home and settle enough money on her to make her independent. But there was a catch — that she give up her search for the infinite source of all that is true and good which she believed could be found through prayer — prayers like those of Christ Jesus which healed the sick.

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, chose not to take this path of comfort and ease which could have been hers. Rather she chose to seek eternal Truth, a clearer understanding of the spiritual facts of good which underlie human existence. And thousands have come to know their real spiritual identity because she discovered the true nature of God, good, as divine Truth and of man as divine Mind's wholly spiritual idea. Her sister, Abigail, may not have comprehended Mary's refusal. But Mary knew she could not do otherwise. When it came right down to it she had no choice.

Message of divine good

In the years that followed Mrs. Eddy gloried n all-demanding spiritual and humane labors. She wrote "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," the textbook of Christian Science, constantly revising it until its inspired message of divine good comes through as we read it today with the utmost clarity. She also established the Church of Christ, Scientist, with its purpose to "reinstate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing' (Church Manual, p. 17), So the primitive healing truths taught by did pass the tests! And went on to get my. Christ Jesus have been reinstated and attiteaching and example, as Mrs. Eddy did: They are motivated by Jesus' promise: "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall infinite Mind, governing all true thought, can to accept evil as inevitable. It would have us

God, good, and that means another crea too. What can we say about this?

Well, it's obviously quite true that is world around us we see sickness and painful, unhappy, sorrowful events of the kinds. All these are the result of our miss enly believing in many, separate pera minds, apart from the one infinite divine And this belief arises from the false conce man as a material mortal.

Yet the truth is that man isn't a mile mortal controlled by a physical brain at personal mind of his own. He's a thi spiritual idea which has no Mind but Goda his identity consists of expressing God. to: erroneous suggestions of many pent minds, accepting and giving out evil thous are called collectively in the Bible the conor fleshly mind; in Christian Science weedi mortal mind. But this belief in a mind or mind apart from God isn't the way it really is.

True cause is God

Evil doesn't have a real cause, for truccus is God, the one Mind. And since He is god what He causes' is completely good. Then ay appearance of evil is due to mistaken beld that it's real and has a cause. But evil hat my cause, no source, no identity, because 🎉 being in in God and therefore good, health, happy. This is the scientific basis, the absolute divine Truth, on which Christian Scientist base their prayers. When we realize this, wstop believing in a second mind, mortal mini and we begin to turn evil off for ourselves whereasts we're no longer projecting it on the others. One result is that immediately wind, body by believing it to be there. ourselves free moral agents, able to reject in True morality doesn't come from home. The greatest healer rules but from divine wisdom. It's not a product of the Victorian age or any other of Its early written record is in the comme ments of Moses, and it came to full flowsk the grace and truth exemplified by Jest! results from divine absolute Truth results man to us as the pure, spiritually image and likeness of God instead of as and relentlessly swept along in a curit sensuality and selfishness.

Man isn't a sinner. If man were a sin, 00 would be a sinner and this is unlist because man is God's reflection. A media because he believes man has to, or because believes man wants to. But in both of instances, he's mistaken. Man ish'i because by his very nature he accepts selfhood as the reflection of pure Mind.
Scientific prayer is an impregnable against the deceptive suggestions of self-around" with different girls. It couldn't help himself. But he fell guild remorseful and yearned for moral freed.

When he talked with me about it is that the fell with me about it is the fell w him that his desire to turn off sensual do what was right was of God and the determinative in his experience; the stallowed the purity and wisdom which will him the stallowed the purity and wisdom which will him. Godly heritage to be expressed in him, freed from the auggestions that he man vent to physical, willful impulses to so-called manhood.

My young friend agreed with the ments of truth, but said, more or less, to do this, but when I'm confronted with a provocative situation, I just become unglued and my good resolutions go down the drain." I brought out that he didn't have to depend on his own ability to resist. He could put himself into God's hands; and God was the only power. That there actually was only one Mind, God, which could furnish him with all the moral courage, all the spiritual strength he needed to accept his own true, God-like thoughts: that it wasn't a question of obedience to someone else's rules of conduct, but simply following God's rule of wisdom and purity, the rule of his own true spiritual nature.

He began to see that he couldn't be confused to believe that he was confronted with an irresistible biological urge; but it was simply a stupid, unintelligent suggestion that he do something he didn't want to do.

He left my office in a changed, uplifted state of mind. He saw himself as God's man, pure, intelligent and rightly guided, not ever having to yield to these sensual temptations. He had a new confidence in his God-given dominion and in the months that followed he was able to

And sickness is no less a result of belief in mind apart from God than is sin. A sick experience is determined by acceptance of the suggestions of this supposed mind, not by physical conditions. Sometimes these suggesions present themselves as our own though sometimes as the weight of the whole world's belief in heredity, contagion, accident, or whatever it may be. But when we accept God as the source of all true thought, we can effectively resist the temptation to be sick also, And, of course, once we realize sickness like sin is a tempiation, we know we don't have to yield to it - and we certainly don't want to.

Health is a spiritual fact which is always present. When we realize health is the reality. we lose the belief in disease and it disappears,

Now if this seems like a very radical thought to you - that sickness is no less a temptation than sin - let me tell you how a man was healed of paralysis. He had to be carried on a stretcher everywhere he went by some faithful friends. They thought they knew how he could be healed, but they had to get their friend into a certain house in order to accomplish it. There were crowds of people in the way. But they were ingenious. They carried their paralyzed friend up on to the top of the house, took out a part of the roof and let him down through the roof into the room.

And there was someone there, a man who consistently turned to God for his thoughts. This man, Christ Jesus, proved his perfect Christliness by this obedience and as a result was the greatest healer of all times.

But picture this scene. The paralyzed man, lying on his stretcher, finally reaching Jeaus A young friend of mine learned this.

A young friend of mine learned this.

A young friend of mine learned this.

Through the valiant efforts of his friends. And what does Jesus say to him? Why, this, "Son, single, very attractive young fellow what kind of reaction did Jesus get to this will. He told me frankly that he we "had attracting statement? Here was a man needing that he was a man needing but Jesus talks about feature the statement. ing his sins! The people standing around were just as startled as you might have been when I sald a moment ago that sickness was no less a temptation than sin. The hypocritical soribes and Pharlaces standing about didn't say anything to Jesus. They knew the marvelous things he could do, and that the people loved him, so they didn't dare say anything out loud

But they must have thought plenty! And Jeaus perceived their thoughts and answered them: "Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, the saith to the sick of the palsy,) . . . Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house." And the story continues, "immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth " (Mark 2-9-12). This is how the greatest and most scientific healer of all healed physical sickness - in the same way that he healed sin. In other words. he showed those he healed how to make a better, more Godlike choice of thoughts - by turning off mortal mind and yielding to the power of the one divine Mind. We can go and

Now it's true some illnesses may seem to be caused by some moral fault but I'm not saying it's a sin to be sick. It's like this: sickness ar ain both result from not turning to God for our thoughts or not knowing how to. When wo reject mortal mind's temptation to believe in evil as real, this obliterates and heals sickness in the same way as it forgives and destroys sin, because both sin and sickness are mistaker beliefs. As Jesus did, we can accept only true good, spiritual good, rather than believe the lies of sickness or sin. To do this is to accept what the Apostle Paul called "the mind of Christ" (I Cor. 2:16), the divine Mind that gives us the true idea of God and man and our whole experience.

Scientific truth glimpsed

--- Mary Baker Eddy discovered Christian Science in 1866 when she glimpsed the scientific truth underlying Jesus' question: 'Whether is it easier to say, thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, take up thy bed and walk?" She saw what Jesus meant; that sickness is due to incorrect thoughts — to the belief in an existence apart from Spirit - just as sin is. She writes: "Any supposed information, coming from the body or from inert matter as if either were intelligent, is an illusion of mortal mind, — one of its dreams. Realize that the evidence of the senses is not to be accepted in the case of sickness, any more than it is in the case of sin' (Science and Health, p. 385-6).

Her glimpse of this scientific fact at this time brought her from the threat of death back to health. In the following 45 years her vision of the Christ, Truth, gradually grew brighter and she won her way to the complete revelation of divine Science. This rich legacy Christian Science — explains and reveals how each one of us can be free from sickness. sin, and eventually mortality itself. We can turn off the evil suggestions of a mind apart from God and accept wholeheartedly the divine Mind, God, good.

True humility expressed

Now accepting the good that is everywhere present is not a passive activity - far from it. It's a spiritually scientific ectivity. It's spiritual conviction that we can have "the mind of Christ" and praying out from that conviction; but thoughts are our honest conviction" with unselfed love.

Jeaus was able to do the marvelous things that he did because he accepted no other mind. He refused to believe that men could go hungry, so he fed thousands, when lean and hungry thinking was leading them to believe they had only a few loaves and fishes, He didn't believe that so called natural disasters were the "acts of God" we used to read about in insurance policies. He would a false sense of selfhood that heals. It's you, as, he stilled the stormy waters when they threatened the lives of his friends.

He even set aside death Itself. He refused to how down to that so-called irresistible event, which is mistakenly believed by some to be God's will. He didn't believe God would give parents a lovely child, and then take it away for no apparent reason. Or that one could become sick and die from exposure endured in caring for a sick friend. He knew that God's thoughts, expressed in our thinking, produced no such evil results and he proved this time Jesus was completely free from any sense of egotism, any sense of a mind separate from Christ. He expressed the true humility which is required for man to express the powerful ideas of Love. Without love he couldn't have done his mighty works. Without unselfish love. we, too, can't accomplish anything worth-while. When we have "the mind of Christ," we do express pure love, because God, divine Mind, is infinite Love itself. As we humbly relinquish human will, pride, selfprotectiveness, we begin to express the practitioner." Then it came to her, "Do I Christly love which identifies our true selfbood. Then, as with Jesus, our meekness becomes mightiness. We're able to pray with really believe that God heals everything and is conviction and accomplish the good we want

For example, I know a man who was gradually losing his physical powers through the so-called aging process. He couldn't run as fast, or hit a golf ball as hard, or move about as quickly as he used to. He was somewhat disturbed by this confrontation with the seemingly irresistible forces of matter, claiming to be the relentless process of aging and

As he prayed to overcome this problem he suddenly thought, "Why, I can love! I can love as well, or better, than I ever did! The passing of time, the revolution of the earth about the sun, doesn't in any way affect my ability to love. I can love more and more as time goes With this spiritual conviction a great sense of uplift and inspiration came to him From that time on he became more agile, more active, less afraid of decline and decay, as he expressed more genuine spiritual love;

Prayer of conviction

The prayer of spiritual conviction has nothing to do with words. It's not the words we use in our prayers that matter, however precise and correct they may be. It's how scientifically we're thinking, how much we're one with our right desires and let "the mind of Christ' be in us.

We must really mean it when we pray. Really mean it like a farmer. I once heard about. He had three cats. In his kitchen door he cut three holes for them to go outside: When asked why he made three holes, one for each cat, instead of letting them all use the same hole, he replied, "When I say 'scat,' I'

We can say almost anything, but it's our thoughts that apprease one thin desired later. Eddy puts it this way: Words nisy belle desire, and pour forth a hypocrite's prayer; already been answered by divine Love, and and Yes, p. 40). When our prayer is to: express God, to have the Mind which is in Christ, and we're willing to unselfishly give up a sense of mind and personality separate from Christ, this prayer never falls. Because we're then expressing God, Truth, the one divine Mind; and the solid conviction of good comes to us because we're one with His amnipotence. It's not you as a human, mortal being having never have gone against an "act of God!" but you bear witness to the unselfed love of God;

it's you, as you witness the truth as Christ Jesus did, the truth that man is spiritual and

A woman I knew was healed of a severe eye problem through the scientific prayer of spiritual conviction and unselfed love. She had accidentally pierced her eyeball with a metal object. Even though she was able to carry on her daily activities, she was very conscious of the pain each time she blinked her eyes. She began to be afraid she might lose her sight in that eve.

She asked for help from a Christian Science practitioner and they prayed steadily for several days. Finally, she felt she was being healed. The pain, the discomfort, and the fear disappeared. But there was still a dark clot on the surface of the eyeball. Then one day, sometime later, the eye began to hurt again and became very uncomfortable. Fear and discouragement rushed into her thinking. She thought to herself: "Why lan't this healed? Why aren't our prayers answered, I'm praying as hard and earnestly as I can and so is the really mean it when I say I'm willing to have the Mind which was also in Christ Jesus? Do I

Healing experienced

words correctly and trying to believe them, she hadn't selflessly put her whole heart into it. She was still fearing for herself and believing that the physical condition had to change first before she was healed.

Then, she resolutely turned on these fels thoughts as unacceptable. She knew they weren't from God because they weren't truly good. She insisted she didn't have to accepanything but the true and good.

Some lines of a hymn (Christian Science Hymnal, No. 134) well express her thinking (

The thought of Thee is mightler far Than sin and pain and sorrow are.

The solid conviction of divine Truth came to her. She realized that physical conditions weren't determinative, that God had already answered her prayer, and no evidence physical sense to the contrary could deny the spiritual fact that she was healed.

And she was! The blood clot, pain, and inflammation disappeared completely,

So whether the temptation is to do something wrong, to fear we might make a wrong decision, or be sick, we don't have to give in to it. Instead we can accept the true good that God is always pouring out for us. Accepting the one divine Mind, God, as our Mind, enables us to be in complete control of our bodies, our human experience, our lives, and they become parmonious and happy.

We find an ever-increasing awareness of our true selves as the sons and daughters of God, having the mind which was in Christ Jesus We're capable of expressing more pure, unselijsh, divine Love the love which most classify pissents the real man. We become convinced that our scientific prayers have

We understand that the true, the good of God is all we ever really have to accept.

© 1973 The Christian Science Board of Directors All rights reserved;

A short article on Christian Science appears daily on The Home Forum page, Today's grticle is entitled : Riverything we need.

[This religious article appears in English on the Home Forum page]

Traduction de l'article religieux paraissant en anglais sur la page The Hume Fotum |Une traduction française est publise chaque temane|

Nourrir ceux qui ont faim

Les nouvelles de la famine qui règne actuellement dans le monde et les prédictions selon lesquelles une famine massive bien pire encore aura lieu au cours des prochaînes années, est

faire au sujet de la famine mondiale?

Je puis, évidemment, prendre certaines

mesures pratiques à la maison comme, par exemple, ne pas accumuler ou gaspiller la nourriture; je peux sou-

tenir financlèrement les organismes de secours qui apportent leur aide aux

En outre, je peux faire bien davan-tage. Je peux prier — humblement et avec compréhension — et inclure le monde entier dans mes prières. Je peux commencer par me détourner du spectacle humain de la pénurie et mo

ourner de tout mon cœur en pensée vers Dieu, la Vérité et l'Amour divins, pour percevoir les faits spirituels de

Sa création ; car Il a créé tout ce qui existe, et « voici, cela était très

N'est-ce pas ainsi que Christ Jésus

a agi, face à plus de cinq mille per-sonnes qui avaient faim, alors qu'il ne disposait que de cinq pains et deux poissons? La Bible le dépeint comme « levant les yeux vers le ciel ». Il se détourna du tableau humain selon lequel il n'y avait pas moyen de nour-rir ces gens avec cinq pains et deux poissons, et il se tourna vers Dieu, l'Esprit divin, la seule substance réelle et là il discerna l'abondance. La

Se détourner de la matière vers l'Esprit, ce n'est pas négliger le problème humain que pose la famine, et ce n'est pas non plus déclarer que celte situation n'a pas besoin d'être guérie. Pas du tout! Ce que cela complir dans la conscience. Nous pouvons faire confiance à l'omnipotence de l'Amour divin qui annulera toute pré-tendue limitation imposée à l'homme.

J'ai appris, en tant qu'étudiante de régions atteintes.

Je suis une ménagère. Que puis-je

French/German

A time for diplomacy—not guns

By Joseph C. Harsch

Western foreign policy in the foreseeables future is going to have to lean more heavily on diplomacy than on guns — and this may turn out to be a gain, not a loss.

True, there must be military strength behind effective diplomacy. (There must also be a sound economy and a confidence by people in the competence of their government.) But looking back over the long road which has led to the collapse of American policy in Vietnam one cannot help but notice. that there were times along that road when diplomacy might have served the United States better than its guns.

Let's start with the summer of 1949 when the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kaishek was collapsing before the advance of the Communist artmles. It was a situation similar to the one prevailing today in Vietnam. The United States backed the Chiang government, but did so against the advice of many of its experts on China.

Many of the "old China hands," diplomats Korean attack on South Korea, hence no argued that the Communists were bound to win, that backing Chiang would mean tying the influence of the U.S. in China to failure, and that the only practicable, sensible course would be to cut loose from Chiang and at least keep the diplomatic channels open to the inevitable new rulers of China.

Those who gave such advice were denounced as being pro-Communist and their careers were in most cases ruined. But they were not pro-Communists. They didn't want the Communists to win. But they did believe that Mao Tse-tung's forces were bound to win and that the only practical course open was to accept this as the factual basis of American

If their advice had been accepted and acted upon from 1949, how different would history

First, it is possible, indeed even probable, there would never have been the North who had spent much of their lives in China, Korean war. In the absence of a Korean war manifest that they give impressive support who knew the language, the people, the history, and the characteristics of China have opened in 1950 instead of in 1960. After hands" in 1949. It is merely an instance of the hands in 1949. It is merely an instanc all, the Russians looted Manchuria beginning in 1945 as thoroughly as they looted everything their armies overran in Europe. And the Chinese resented that looting then as bitterly as did the Europeans.

Had there been no Korean war, no open and avowed hostility between Washington and Peking, and no answering alliance between Moscow and Peking, there would have been no real occasion for American interference in Vietnam, hence no Vietnam war.

Professional diplomacy does not operate by declogy. It is concerned with "realpolitik." It thinks in terms of the long-term practical interests of a nation regardless of the race, creed, or color of other peoples.

It would have been practical and realistic for the U.S. to gear its policy toward China to the primary reliance on guns has worked the theory of offering China an alternative to Asia, necessity may well be the mother so the Soviet siliance. The enormous advantages new era in American foreign policy which have resulted since President Nixon did offer the Chinese that alternative are so old and perhaps much better.

that the same Richard Nixon who persent them at that time came to adopt their police and to prove that they were sound in the reading of the China situation and in his proposals for handling it.

The more today's American diplomets a study the story of events in Asia from original adoption of a policy of house toward China the more they are likely conclude that the American role was plant the wrong way all the way down. But now are at the end of that road. It's time for an start. Congress has grown acutely allered the idea of using guns where perhaps did macy might do as well or better.

For a time at least Washington must me heavily on diplomacy. Considering how poor should work - certainly no worse than div

Eine Ära der Diplomatie — nicht der Waffen

Von Joseph C. Harsch

In absehbarer Zeit wird sich der Westen in seiner Außenpolitik' mehr auf Diplomatie als auf Waffen verlassen müssen - und dies mag sich als ein Gewinn, nicht als ein Nachteil erweisen.

Zugegeben, erfolgreiche Diplomatie muß durch militärische Stärke gestützt werden. (Aber eine gesunde Wirtschaft und das Vertrauen des Volkes in die Fähigkeit seiner Regierung sind ebenso vonnöten.) Blickt man jedoch auf den langen Weg zurück, der zum Zusam-menbruch den amerikanischen Vietnampolitik führte, so kann man nicht umhin festzustellen, daß mitunter die Diplomatie den Vereinigten Staaten auf diesem Wege einen besseren Dienst erwiesen hätte als ihre Waffen.

Beginnen wir mit dem Sommer 1949, als die Regierung des Generalissimus Tschlang Kai-schek unter dem Vor-marsch der kommunistischen Armeen zusammenbrach. Damals herrschte eine ähnliche Situation wie die heute in Vietnam. Die USA unterstützten - entgegen dem Rat vieler ihrer China-experten — die Regierung Tschlang Kai-scheks.

Viele der "alten China-Hasen"; Diplo-maten, die einen großen Teil ihres Lebens in China zugebracht hatten, die die Sprache, die Menschen, die Ge-schichte und die Eigenarten Chinas kannten, vertraten den Standpunkt, daß die Kommunisten ganz gewiß siegen würden, daß die USA, wenn sie Tschlang Kai-schek unterstützten, ihren Einfluß in China yerlieren würden und daß der einzig praktische und vernünftige Kurs darin bestehe, die Bindungen zu Tschiang Kai-schek zu lösen und zumindest die diplomatischen Kanäle zu den unvermeidlichen neuen Herrschern Chinas offenzuhalten.

Diejenigen, die solchen Rat erteil-ten, wurden als prokommunistisch denunziert, und in den meisten Fällen waren sie was ihre Laufbahn betraf, ruiniert. Aber sie waren nicht prokommunistisch. Sie wollten nicht, daß die Kommunisten den Sieg davontrugen. Doch sie waren davon überzeugt, daß die Streitkräfte Mao Tse-tungs gewin-nen würden und daß der einzige praktische Kurs; den sie verfolgen konnten, darin bestand, dies als die faktische Grundlage der amerikanischen Politik zu akzeptleren.

Wenn ihr Rat angenommen und von 1949 an befolgt worden wäre, wie wäre dann die geschichtliche Entwicklung verlaufen?

Zunächst einmal ist es möglich, ja sogar wahrscheinlich, daß Nordkorea niemals Südkorea angegriffen und es daher keinen Koreakrieg gegeben hätte. Und ohne einen Koreakrieg wäre es vielleicht bereits 1950 anstatt 1960 zu dem Bruch zwischen Moskau und erhärten. Es ist lediglich eine Innte Peking gekommen. Die Russen haben ja schließlich Anfang 1945 die Mandschurei ebenso gründlich geplündert wie alles, was ihre Armeen in Europa überrannten. Und die Chinesen waren damals ebenso verbittert über die Plünderung wie die Europäer.

Hätte es keinen Koreakrieg gegeben keine offen erklärte Feindseligkeit zwischen Washington und Peking und infolgedessen kein Bündnis zwischen Moskau und Peking, dann hätte Amerika keinen wirklichen Grund gehabt, sich in Vietnam einzuschalten, und somit wäre es nicht zu einem Vietnamkrieg gekommen.

diplomatische Kunst läßt sich nicht von Ideologien leiten. Ihr geht es um die "Realpolitik". Sie denkt in Begriffen von langfristigen praktischen Interessen eines Landes, ungeachtet der Rasse, des Glaubens oder der Hautfarbe anderer Völker.

Es wäre praktisch und realistisch ge-wesen, wenn die USA sich in ihrer Chinapolitik darauf eingestellt hätten, China eine Alternative zu der sowjetischen Allianz zu bleten. Die ungeheu-ren Vorteile, die sich herausgeschält haben, seit Präsident Nixon den Chinesen diese Alternative anbot, sind so klar erkennbar, daß sie die ursprünglichen Argumente jener "alten China-Hasen" aus dem Jahre 1949 beträchtlich der Geschichte, daß derselbe Richel Nixon, der sie damals verfolgte, sid schließlich ihre politische Auffassing zu eigen machte und bewies, daß #.

die Lage in China richtig eingeschilden hatten und daß ihre Empfehlungen, wie sich die USA verhalten sollten, gut gewesen waren.

Je mehr sich die amerikanischen Diplomaten von heute mit den Ereignigsen in Asien befassen, angefangen bei der ursprünglich verfolgten politischen Linie der Feindseligkeit gegenüber China, desto eher kommen die muden China, desto cher kompan sie sundan, implique c'est qu'en reconnaissant la Schluß, daß die Amerikaner ihre Rolle suprémate de l'Esprit, la Vie, là même von Anfang an falsch gespielt habet of semble régner la pénurie — et Nun sind wir aber am Ende dies nous pouvons faire cela svec comprémueges angelangt. Es ist an der 24h, hersion et conviction — nous verrons neu anzufangen. Der Kongreß ist seht que même la famine peut être empfindlich geworden gegen den Ge éliminée. Ceci est dû au fait que danken, zu den Waffen zu greifen, w puisque l'existence est mentale, nous die Diplomatie genausoviel, wenn nicht ne vivons que dans la sonne mehr. erreichen med mehr, erreichen mag.
Mindestens eine Zeitlang muß sich

nun Washington fest auf die Diplomatie verlassen. Wenn man bedenkt, wie we nig Amerika dadurch erreicht hat, du es sich in Asien hauptsüchlich auf Wiffen verließ, mag die Notwendigkeit als Science Chrétienne, que je puis wohl die Mutter einer neuen an a savoir et affilmer quotidiennement der amerikanischen Außenpolitik die erfolgreich sein sollte — bestehn wird sie nicht schlimmer sein ib pour le monde entier, qu'en réalité Dieu est Tout, et je puis savoir sans défaillance que Son royaume - Son économie — est spirituel et tout har-monieux, et qu'il est ici même à l'instant présent, englobant Son univers dans l'amour, Dieu, le seul créateur, qui maintient Sa création, y compris l'homme, gouverne l'économie divine. Nous pouvons nous réjouir de l'intégralité, de la logique, de l'ordre, de la justice, de la stabilité, de la vitalité, de l'activité, de l'intelligence, de l'abondance et de la toute inclu-sivité de l'économie divine.

Mary Baker Eddy, Découvreur et Fondateur de la Science Chrétienne, écrit que « les mortels se hâtent d'apprendre que la Vie est Dicu, le bien, ci que le mal n'a en réalité ni place ni pouvoir dans l'économie, soit hu-maine, soit divine. • 3 Dans nos prières, nous pouvons vigoureusement refuser d'accorder aucun pouvoir à toute prétention de manque de substance ou d'amour, se présentant sous forme de léséquilibre, de surpopulation, d'apathie, de manque de coopération, d'ignorance, de cupidité, d'orgueil, et ainsi de suite, car ils ne font pas partie de l'économie divine. Dieu est en effet à même de redresser tous les aspects de n'importe quelle condition de pénurie se manifestant dans l'existence ou la conscience humaine.

Nous n'avons pas besoin de savoir précisément, pour que nos prières soient efficaces, de quelle manière le monde va trouver reponse à ses besoins. Mais nous pouvons tous savoir que l'amour de Dieu est irrésistible et tout-puissant! Nous pouvons avoir une confiance ferme dans le fait que la sagesse infinie de l'Amour conduit les nations du monde vers des solutions pratiques et nécessaires. Le résultat d'une telle prière peut aider à nourrir ceux qui ont faim.

3 Gen. 1:51; 2 Matth. 14:19; 2 Selence at Santa avec la Clef des Estitutes, p. 327.

*Christian Science : prenoncer 'kristienn 'extennce.

La traduction trançaise du livre d'étude de la Science Chrétianne, « Science et Santé avec la Clei des Ecritures» de Mary Baiser Eddy, extele avec le texte an-glais en regard. On peut l'acheler dans les Salles de Lec-ture de la Science Chrétienne, ou la commander à Franças C. Carleon, Publisher à Agent, One Norway Street, Boston, Massachuestis, U.S.A. 02115.

Pour tous renseignements sur les autres publications de la Solance Chrétienne en trançàis, écrire à The Chris-ten Solance Publishing Boclety, One Norway Street, Bos-ton, Massachusetts, U.S.A. 02115.

French/German [This religious article appears in English on the Home Forum page Übersetzung des auf der Home-Forum-Seite in englisch erscheinenden religiosen Artzets

Die Hungrigen speisen

Die Nachrichten über Hungersnöte in der heutigen Welt und die Voraus-sage noch schlimmerer in den nächsten paar Jahren sind beunruhigend.

Ich bin eine Hausfrau. Was kann ich gegen die Hungersnot in der Welt tun? Natürlich kann ich hier zu Hause praklische Schritte unternehmen, indem ich z. B. keine Lebensmittel horte oder verschwende; ich kann die Wohlfahrtsorganisationen finanziell unterstützen, die den von Hungersnöten geplagten Ländern helfen. Ich kann aber noch viel mehr tun. Ich kann beten — demütig und verständnisvoll — und die ganze Welt in meine Gebete einschließen. Ich kann damit beginnen, indem ich mich von dem menschlichen Bild des Mangels abwende und meine Gedanken von genzem Herzen auf Gott, die göttliche Wahrheit und Liebe, richte, damit Er mir die geistigen Tatsachen Seiner Schöpfung zeigen möge, denn Er hat alles gemacht, was gemacht ist, und "slehe, es war sehr gut". Tat nicht Christus Jesus dasselbe, als er sich mehr als fünftausend hungrigen Menschen gegenübersah und nur fünf Brote und zwei Fische hatta? Die Bibel sagt, er "sah auf gen Himmel"". Er wandte sich von dem menschlichen Bild ab, das behauptete, es sei unmöglich, die Menschen mit nur fünf Broten und zwei Fischen zu sättigen, und er richtete seinen Blick auf Gott, den göttlichen Geist, die einzig wirk-liche Substanz, und dort sah er reiche Fülle. Die Menschen wurden gespelst.

Wenn wir uns von der Materie dem Geist zuwenden, so heißt das nicht, daß wir das menschliche Problem der Hungersnot außer acht lassen oder damit sagen, dieser Zustand bedürfe keiner Heilung. Nicht im geringsten Es bedeutet vielmehr: wenn wir die Herrschaft des Geistes, des Lebens, gerade dort anerkennen, wo Mangel zu herrschen scheint — und wir können dies mit Verständnis und Überzeugung tun — werden wir feststellen daß sogar Hungersnöte überwunden werden können. Dem ist so, weil das Dasein mental ist; wir leben nur im Bewußtsein; und jede Heilung, die vollbracht wird, muß im Bewußtsein vor sich gehen. Wir können darauf ver-trauen, daß die Allmacht der göttlichen Liebe jede dem Menschen auferlegte vermeintliche Begrenzung vernichtet; keit Gott Alles ist, und ich kann unerschütterlich daran festhalten, daß Sein Reich — Sein Haushalt — geistig und allharmonisch ist, und Er ist ebenjetzt gegenwärtig und umfängt Sein Universum mit Liebe. Der göttliche Haushalt wird von Gott geordnet, dem einzigen Schöpfer, der seine Schöpfung, einschließlich des Menschen, erhält Wir können uns der Vollkommenheit, Beständigkeit, Ordnung, Gerechtig-keit, Stabilität, Lebenskraft, Aktivität Intelligenz, der reichen Fülle und All-umfassendheit des Haushalts Gottes erfreuen.

Als Christliche Wissenschafterin habe ich gelernt, daß ich täglich für die ganze Welt immer daran denken und behaupten kann, daß in Wirklich-

erfreuen.

Die Entdeckerin und Gründerin der Christlichen Wissenschaft*, Mary Baker Eddy, schreibt: "Die Sterblichen eilen der Erkenntnis entgegen, daß Leben Gott, das Gute, ist und daß das Böse in Wirklichkelt weder im menschlichen nech im göttlichen Hausbalt Brum oder Mecht bat "2 Wirklichen hat "2 Wirklichen hat "3 Wirklichen Hausbalt Brum oder Mecht bat "3 Wirklichen Hausbalt". halt Raum oder Macht hat," Wir können in unserem Gebet jedem Anspruch von Mangel an Substanz oder Liebe, der sich als Unausgewogenheit, Überbevölkerung, Gleichgültigkelt, mangelnde Bereitschaft zur Zusammenarbeit, Unwissenheit, Habsucht, Stolz usw. zeigt, energisch jede Macht absprechen, denn diese gehören nicht in Gottes Haushalt. Gott kann in der Tat ieden Zustand des Mangele in der Tat jeden Zustand des Mangels in allen seinen Aspekten im menschlichen Bewußtsein oder in der menschlichen Erfahrung berichtigen.

Um wirksam zu beten, brauchen wir nicht genau zu wissen, wie die Bedürfnisse der Welt gestillt werden. Aber wir können alle daran festhalten, daß Gottes Liebe unwiderstehlich und allmächtig ist! Wir können fest darauf vertrauen, daß die unendliche Welsheit der Liebe die Völker der Welt zu praktischen und notwendigen Lösun-gen führen wird. Das Ergebnis solchen Gebets kann dazu beitragen, die Hungrigen zu spelsen.

1 Moso 1:31; Matthhus 14:19; Wissenzchafs und Gesundheit mit Schlüssel zur Heiligen Schrift, 8. 327.

*Christian Science; eprich: kristjen glatane.

Die deutsche Übersetzung des Lehrbuchs der Christ-lichen Wissenschaft, "Wissenschalt und Gegundheit mit Schlüsset zur Heitigen Schnift" von Mary Baiter Schu, ist mit dem englischen Text auf der gegenüberliegenden Seite erhältlich Das Buch kann in den Leezkeimem der Christlichen Wissenschaft gekauf werden oder von Frances G. Carlson, Publisher's Agent, One Norwey Street, Boston, Massachusetts, USA 02115

L'heure de la diplomatie — non des canons

par Joseph C. Harsch

Il faudra dans le futur prévisible que la politique étrangère de l'Ouest. se repose beaucoup plus sur la diplomatie: que sur les canons - ce qui sera très probablement un avantage, non un Assurément, la diplomatie efficace doit s'appuyer sur la force militaire. Tchang et à tout le moins à garder la Silling de la contre de dorée de des de la les diplomates américains de de la les diplomates américains de de la les diplomates américains de la les diplomates de la les diploma d'une économie sains et de la confiance de la nation dans la compétence du gouvernement). Mais regardant en arrière sur la longue route qui a abouti à l'effondrement de la politique améri-caine au Vietnam, on ne peut s'empêcher de noter que parfois, tout au long, il y à eu des moments où la diplomatie aurait pu servir les Etats-Unis mieux que les canons.

Commençons avec l'été de 1949 au moment où le gouvernement du géné-ralissime Tchang-Kaï chek est en train de s'effondrer devant l'avance des armées communistes. La situation ressemble alors à celle qui règne aujour-d'hui au Vietnam. Les U.S.A. épaulent le gouvernement de Tchang, mais ceci à l'encontre des conseils que prodiguent un grand nombre de leurs experts

Bien des diplomates, « vétérans de la Chirie i qui avaient vécu une grande

salent, sa langue, ses habitants, son histoire et ses particularités, insistèrent qu'assurément les communistes allaient être vainqueurs, que le fait d'appuyer Tchang signifisit que l'influence américaine en Chine serait vouée à l'échec, et que la seule voie pratique et sensée à adopter consisterait à rompre avec inévitablement allaient devenir les nouveaux dirigeants de la Chine.

Pareils conseilleurs furent dénoncés comme procommunistes et dans la plupart des cas leur carrière sombra. Ils n'étalent toutefois par procommunistes; Ils ne voulaient pas la victoire des com-munistes. Mals ils pensaient en effet que les forces de Mao-Tsé-toung au-raient, à n'en pas douter, la victoire et que la seule solution pratique consistait à accepter cet état de choses comme base effective de la ligne de conduite américaine.

américaine.

Si leur conseil avait été accepté et suivi en 1949, dans quelle mesure les événements historiques eussent-ils été différents?

différents ? Premièrement, il est possible, même probable, que l'attaque de la Corée du Nord contre la Corée du Sud n'aurait jamais eu lieu, donc pas de guerre de Corée. Sans guerre de Corée, la brêche.

entre Moscou et Pékin aurait pu s'ouvrir reçoivent un soutien împressionnant recoivent un soutien împressionnant recoive de l'histoire voir a début de 1945 aussi totalement qu'ils cutés à l'époque, en vint à propression de l'histoire voir a début de 1945 aussi totalement qu'ils cutés à l'époque, en vint à propression de leur politique et à prouver leur propression de leur politique et à prouver leur propression de leur propression de leur prouver leur propression de leur propression de leur mise à sac aussi amèrement que les qu'ils proposaient pour faire face Européens.

Washington et Pekin, et aucune alliance correspondente entre Moscou et Pékin, il n'y aurait ed aucune véritable oc-casion d'interférence américaine au

casion d'interférence américaine au Vietnam et par conséquent pas de guerre du Vietnam.

Lia diplomatie professionnelle n'opère pas par idéologie. Elle s'intéresse à la Realpolitie . Elle pense du point de vue des intérêts pratiques à long terme d'une nation sans se soucies de la d'une nation, sans se soucier de la race de la croyance ou de la couleur race de la croyance ou de la couleur des autres peuples.

Il eût été de nature pratique et réaliste pour les U.S. A. de diriger leur politique chinoise vers une théorie offrant à ce pays une alternative à l'alliance soviétique. Les evantages énormes réalisés depuis que le président Nixon a effectivement offert cette alternative aux Chinois sent si manifestes que les arguments de ces festes que les arguments de ces véterans de la Chine s en 1949 pri situation.

jourd'hui étudient à nouveau les évaluements d'Asie à partir de l'adopt d'une politique originelle d'hosis envers la Chine, et plus ils sont austibles de conclure que la rôle de l'Amble que a été mai joué d'un bout à l'adopt de l'Amble de présent nous sommes au bout de cette route. Il est de present au propués un nouveau départ. de prendre un nouveau départ Congrès est devenu extrêmement

Congrès est devenu extrêmement lergique à l'idée d'employer des calls où la diplomatie pourrait peut faire tout aussi bien ou mieux.

Pour un temps en tout cas, Waster doit s'appuyer fortoment sur la peut matie, Quand on considère les présultats obtehus en Asie en s'appuyer de prime abord sur les armes, la best présente pourrait bien faire de sité présente pourrait bien faire de sine qui s'avértrait probablement in caine qui s'avértrait probablement sine lileure que l'angienne et non pire melleure que l'angienne et non pire melleure que l'angienne et non pire melileure que l'ancienne et non pi

Early morning in the Swiss village of Rigi Kaltbad

Statue of Artemis

Hands cannot touch you where you move, Swathed in dreams of deer in stride,

Apolios to answer you - all to prove

For now along your marble ways

ancient lines of light must ring

In Attic hush, the bright limbs sing.

The age that shaped you never died .

and flow at the touch of our musing eyes.

Celebration trumpets

"Ceremonial Procession": Indian chamba rumal, silk thread on cotton embroidery used in India either as a headdress or as a handkerchief (literally a face-wiper). For

The rumal shown here, a charming mixture of stolidity and vivacity, celebrates some great event, some happy ending or new beginning.

It is a feminine view of a masculine occasion. The distaff influence is hinted at both in the floral border and in details of the main drawing — the high waist of the leading drummer, for example, and the bouffant suggest a girl's vision.

designed the picture was not the one which flagbearer dressed in vertical stripes: part of his flagstaff is missing. Probably the rod was drawn complete on the cotton fabric; but when the dutiful seamstress embroidered the hero's hat, the thread covered up a portion of the flagstaff and she did not notice. So his pennon is gravely under-staffed. No wonder that, of the three flags, this is the one most nearly in a flap.

Why has this small marcher so large a fist? Like the leading trumpeter, who is blessed hands, the flagbearer has with two left carelessly mislaid his right arm - understandable in so disarming a context.

The picture's humor happily withstands all niggling criticism. What if the horses are strangely tailed, or if the second musician, uplifted by the beauty of his own music, is floating above the earth? The third flagbearer, equally uplifted, is literally walking rump, or is he just stepping off it, backward? The mounted kettledrummer, like his more stately English counterpart in Her 'Majesty's Household Cavalry, is a pleasure to watch. See how this eager thumper rides poised to strike a glorious double bang!

Again Susannah

What sort of music rings or blares from the serpentine horn? What is the smallest horseman brandishing in his right hand? Why is his left hand so elegantly arranged? Speculation is lost in the movement of the design and the occasion. If the drawing is eventional, it is also rather magical.

Not all rumals were as decorative as this sample (many were plain or checked); but the embroidered ones must have brought joy to their countless fortunate owners. This one still brings joy.

Honors list

the visitor was inspecting our library with tudulgent eye. "And who," she inquired, lantly endeavoring to make suitable containty endeavoring to make suitable contains the backware "is vigit vortte author?'

murmured that I really hadn't one

"Ah," she said, "and what are the dis-be had gone, I found myself thinking of that the answer might have been. I began th Homer, who is certainly on my list. I ead him in the Greek, but though I enjoy the fact. Not one human being on early coasionally that I encounter a beauty that poves me. What captivates me most in him is his poise in a grim world. A world of about people. As isposal of capricious Olympians, on whom to forestall the o man can rely with certainty, and where Another wisp of sound was princes. Yet Homer is never despondent "Yes, Orglum?" I saked, benday or bitter; he puts his faith in honor and "My duck," he was murmuring pyaity and courage, in cheerful devotion to dible. "What about your duck!" And hearing of men that are yet to be."

o seem to me closely akin to his heroes, d to exhibit much of his attitude. The susannah — honestry:

iters and journals of Harry Smith, John
She stopped, looking expectant beaid, George Simmons, and some others

'You didn't sven want me is to like them served under Wellington in Peninsular, are favorite reading for me.

"I didn't?" she said. The total she finds a blithe screnity, and a simple began visibly to fascinate her. As it in uplifting to meet.

A familiar shift. Sounding take for example George Simmons, whose proachful, she asked, "Why?" Take for example George Simmons, whose proachful, she asked, "Why?"

at home, and who is so glad to be serving, and doing his duty well, that he is happy no time," he writes, "when wet clothes would have frightened me. Here I have been wet through for weeks and slept in the fields in winter, sometimes without a cloak, enjoyed health, and been happy and proud of my situation." This is surely one

That makes the path before him always

Herodotus is the other ancient Greek on ny list. To my mind he ls the writer above all to turn to when the round world seems but a dull round that is far too much with us. For his gift is to reveal it as a wonderland, full of oddities, astonishing happenings and mar-velous adventures, Once he begins to chat of this and that in his easy way — of the cold at noon, and boils at midnight; of the Shakespeare, I am rather startled to realize how much more his poetry means to me than really capture my heart. The great tragic poetry to listen to them, but I take little pleasure in them as persons. Lear, in the postpones my compassion until the end; Othello is as stupid as he is brutal; and I agree with Madariaga in regarding Hamlet cannot resist their golden voices.

be a short list.

"I think," she said, with a twinkle, "it's

The Monitor's religious article

Feeding the hungry

The news of famine present in the world can rejoice in the completeness, contoday, and the prediction of even worse mass sistency, order, justice, stability, vitality, hunger for the next few years is distressing. I am a housewife. What can I do about world famine? Of course, I can take such practical steps here at home as not hoarding or wasting food; I can contribute financially to relief agencies who are aiding in faminestricken areas.

In addition I can do much more. I can pray - humbly and understandingly - and nclude the whole world in my prayers. I can start by turning away from the human scene of lack, and turn my thought wholeheartedly lo God, divine Truth and Love, for the spiritual facts of His creation; for He made everything that was made, and "behold, it was very good."*

Isn't this what Christ Jesus did when he was faced with more than five thousand hungry people and only five loaves and two fishes? The Bible describes him as "looking up to heaven." He looked away from the human picture which said there was no way that five loaves and two fishes could possibly satisfy the people, and he looked to God, divine Spirit, the only real substance, and there he saw abundance. The people were Looking away from matter to Spirit is not neglecting the human problem of famine, nor is it saying that this condition doesn't need to be healed. Not at all! What it is saying is that by acknowledging the supremacy of Spirit, Life, right here where lack inderstanding and conviction — we will find that even famine can be overcome. This is because existence is mental; we live only in consciousness; and whatever healing is accomplished must be done in consciousness. We can trust the omnipotence of divine Love to annul every supposed limitation placed on man.

As a student of Christian Science, I have learned that I can know and affirm daily for all the world that in reality God is All, and I Psylli who made war on the south wind; and all the rest — I am driven to suspect the nious, and He is here right now, embracing nious, and He is here right now, embracing duliness is in me, and that the world is worth His universe in love. The divine economy is regulated by God, the only creator, who maintains His creation, including man. We hidden by ferns and banyan trees,

I am still in the wind.

I am home to clouds. I whistle my tunes with all birds. Roots

One day I will move to the city.

DAILY BIBLE VERSE

Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for

Matthew 5:5, 6

they shall be filled:

take my orchestra with me.

quenching heat.

warming cold as all buildings dance berid gently in the still.

earth quivers and taps.

There I will play in canyons

Eclectic

I sing in the forest.

dance to my music,

and cemeteries

entwirred in trunks. I lift

my hand, flowers bloom.

Water ripples.

Just mail the coupon below. and you'll receive a free No obligation, of course.

Christian Science Sentinel Box 125, Astor Station Boston, MA, U.S.A. 02123

lease send a free Sentinel to:

Encountered early in the morning on her own doorstep, she had looked, for her, remarkably spruce. A clean yellow jersey under corduroy overalls; hair brushed smooth as a little slik cap, and a scrubbed face shining with blameless intentions. "Hit" she had cried, as if only that moment issued into a universe.

Now, hours later, she had familiarly

'Would I'like what?"

"To kiss me," she repeated, evasively looking off at her little dot. This little dot exists somewhere in the air just beyond one's shoulder. By now I've mastered an earlier inclination to turn, sharply, and find

'No. I certainly wouldn't!" I said. Instantly, and predictably, she went small. This is something she can do: piteously - in the face of a brutal rebuil - shrinking into. her fragile cage of bones. Her chin sank; she ceased to breathe.

Annoyed, I said, "Oh, all right —" For her powers of prolonging a drummed up drama are all too formidable. At close range, her face was a mess:

the peanut butter she presently seems to exist on. Under it all, she looked touchingly was dragging behind him on a string a Selecting a bit of cheek, I planted a kiss. The other cheek, turned, was also kissed. And now, Susie -'

But magically she had regained her nor-

Enough being enough, I said, "See that

At once she was wary. Then inspired,

"Would you like me to kiss you?" "What I'd like," I said, "is to have you go out, close the door after you, and never, r come in again without first knocking." She had lifted her face. I lowered mine. A aticky kiss, lingeringly bestowed: first on one cheek, then the other.

We drew apart, regarding each other. "Is it a secret?" She spoke in the voice reserved for secrets.

She nodded, looking pleased. And without mendearingly smeared with tears, dirt, and another word left.

I aimost saked, "What?" but instead said,

Outside, on the pavement, a tiny little boy

"Hullo." I said as one does automatically on this childrened street.

obeer a good gir, aren't t, aren't t' sna and at once sounding sovere. Susann cried It sounded like a phrase rehearsed for commanded, "Don't you talk to that boy!"

"Why ever not?" I was interested. "Because he hasn't any name." "Of course be has!" And I asked the little boy, "What is your name?" The tringed lids feil; so did his chin. He seemed to sink, irretrievably, into a bottomless shyness. Then faintly, faintly, he again spoke.

This time, bending closer, I caught a word.
Orglum, it sounded like.

'Orglum?" I repeated, Surely not! He remained perfectly still, without pulse "His name is Orglum," I firmly announced, and soded for good measure, "Just remember that everybody in the world has a "Why didn't you love that dear it name. Every single person, whoever he is." Momentarily I was touched by this simple

"He's going away!" wen, why not: I say is Oedipus.

With the unearny facility limit is of men used to, she began to weep.

"I didn't?" she said. The ides, are again, in similar harsh circumstances. him," I reminded her.

"Why what?"

his people. Of the latter perhaps only Rosalind and the Falstaff of "Henry IV"

To mention voices is inevitably to remind myself of Dr. Johnson, Part of the fascina-"What about your duck?" And learing of men that are yet to be."

I seel Has he a name?"

His heroes remain always human and "Mary," he confided. And and "ligher standable; they are heroic in their when eventually he moved of all heceptance of frail and wilful deities.

Mary behind him, there was perite such deities, Homer's world is saner lightning changes of mood.

"Boyl Boyl" She sounded ways of gods to men seem more ways of gods to men seem more ways of gods to men seem more ways of his life was filled with examples of h tion, for me anyway, of that tremendous diemotion that tends to hysteria. Achilles, osity; and if, sooner or later, he upset most "Well, why not? I expected with his very human failings, is closer to us of his friends, he hardly ever lost one of them. As for his talk, it might range from the witty and penetrating to downright prej-udice, but it never failed to fascinate. Nor has it failed since. I was about to consider the novelists; but Anthea, peering over my shoulder, interposed. "I thought," she remarked, "it was to activity, intelligence, abundance, and allinclusiveness of God's economy The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, writes that God, good, and that evil has in reality neither place nor power in the human or the divine economy."+ In our prayer we can vigorously deny power to every claim of lack of overpopulation, spathy, uncooperativeness, ignorance, greed, pride, and so forth, for they are no part of God's economy. God is indeed adequate to correct in every aspect any condition of lack in human conciousness or experience.

"Oh, you think —?" time for the fountain of honor to dry up!

In order to pray effectively we need not know precisely how the world's supply will be met. But we can all know that God's love is irresistible and all-powerful! We can steadfastly trust Love's infinite wisdom to lead the nations of the world to practical and necessary solutions. The result of such prayer can help to feed the hungry.

Genesis 1:31; Matthew 14:19; †Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 327.

free copy of the Sentinel is yours for the asking.

In this small weekly magazine are reassurance. hope and inspiration to help you in your daily work . . . ideas to lift you to a new understanding of God.

There are articles, personal experiences of healing, stories for children, and other valuable features. We invite you to read a copy, and see if it doesn't bring something ... new into your life.

OPINION

Melvin Maddocks

Two views on a view of war

A recent cover of Newsweek magazine showed a Vietnamese woman holding a wounded (perhaps dead) baby in her arms. In journalistic terms it was an obvious choice. How could an editor argue against it? Here, with maximum impact, was the "story" for western eyes of how a futile war futilely ended. Thus it was even a moral statement as well as a shocker, or so

Why then dld it leave a viewer feeling not only distressed over the scene itself but over this use of it as well? Alexander Cockburn, writing in the Village Voice, quoted a picture editor who suspected the money the woman clutched in one hand: "That's the cash the photographer gave her to let him take the picture." But, even if true, this, finally, is not the ethical point.

Mr. Cockburn may have located the viewer's uneasiness with another quote, obtained this time from the photographer Richard Avedon, who said of the cover: "It was a popular truth, full of cliches, and it will be one of the poster images that will last."

It is this sense of perfect packaging that seems to disturb, as if a war had been given its "image" by a superior advertising agency, rather like an Easter Seal campaign. A couple of years ago the supreme American mpulse was to declare the war at an end and forget it. Does this photograph signify that the latest urge is to sum up Indo-China as a historical catastrophe, give it a limited run at American guilt-and-sentimentality - and

The suffering we feel, confronted by pictures like this, is a little too easy. It lets both ex-hawks and exdoves consider themselves justified ("This never would have happened if they had listened to me . . . ") while experiencing a reassuring sense of their own compassion. And who could help weeping?

Not long afterwards photographs by David Hume Kennerly, the official White House photographer, began to appear in American papers, showing more wounded children as well as an almost too handsome portrait of a Cambodian husband comforting his wifein the emergency room of a Phnom Penh hospital.

Those who favor such photographs can argue that the camera is only reporting the verifiable atrocity of war and that, in fact, it is performing a public service to submit the evidence to our consciences. Would Vietnamese orphans be adopted unless their monstress plight were made so graphic? Do not such scenes act deterrents against future wars?

The case is persuasive. Those who may suspect it element of voyeurism here — the profoundly an time in history a lot of people are thinking biguous fascination that collects people at the scened an automobile accident - will be hard put to prove it and feel nasty trying to. Those who turn away because some unbearable invasion of privacy seems to have, taken place will merely appear squeamish, perhaps And the second, it is now widely felt that the even to themselves.

But there still remains that feeling of being had, d being set up by people who know their business a little too well and collaborate a little too skillfully with their audience at giving it what it cannot resist. The case against the war-poster photograph is not that it goes to far but that it doesn't go far enough. Instead of making, us think about Vietnam it lets us off the hook, in one. explosion of feeling.

If only history could be resolved like the final dissolve shot in a film, the poignant fadeout that sends its viewers, emotionally purged, into the streets, back to their own lives. But Vietnam is our life, or part of it, and we can't get free that simply.

COMMENTARY

Richard L. Strout

Will the overfed feed the underfed?

Whatever happened to the world food crisis we were all talking about a few months ago? The answer is, it's still there, there are more mouths to feed, the potential danger is

One thing has changed, though. For the first globally. And two ideas have emerged. Although nobody knows just how to solve the problem, the existence of the problem is now universally recognized, which is a first step. ungry countries must solve their own prob-

Yes, the hungry countries. Only they can achieve a better balance between food and population. In the long run the charity of the richer countries will not meet the problem. Their charity and their technical assistance is indiapensable for a while. "But the main responsibility," says Eric M. Ojala, assistant director-general of the UN Food and Agriculture Organization at Rome in the keynote address at the recent National Farm Institute conference in Iowa, "rests with the govern-

Here is the essence of the world food equation.

One-third of mankind is overfed; 15 percent of mankind (400 to 600 million) are regularly hungry and never far from starvation; the bulk, maybe a little more than half, live on a rather monotonous cereal or root-based diet.

Are things getting better? No, they aren't. Not so far as most experts can see, anyway, though most of them don't want to be alarmist.

The reason is population growth.

Here, too, the complications are complex but the basic issue is relatively simple: the well-fed nations, the "havo" nations, the developed nations, have lower population growth rates than the poor, the have-not, the developing countries.

Expressed statistically, the roughly four billion people on earth add annually around 80 to 100 million human numbers, equivalent to four Canadas. Some people say that larger crops can feed that increase; a lot of people are dubious — not indefinitely anyway. Seven-eighths of the new world numbers are added in rub: the calculation of FAO is that the average population increase rate of the developing countries is around 2,4 percent (which may fall to 2.2 percent by 2000) while the developed countries' annual increase is around 0.9 billion times, is vastly greater. percent (perhaps 0.6 percent by 2000).

Bad weather threw a scare round the world in the past year and the alarming thing is the Des Moines, Iowa. He noted that if lower precarious nature of the global food-population balance now existing. The great food reserve stocks of the United States have been sold and eaten. The world food reserves are the 1970s these (developing) countries are about the lowest in history. For the first time losing ground, and per capita production in in modern times the precarious hunger balance of a large part of humanity depends on the vagaries of the weather. Bad weather equals starvation.

The hopeful thing is that the undeveloped nations can grow more food. The soil is there and with proper organization, fertilizer, credit, improved seeds, insecticides and the like, it will vastly increase food output. All it needs is a social revolution! For the disparity of wealth within the hungry nations is often countries themselves being able to pay for greater than in the developed countries. There such imports," he adds quietly.

sissippi, but in absolute terms the average gap between the money lender and the starving loin-clothed peasant in Asia, multiplied half a

Some of these thoughts were expressed in the cautious speech of Mr. Ojala last month in prices cause American farmers to cut crop acreage it could be a disaster for the world. And he observed, colorlessly, that "so far in many is lower than it was 15 years ago."

So what happened to the world hunger problem? Why, it's right there. Maybe something will be done; maybe not. If nothing is done, Mr. Ojala sees a gross cereals deficit by 1985 in the developing countries of around 100 million tons a year, worth $15-$20 billion, three times their gross imports in 1969-71.

"It is impossible to foresee the developing

There'll always be an England, Scotland, Wales bigger and bigger government. Many nation-

But mini-nationalisms reflect still more the

Both Scotland and Wales have promising oil

Scottish and Welsh oil — not British (which to answer to the claim that neither country is

The Plaid Cymru (or "Party of Wales" perversely pronounced Plied Cumry) is the more romantic of the two, closely bound up with the history, landscape and language of Wales. Its leader, the bardic Gwynfor Evans, ily and the simple life. His opposite number in of Scotland's obsolete citles and industries.

Kingdom poll: 30 percent of that for Scotland.

(yielding 11 seats out of the 71) and 11 percent

The awful example of Northern Ireland must prompt the question whether a self-governing Wales or Scotland could do any better. Could they attract enough first-class nationalists have brought a refreshing elecapital of a lost Empire.

magic of the word OIL.

The Duchy of Cornwall, in England's south- alists resent the surrender of further powers west corner, has all of 380 thousand in- from London to the faraway Common Market habitants. Remote from London, wildly pic- in Brussels. Their demands also reflect the turesque and much loved by artists and waning prestige of London, the crumbling writers, it once spoke its own Celtic language, akin to Welsh. Today it lives off an all-too-brief summer tourist season.

Yet recently a group of Cornishmen sought to revive the old tin-miners' perliament, or reserves off-shore, and although most of the Stannary, and to claim independence from equipment, capital and skill going into them is Westminster. Cuba and Cambodia actually actually American, the nationalists are detersent diplomatic observers, but London ignored the event

Cornwall was only the latest part of a rapidly disUniting Kingdom to jump on the bandwagon and mini-nationalism. Far out in front is the Isle of Man (population 60-thousand), which governs itself in every respect except for Defence and Foreign Relations - even issuing its own currency bills, passports and postage stamps. Its unique parliamentary Wales. Its leader, the bardic Gwynfor Evans, system — the Tynwald — has been operating stresses the preservation of community, famsince time immemorial.

The Isle of Man survives because it has never been big enough to be worth England's much concerned to play down the folksy suppressing. Wales was less lucky; so was image of kilts and bagpipes and Bannockburn. Ireland, and finally Scotland. All were sub- He personally takes a presbyterian and jected to the English by military force at some bourgeois view of life ("We must get away point, and when granted representation re- from class warfare"), but some of his followceived it in a parliament meeting in London.

Southern Ireland was the first to break away. At the same time Northern Ireland was granted its own provincial legislature, and ... It is easy to exaggerate the nationalist although this is temporarily in an achievement. Between them at the last electrons of the current disorders, most Entions they got only 3.5 percent of the United dishmen would be relieved to minding its own business again.

What surprises the English is to find the of that for Wales (yielding 3 seats out of the 36 Scots and the Welsh demanding an equal in the principality). Perhaps to have won any measure of self-government. Weren't they seats at all revealed the staleness and neglihappy as part of Great Britain? Couldn't they gence of the established Labour and Conservacome into England any time they wanted and tive parties. In England, too, there was enjoy the same housing, education, employ evidence of disillusion with them, though not ment and social services as the native-born enough to get the single Cornish Nationalist English? Did they really want passport con-candidate elected. trois and customs barriers along the Severn The awful exam and the Tweed? Besides, they aren't economically viable on their own!

The reply of the Welsh and Scots is that they are tired of coming to England for work: they talent, and avoid becoming intolerant backwant to work back home. But it must be a waters, tempting to foreign subversion? But home governed from Edinburgh or Cardiff — for the time being it must be admitted that the not London. There must be Scottish and Welsh Parliaments, passing their own laws. Hastily ment of youth, romance and passion into the major British parties have agreed to some British politics, without (so far) invoking form of "devolution."

Erwin D. Canham

Open season on Kissinger Charles W. Yost

It is open season on Henry Kissinger,

The issue ought to be not whether the American Secretary of State has made mistakes - who hasn't? - but whether he can learn from them.

In a broader sense, the issue is whether the American Government can learn from its President Ford, Secretary Kissinger, the American military leadership, many in Congress, and the American reputation in the world are all caught in the same trap. would not help to make a sacrificial victim of any one of them. The handlest is the Secretary of State, since he has been involved actually American, the nationalists are determined that the output shall be treated as in the efforts at peacemaking in the Middle East and Indo-China, and both are now them means English). This, they say, is the

As regards the Middle East, perhaps Dr. Kissinger put too much reliance on personal shuttle diplomacy. Perhaps that is one of the lessons he may have learned: that to stake his reputation and that of the American Government behind him on an effort which had high probability of failure was too great to risk. But it is hard to blame the Secretary of State too severely for trying. You cannot win every

the Scottish National Party, Billy Wolfe, is The next time around, perhaps a different technique will be more prudent. To learn the limits of personal diplomacy may be very helpful to Dr. Kissinger in the future. He is a very intelligent man and one of the marks of ers are Marxists. In common, they resent intelligence is to learn. One of the best London's cultural supremacy, and its neglect teachers is the mistake.

Dr. Kissinger's intelligence and his other powerful personal qualities led him to a role never perfer becupied by an American foreign minister. The State Department became too much a one-man show. Morale suffered, But also so powerful an intellect and so skilled a diplomatic operator helped to strengthen the

The Secretary's successes could not fail to build up a great suphoria, a massive selfconfidence, which can always be dangerous to anyone, If the public image of him as superman entered his own thinking, it could not help doing harm. But here again, Dr. Kissinger can learn and benefit.

It would be a great pity for the American Government to lose the Klasinger talents. Chastened, less forcefully self-confident, there is a great deal he can continue to do, and the signs are that he intends to do so. His retirement, well-earned, should come on a happier note than the present.

Reports from Washington suggest that President Ford is listening to other voices as well as that of Dr. Kissinger in the formulation

How the bear sees the eagle

The thermometer of detente in Moscow. respite recent touches of fever, still reads love to normal. Detente with the West, seticularly the United States, continues to be the policy of the Soviet Government. Its pokesmen take pains to emphasize that that policy is, as they say, "irreversible." What do they mean by detente? Not, as www.pome Americans have imprudently imagined, that U.S. and Soviet foreign policies have merged. What has happened is that they have intersected at certain mutually convenient oints, and at those intersections cooperation rean he expected. To suppose that it can be expected everywhere would be to ensure disappointment and disillusionment. On the other hand, if one does not expect too much, there continue to be solid grounds for encour-

The central fact of detente is the common wa've star conviction that war between East and West must at all costs be avoided. It is recognition of this fact which should be irreversible.

this fact which should be irreversible.

Russians appreciate frank talk, as long as it for foreign policy. That, too, is helphin a friendly spirit, as long as they are not stided not cross wires. In establishmed for everything that goes wrong but blamed for everything that goes wro decade or more, continuing distance long sought. Americans also express growth, economic expansion abroad interference int do not need to flagellate ourselves. European Security Conference, is also to be need to learn.

The terms of power in the share must be no violation in Portugal of the changed. Now, more than ever, they chesic principle of the conference that neither seen as essentially moral terms lights nor West will attempt to speet the status military, and still less thermone didno on the other side, If that misfortune were this kind of moral worth, hopefully did occur, Alvaro Cunhal, leader of the Portulesdership, which the American associated with the angle of the portugated with the portugat that end in these last painful stage

Vietnam tragedy may be very importa-

rare distinction of blocking a broad series of international agreements which Leonid Brezhnev has been ardently pursuing for

The present situation in the Middle East is so complex as to deserve a separate article. It may be said, however, that, while the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. are now agreed that the Geneva Conference should be reconvened, probably in May or June, and that the mandates of the United Nations forces in Sinai and the Golan Heights must be renewed, there remains great uncertainty about representation of the Palestine Liberation Organization and about the conduct of the conference in such a way as to avoid polemics and obtain constructive

There seems no disposition on either side to allow the sudden collapse of American clients in Indo-China to interrupt detente, though the Russians should be aware that U.S. sensitivities and resentment on this account must not be exacerbated or given new grounds.

The Kremlin's unhappiness at congressional overloading and sinking of the trade agreement should not, despite its public assertions of indifference, be underestimated. Though sufficient credits to support trade in the immediate future are available, Moscow will expect the administration and the Congrees to take some remedial action this year, and will be inclined to judge U.S. sincerity about detente by whether or not it does so.

There have for months been rumors, abroad and at home, about Mr. Brezhnev's failing health, a consequent impending succession struggle, and its possible effect on detente. When questioned on this score, Soviet officials: reply firmly that Brezhnev is not seriously ill; that no change in leadership is impending an that in any case, since detente is supported throughout the Politburo, a change at the top would not affect it significantly.

They also add, with considerable per-tinence, that there is more uncertainty about future political leadership in the U.S. than i the Soviet Union and that, if detente is to survive, it must live with and outlive such uncertainties.

The author of this article writes from a background of 40 years as a United States

@1975 Charles W. Yost

Malaysia: a success story

The Christian Science Monitor

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia One of the developing world's most fescinating success stories has been taking place almost unnoticed in Malaysia.

In 1948 the Malay peninsula had had all the makings of another Vietnam. [In June of that year Malayan Communists began'to murder European planters, tin miners, and Chinese Kuomintang members. Captured documents showed that they planned to declare a Commu-nist Republic of Malaya in August. But Britain reacted energetically and for the next 12 years the insurgents were gradually worn down by British, Malayan, and Commonwealth forces. They were denied food supplies and thousands of villagers who might have provided them with succor were resettled beyond their

The architect of victory was General Sir Gerald Templer who directed an unrelenting campaign against the guerrillas from 1952 to

[In 1968 Sir Gerald was asked how Britain managed to defeat a Communist insurrection in Malaya when America was enmeshed in Vietnam with little prospect of victory.

["The British had been in Malaya since the Malay leadership uneasy about possibilities 1870s," he replied. "During our time there we for shifts in political dominance." built up a local civil service with an increasing number of Asians.

["But after ... Dien Bien Phu the French walked out and left to all intents and purposes an administrative desert in Vietnam.

["The reason I stress this is that you cannot win these sort of wars with bullets. You can only win the people over in my opinion - to use that nauseating phrase I think I invented by capturing their hearts and minds."

[Sir Gerald noted that the British had complete civil and military rule in Malaya, "The Americans," he said, "when they sent their missions to Vietnam, had no adminis-

Strice independence in 1957 and the defeat of the Communists in 1960, Malayala's leaders have maintained a working democracy by setting realistic goals, keeping a steady pace for agricultural and industrial development, and above all by working toward a finely gauged balance of interests between the two major ethnic groups — the Malays and the Chinese who respectively represent 45 percent and 35 percent of the country's 11 million people. (Indians, Pakistanis, and the tribal people of East Malaysia account for the rest.)

Rich in tin, Iron ore, and timber, and potentially a promising source of oil, Malaysia has become a favorite source of supply to the energy-hungry industrial glants.

But fundamental to the country's political and economic progress is the relationship between the Malays and the Chinese. If political stability is to be assured in this part of Southeast Asia, the government's goal of all citizens considering themselves Malaysians first and foremost has to be achieved. The objective is not easy to attain when the primary ethnic peoples differ so in work, language spoken in the home, and principal

The Malays are largely rural and agricultural. They are Muslims, Religious freedom is guaranteed, but officially, Islam is the state religion. Control of the central government in Kusia Lumpur is in Malay hands.

The Chinese are by and large urbanized people who control most of the commerce. industry, and professions. Most of the cities have a Chinese flavor. Contrasts between the generally easygoing Malay peasants and the super-hard-working Chinese tend to make the Average Malays also feel this concern and their suspicions stimulate deep-rooted emo-tions. In 1989 the peace was briefly but violently broken by race riots, which trig-gered a period of rule by decree. On the hopeful side, responsible and reason-

Chinese and Malay communities who are placing the national interests ahead of ethnic

The Malays have produced, since independence, a sizable cadre of administrators and managers who are sincerely democratid as a group and eager to sponsor any plan that furthers moderation and national barmony. Recognizing the Chinese prowess in all technological areas, however, Malay leaders also desire to bring their own rural people into full-fledged 20th century endeavors

Dr. Bernard Rubin, professor of govern-mental affairs and public relations at Boston University, recently served as a consultant at Mara Institute of Tech nology, Molaysia.

